Giving to the Patriotic Fund in the Easiest Way

You Will Have an Opportunity to Give During The Campaign in Brantford

Dean Guthrie, the Scottish divine, who won so great a name for plety and works in the '40's, unwittingly furnished a text which can be used with telling effort by the canvassers for the Canadian Patriotic Fund who will soon be on the war-path to secure the six million dollars which Ontario must raise in 1917 to meet the obligations assumed by the Fund to the dependents of Ontario's soldiers. Addressing a meeting on the duty of contributing to the Manse Fund of the Free

Church of Scotland, Mr. Guthrie said:
"I am rich only in children and if any one asked me tonight to pay down a hundred pounds, he might just as well tell me to fly. But if I was given five years to pay it in, that would be a different matter. I should only need to go home and consult my wife as to what things we could do without."

The average man in Ontario who today, faced by the Patriotic Fund appeal, goes home and consults his wife as to what they can do without, is certain to find little difficulty in making a substantial monthly contribution to the Fund.

Do not forget that the campaign for the Patriotic Fund in Brant-
