He was a son of the late Martin Wiltse and was born and always resided in this vicinity. In the business years of life he followed farming successfully and retired a few years ago to his comfortable home in Athens to enjoy the rest that a well earned competency ensures. Athens is to be favored with two political meetings this week in the town hall. On Thursday evening Messrs Donovan, Stewart and Wright will deliver addresses, and on Friday evening the speakers will be Messrs Lewis, McKay (the new provincial Liberal leader), Graham and Derbyshire.

The heavy rains on Sunday last no doubt prevented many from coming to Athens for the evangelistic services. During the day the attendance at the meetings was comparatively small, but at night, despite the darkness and rain, there was a large gathering in the Methodist church, a union service. Addresses were delivered by both evangelists, and at the close of the quiet, impressive service a number of adults stood up for prayer and remained for the altar service.

A story had gained circulation in Athens that the evangelists, before coming here, had required a guarantee of $200, and on Sunday evening the Rev. S. J. Hughes, who had conducted all the correspondence in relation to their coming, gave the story a most emphatic denial—declaring that the subject of finance had not been mentioned by the evangelists either before or since their coming.

TELLS HOW TO MIX IT

A well known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following valuable, yet simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bed time.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

A weak Stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak Heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak Stomach nerves or weak Heart nerves. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by all dealers.
