Way Open For Litigation by Cataract Against City.

Works' Secretary States City's Position In Power Matter.

Proposition to Pay City Control lers $1,500 Each.

Has the Cataract decided to force in the power dispute and have the courts decide at once rule on the legality of the contract passed by last year's

This query is suggested by the con pany's action yesterday in billing the city, under the contract which the city disputes, for the power used in July It is generally admitted that there is lit tle chance of an interpretation of the contract being secured in the action brought by R. S. Morris to upset the Hydro-Electric by-law, which will come to trial next month. This means that the power question will go over until next year, still unsettled, unless the company interferes. It is now in a posido so through the city's a yesterday in returning the bill for July By entering suit against the city for the amount of the bill the legality of last year's contract would soon be settled beyond dispute. Whether the company will do this or merely stand pat until the Morris action is disposed of, it was impossible to ascertain to-

Secretary Brennan, of the oBard of Works, acting under instructions from Chairman Allan, in returning the ac-count to the company, sent the following letter with it

"I beg to return copy of the account rendered to the Board of Works, under rendered to the Board of Works, under date of July 30, for $433.55, being for fourteen days more power, under the alleged contract dated July 18, 1908, which was received by the department on the 28th inst. Any account you may have against the city corporation for electric power supplied to the quarry under the contract, dated July 18, 1903, should be rendered to this department, but the city corporation contends that but the city corporation contends that no liability exists under the said alleged contract of July 18, 1908, and that power is being taken at the quarry pursuant to the contract of the 28th of July,

"Any claim you may make under the contract dated July 18, 1908, should be rendered to the city clerk. In this connection I would advise you that all payments that may be made by the city payments that may be made by the city corporation for power supplied by your company for lighting the new electric street lamps installed, should be made without prejudice to the city corporation in any way as indicated in my letter to your company under date July 18, 1908."

The City Council probably at its next meeting will consider a by-law regulating the duties of the new Board of Control and fixing the salaries of the members. It was generally understood when the by-law was submitted that the salary was to be $1,000 a year until the new system of municipal government was given a trial. It may be made $1,500, however. The council must pass a by-law covering this, and also the re-$1,500, however. The council must pass a by-law covering this, and also the re-division of the city into wards, if that is to be done this year, before the first of November. Some of the aldermen were under the impression that it would be possible to make an arrangement by which the two controllers receiving the largest number of votes would remain in office two years, but there is no provision in the statute for this. The entire board must retire each year.

The Fire and Water sub-committee The Fire and Water sub-committee will have another struggle on Monday evening next with the proposed new waterworks by-law. The latest suggestion for a more equitable rearrangement of rates is to meter all manufacturing and commercial concerns, and to impose a rate based on the value of the water to the firms using it. For instance, the city officials argue that breweies and to the firms using it. For instance, the city officials argue that breweries and distilleries should pay a higher rate than any of the other concerns.

London is still up in the air over the Hydro power project. It is found now that the figures will have to be entirely revised as the amount of power taken has been reduced from 5,000 to 3,000. London papers say that this means small power user will probably have hours, under 25 horse power. A lower rate may be granted consumers of over 200 horse power, but the difference will have to be made up by the small con-
