Why Did It Fail?

The most favourable construction we can put on the absence of home political intelligence from the cable message during the past few days is that there is a lull in the political storm.

Judging by the information to hand about the tactics being pursued by the Balfour and Asquith followings, it is increasingly difficult to understand why the Constitutional crisis failed.

The Peers seem to be willing to modify the composition and powers of the House of Lords. As to composition by making the body of hereditary peers merely an electoral college from which the members shall choose a number to sit in the Upper House, whose membership would be increased by the nomination of the Ministry of the day, the tenure of every member being the same and lasting for the life of the Ministry. As to power they are willing to give up the claim to amend or reject Money Bills which are purely financial, a dispute of the nature of the bill being decided by a joint committee of the two Houses under the chairmanship of the Speaker who would have a casting vote.

The Peers are hostile to tacking. Naturally enough, for tacking is a device of passing through the Upper House a contentious non-financial measure under the protection of a Financial Bill by crafty addition to the latter. The Peers being usually chary of rejecting Financial measures.

As to any other important measure, the procedure in case of disputes is to depend on submission to the Electorate. If the Electorate has already given some consideration to it, a dispute is to be settled by joint committees of the two Houses. If the Electorate has not considered it, a dispute is to be settled by a referendum. In other words, the issue is to be put to the Electorate, without a dissolution, but as a Local Option question is put in Newfoundland.

These arrangements should surely be a sufficient basis on which to work out an agreement for constitutional changes in the composition of the House of Lords and its relation to the House of Commons.

Under such circumstances why the Veto Conference failed to come to an agreement is surprising and gives room to much conjecture, which may not be far astray.

It is probably the old story of party advantage being preferred to that of the State. It is not improbable that the General Election may create a deadlock, which will force a compromise on both the Veto Question and the Home Rule issue. May be that will be the best way out.

Carthaginian Here.

The s.s. Carthaginian, Capt. Bamber, arrived here at 12.30 p.m. to-day from Liverpool after a run of 7 days. Leaving Saturday last at 1 p.m. she had fairly fine weather for the advanced season of the year and had considerable fog to contend with this morning making the coast. She has 414 tons cargo and 28 bags and 14 baskets of mail matter for this port. Her passengers are Mrs. Colley, Miss Black, Miss Flacke, Mr. Oxley, Mr. Snodgrass, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Watt and Mr. Anderson.

A freight train arrived here this morning at 6 o'clock with passenger car attached. Rev. Fr. Mackey, of St. Brendan's came in and went out to Carbonar by the 8.45.

The west-bound express reached Port aux Basques on time yesterday. The express arrived here at 1 p.m. to-day bringing about 30 passengers to St. John's. Porty detained at Brigus Junction, coming home from Canada and the States. There also came in Mr. H. J. Crowe, Mr. Wright and Mr. Robins.

ON THE CALYPSO.—There are now 108 Naval Reservists on the Calypso putting in a term of drill.

STAGES SWEEP AWAY.—In the storm of Monday last snow owned by Harvey, Tobias and Benjamin Le-grow were swept away by the sea at Fubline. They were worth at least $100, and is a great loss to the owners.

THEY SUFFERED TERRIBLY.—When the four men Martin, left to go out to secure their skiff at Flatrock, Thursday evening, they devoted themselves of their top coats and wore only sweaters. In these they were souled to remain in the skiff all night, and when taken on board the tug they were almost frozen with the cold. The men on the Ingraham, gave them tea, food and drinks and they are now not much the worse for their ordeal.

Friends Seeking Him.
Last night the friends of a city salesman who had been up the S. V. Arm, were seeking him at the railway station when the train arrived, and expressed some concern about him when they realized he was not on the cars. He came up from Placentia on Tuesday evening's train, and was last seen at Brigus Junction. He had a ticket for St. John's but did not come here. The belief now is that he waited for and joined the Bruce express at the junction to go across country on business.

Express Order Missing
An express order mailed from Brigus to Mr. Joseph Cantwell, early in the week, and addressed to him in St. John's, has not yet turned up. It was a Reid Nfld. Co. express order, Mr. Cantwell and Mr. H. B. Curtis were making enquiries about it to-day. Payment is stopped at the R. N. Co. office.

HERRING FISHERY.—Passengers arriving by day express report that the Arms at Bay of Islands are full of herring. Most of the vessels are in Middle Arm, all doing well.

THE BENNETT BENEFIT.—At a meeting of the Citizens Committee who conducted the Bennett benefit dance for Mr. Bennett, the accounts were closed, showing a balance of $140 to be handed over to the emigrating musician. Votes of thanks were passed to the papers. Mr. Bennett and family will leave for Montreal to-morrow.

All British.
The inhabitants of Ealing, a suburb of London, are ultranationalistic, and recently they have been having an "All-British Shop Week." The town is decorated with flags, bunting and paper roses, and if artistic taste has not been visible at least patriotism has reigned supreme. Only British made goods have been sold. German and French wares have been barred completely. For drink the residents have confined themselves to home-made ale, gooseberry tipples, &c., while the most scornful of them has not insulted the grocer by demanding Spanish onions, or the pork butcher by asking for German sausages. The Mayor of Ealing opened the "All British Shop Week" by a speech of commendation, and then every one was at liberty to deny himself all the nice foreign things he really wanted and to encourage British industry by confining himself to home products. It has not been easy and Ealing won't be sorry when Saturday night comes and the purchases for Sunday can be unrestricted. This Christmas the shopkeepers are fearing a regular boycott of German toys, and they have laid in a stock of British articles in case customers will buy only English toys.

Police Court News.
To-day a drunk and disorderly and two drunks were discharged.
A disorderly who made his third appearance to-day was fined $10, or 30 days.
Four boys summoned by Const. Pitcher for disorderly conduct on Cuddihy Street, were each fined $2 or 7 days.
Seven keepers of unlicensed dogs settled up.

The Heavy Undertow
Of the past few weeks has caused considerable damage along the waterfront to wharves, etc.
The undertow is not altogether responsible for the damage done. The Toreda—the worm that eats the wharf piles and shores—is the cause to a great extent. Whilst we have no means at hand to keep the sea back we have the means to prevent the deadly ravages of the Toreda.
Treat your Wharf Piles and Shores with Solignum and double their life and at the same time make them impervious to the attack of this deadly sea worm. Solignum is not only much cheaper than Zinc, but it is the only preservative known to-day that prevents the decay of wood either in, or out of water.
Solignum is sold by W. & G. RENDELL, Water Street—adv,tf.

Struck by Street Car.
Wm. Biddiscombe, truckman, while proceeding up Water Street with a load on his team this forenoon, narrowly escaped serious injury. A street car following his team struck it, but the man could haul out of the way, he was thrown down and his car which contained 4 barrels of pork went over one of his legs. All thought the limb was broken but strange to say he escaped with only some cuts and bruises.

HE KNOWS WHAT FIXED HIM UP
DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED S. D. VICKAR'S LUMBAGO.
He suffered for three years, but the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy short work of his trouble.
Edenbridge, Sask., Nov. 25.—(Special).—"It was one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills that fixed me up." This is the cheerful answer Mr. Sam D. Vickar is giving his inquiring neighbors in this district. Everybody around here knows that for three years he has been suffering from Lumbago. Now he's strong and well again.
My Lumbago developed from a cold," Mr. Vickar goes on to say. "My back would ache—I was always tired and nervous. I had a bitter taste in my mouth in the morning, was troubled with dizzy spells and was always thirsty. The doctor told me I had Lumbago, but did not help me very much. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."
Dodd's Kidney Pills went straight to the root of the trouble. They cured his kidneys. The cured kidneys strained the uric acid out of the blood, and Mr. Vickar's Lumbago vanished. Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure sick kidneys. They never fail to do that.

Young Bandit's Murder and Steal
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 21.—Three youthful highwaymen last night shot one hold-up victim to death, fired at two others and allowed a fourth man to go after stripping him of his cash and overcoat. The bandit trio committed the series of crimes on the north-west side within the period of an hour, and were seen by half a dozen persons.
Following the murder, they are believed to have robbed a fifth man. Five other recent hold-up shootings are laid at their door by the police, and within a half hour of the murder police headed by Police Inspector Healy were searching the northwest side for the desperados.
The murdered man, who was about 25 years old and well dressed, has not been identified.

Mr. O. D. Bennett, Maple Grove, Megantic Co., Que., writes:—"I had dyspepsia very bad. The food would sour, my stomach would swell up. I suffered a great deal and could not sleep. As the result of using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I am now entirely cured, and can eat any kind of food. They have made a new man and a younger man of me and I cannot say too much in their praise."
