

Harbor Grace Notes.

Mr. Goodland, the new Principal of the C. E. High School, and his wife, arrived last week and have taken up their residence in the cottage on Victoria Street. School opens on Thursday.

Miss McKinnon, who has been engaged to take charge of Victoria St. School, arrived from Sydney by Saturday's express and commenced her duties this morning. Both the above teachers we welcome to our town and trust that their term may be very successful and enjoyable, alike to the scholars and themselves.

Mrs. Selby Parsons, who with Mr. Parsons arrived from Grand Bank on Tuesday, intend leaving this afternoon for Broad Cove, Bay de Verde, to visit some relatives whom she has not seen for a number of years. Although absent from home, Mrs. Parsons keeps herself well posted in home doings by the newspapers, particularly the Telegram, whose columns are always scanned for Harbor Grace Notes. About a month will be spent with relatives in different parts of this bay.

Miss Stirling, the popular principal of Spencer College, St. John's, is in town on her annual visit. She is the guest of Mrs. Dugald Munn. Her many friends here are always pleased to meet Miss S. and give her a hearty welcome to town.

Mr. Dugald Munn, who had been on the West Coast on a business trip, returned by Tuesday's express. We hear that some very important business was awaiting his arrival which may be of great benefit to the town generally.

Miss Fraw, of St. John's, is in town and is a guest at Gordon Lodge.

The Regatta Committee at a recent meeting passed a unanimous vote of thanks to the following St. John's gentlemen who by their donations helped in no small way to the success of the Regatta: Robert H. Sir E. P. Morris, Hon. R. Watson, Hon. D. Morrison, W. D. Reid, Esq., J. W. Withers, Esq., John Cornack, Esq., (Queen Insurance Co.), and James Parker, Esq.

Mrs. R. S. Munn and Miss Munn, of Braintree, will leave shortly for Montreal where they will spend the winter and possibly take up residence there permanently. Their friends here will be sorry to part with them.

Mrs. Collis, of Heart's Content, mother of Mr. A. Collis, the well known voice trainer and musician, arrived last week and will remain a couple of weeks.

The Port Saunders brought in two whales on Saturday.

The potatoes imported by the Agricultural Society last spring are of a very fine quality—large, floury and of excellent flavor. The Society are to be congratulated on the result of the experiment.

OBITUARY.

MARGARET LYNCH.

There passed away yesterday morning, after a long illness, Margaret Ann Lynch, widow of the late Joseph M. Lynch. The death of the deceased occurred at her sister's residence, 203 New Gower Street, and in her last moments she was fortified by the rites of Holy Church. She leaves to mourn her one sister, Mrs. L. J. Geary, and one brother, Mr. Walter M. Power, of St. Louis, with a niece, Sister M. Seraphina, of the Order of Sisters of Charity.

T. J. GREENE.

Pressure on our space yesterday precluded reference to the demise of Mr. T. J. Greene, which sad event occurred Sunday at his residence, Gower Street. Mr. Greene was a man who was widely known and greatly respected and who had many friends, not alone in St. John's but in many other parts of the island. In his earlier days he filled an important position in the office of the late Hon. Jas. Fox, and later for many years held the onerous position of accountant and confidential clerk in the office of Messrs. Shea & Co. Socially as well as commercially Mr. Greene was a favorite and for many years he held office in the Benevolent Irish Society, and for a lengthy period identified himself with the St. Vincent de Paul Society. For several years also he was secretary of the Regatta Committee. Mr. Greene married twice, his first wife being Miss O'Driscoll, sister of the late Rev. Fr. O'Driscoll; while his second wife was Miss Hackett, daughter of the late Capt. Wm. Hackett. Besides his widow, Mr. Mort O'Brien, who does business on Water Street, Sister Winifred of the Order of Mercy and several other children survive him, to whom the Telegram extends its condolences.

MINARD'S LINTMENT CURE DIPHTHERIA.

We Point the Way!

THERE are many points in connection with advertising that must of necessity—if success is desired—be studied carefully by the merchant who desires to reach new customers and to please those he has already gained.

The goods he wishes to advertise must be of the right kind -- THE KIND THE PEOPLE WANT -- and the price must be of the honest kind—good value for good money. Every merchant of course, knows this; but every merchant doesn't think of it when making copy for his advertising space. Here are

Four Cardinal Points

FOR THE MERCHANT TO CONSIDER: 1. The Right Goods; 2. The Right Medium; 3. The Right Copy; 4. The Right Time. With this combination any merchant or manufacturer may enter the field of publicity with confidence.

Many merchants who have goods to sell are fearful of investing a dollar in making known to the public the lines of goods they are dealing in, with the result that much of the goods remain on their shelves for an indefinite period to the deterioration of the materials and consequent loss to the owner. This state of things in a merchant's store ought never to be heard of; but the fact remains—and facts are very stubborn things. There is a way out, however, and we point the way.

Take a space in the EVENING TELEGRAM.

No trouble will be experienced in unloading the goods from off your shelves that otherwise must remain there for an indefinite period.

Try an ad. in The Evening Telegram, THE PEOPLE'S PAPER, and watch your business grow.

Wedding Bells.

THISTLE-BUTTON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Little Bay Island Methodist Church to-day, August 26th, when Miss Helen, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas Thistle, and Elisha Button, J.P., of New Melbourne, entered the bonds of holy matrimony. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Ernest Baines, B.A., of Little Bay Island. The bride, becomingly attired in white silk gown with bridal veil and orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet of white carnations and roses, entered the church leaning on the arm of her father. The strains of the wedding march skillfully played by Miss Florence Morris pealed forth as the bridal party walked up the aisle. At the altar, the groom, attended by Mr. Fred Thistle, Jr., of Kings Point, as best man, met the bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Rowena Thistle, and Miss Ethel Scott, of Morston's Harbor, as bridesmaids and Miss Nellie Button, niece of the groom, as flower girl. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father. A large company attended and the usual congratulations were offered. The happy couple left by the 8.45 train for New Melbourne, their future home. The list of presents was large and showed the esteem in which the young couple is held. Our best wishes go with them and we hope many years of married bliss may be their portion. —Com.

Special Hints on Gas Cooking.

The joint must hang downwards with the lower part well above the level of the gas-burners. If the joint is too long, lay it flat on one of the gridiron shelves with the browning shelf close over it.

Meat shrinks with cooking, so there is no fear of its touching the shelf. If preferred, lay the joint on a trivet in a baking pan and also this tin on a grid shelf, but many advise no baking tin, merely the bottom pan that slips in along the floor in the bottom of the stove under the burners. If this plan is adopted, see that the bottom pan is clean, or gravy or dripping will be spoilt.

If baking pastry and roasting at the same time, put the joint on a grid shelf below the pastry, and the browning shelf close above the pastry, as the latter needs a sharper heat than the meat.

After the meat is cooked it may be necessary to turn on more gas for a few minutes to finish browning the pastry.

Will Fly to the South Pole.

London, Aug. 23.—Lieut. Watkins, who is to accompany Dr. Douglas Mawson on his expedition in quest of the south pole, and who is to attempt a final dash to the pole by monoplane, packed up his machine and shipped it for Australia. Lieut. Watkins is a well-known aviator at Brooklands. The primary plan of the expedition is not only to use the monoplane for a dash to the south pole, but to use it for reconnoitering ice hummocks and barriers encountered. It is so constructed that it can become a motor sleigh or aeroplane by turn. The only motor sleigh which has previously been made to compete with the same kind of conditions is one which is in the possession of a Russian grand duke who employs it for traversing the steppes.

This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S LINTMENT in my family for years, and consider it the best Lintment on the market. I have found it excellent for horse flesh.

Use 4,500 Volts to Kill.

Negro Murderer Struggles 25 Minutes in Chair While Paying Death Penalty at Kentucky.

Bdysville, Ky., Aug. 22.—Oliver Locke, a negro wife-murderer, while paying the penalty for his crime in the electric chair at the penitentiary here to-day, struggled 25 minutes and finally broke the leather straps that bound his legs and arms.

Two thousand volts of electricity had passed through his body. The negro toppled to the floor and examination by the prison authorities showed that he was reviving. He was again strapped to the chair and 2,500 more volts were used before life was extinct.

Farmers say that owing to the lack of moisture in the grass, the past two weeks or more, cattle have been giving at least half the quantity of milk that they would under normal conditions. The rain of last night, little though it was, was beneficial.

Man Choked to Death.

By Companion of Girl Whom He Attacked.

Mansfield, Ohio, Aug. 24.—An unidentified man was choked to death here last night as the result of an attack upon the girl companion of the man who killed him. Walter Clover, a florist, residing near Belleville, and Miss Hesterne Shafer, the daughter of Albert Shafer, an undertaker, of Belleville, were seated in the Sherman-Helmman Park when the unknown man confronted them with a revolver and ordered them to accompany him across the adjacent railway tracks. Under threat of death they complied, fearing to make an outcry, but when their assailant was momentarily off his guard young Clover seized a clot of earth and struck the man in the face, partially blinding him, and he then seized him around the neck with both hands and choked him to death. The man carried a dark lantern. He was about 30 years of age.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms Can be Cured.

It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself, and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of the stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden."

Now it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

Noted Murder Trial On

Inauguration of Greatest Legal Battle Ever in Virginia.

Chesterfield, W. Va., Aug. 21.—Standing by the side of his gray-haired father, Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., of Richmond, entered a plea of not guilty here to-day when arraigned in the Circuit Court on an indictment charging him with the murder of his young wife.

Shortly after 11 o'clock a venue of talesmen were empanelled and the tedious task of selecting a jury was begun.

What was expected to be the greatest and most desperately contested legal battle ever fought within the borders of Virginia had been inaugurated. Some of the best criminal lawyers in the State are opposed in the trial. Retained by the defence are Harry M. Smith, Jr., who has become known as "the lawyer of 101 murder cases," and Phil Carter, equally renowned at the bar. Representing the prosecution are Commonwealth Attorney J. M. Gregory and Louis O. Wendenburg, whose services were sought after by the defence in its last fifteen minutes after he had been engaged to assist the State by the members of Mrs. Beattie's family, one of whom—Benjamin Owen, an uncle of the victim—is secretary to the Governor of Virginia.

Sought Liberty, But Found Death.

California Convict Tried to Slide Over Power Wires.

San Quentin, Cal., Aug. 23.—With his prison garb hidden by clothing made from a prison blanket, the body of James B. Clifton, a life term convict in the state penitentiary, was found to-day dangling among the wires at the top of a power circuit pole just outside the prison wall.

With a broomstick and a length of rope the man had constructed a sliding seat swinging from the wires leading to the top of the prison building. Some time during the night he launched himself on his slide to liberty, but 4,000 volts passed through his body, burning out his life before he reached the pole. Clifton was sent to prison from Oakland for the attempted murder of a captain of detectives.

Seemingly Demented.

There is an old man here at present from an outpost who is thought to be demented. He has an idea that he is to receive papers which will be of great value to people on the other side, and which he says he will send to England. He is in failing health and the police are keeping track of him.
