An Appreciation.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Would you kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to express, as best I can, on behalf of myself and those on board the boat "Beatrice M." our heartfelt thanks and honest appreciation of Capt. Clarke's gallant action on Thursday last.

Our boat was in sore distress, buffeted about by the storm of the previous night, bereft of canvas, driven off to sea, and we were gradually and slowly working our way back to land again when the good ship Stepanho hove in sight, and her worthy captain seeing our plight displayed much judgment in the masterly way he manoeuvred that large steamer to come right alongside and take us in tow, for this kind and prompt action we are indeed truly grateful. We are not unmindful of the trouble necessitated to bring that large steamer about, and when I went on board the good ship Stepanho I cannot forget your kindness to me, you made so light of everything, why it seemed to me that I was the rescuer and you the rescued. This humble appreciation though not expressed in language eloquent of words, is nevertheless heartfelt, sincere and actuated by promptings of the heart, the heart that source of love, from which emanates the flow of genuine love, kindness and charity, these noble attributes you so nobly showed yourself possessed of on Thursday last. May Providence always watch over you and his choicest blessings pour down on you and yours and the good ship Stepanho. I must also thank the firm of Messrs. Bowring Bros., Ltd., through Mr. Munn for their generosity to me a perfect stranger, to whom I would not accept one cent of towage from me, now for this charitable act of theirs we are sincerely thankful to you also, Editor.

Gratefully yours,

JAS. X. WADDLETON,

mark.

At 11 last night as two Petty Harbor men, Mr. Weir and another, were coming cityward in a motor which would admit of no delay, they were held up at Waterford Bridge by several young men who resembled scouts or something akin to them and were armed with rifles. The men received a scare and would like to know the authors of this outrage.

Still Scoring.

The Telegram is still scoring in finding articles mislaid or lost. Wednesday we advertised the loss of a silver watch owned by Master P. Healey, son of Mr. J. J. Healey, grocer. The paper was hardly on the street when the man who picked it up read the ad., made the necessary enquiries, and returned the "ticker" to the delighted young owner. Rarely, if ever, do Telegram ads. miss the mark.

WORK OF THE S. P. C. A.—By the post office of to-day it will be seen that truckmen were fined for riding on their carts when the horse was drawing a load. The prosecutions were brought by the S. P. C. A. Inspector and in the nature of test cases. The judgments indicate that the court considers riding on the cart under such circumstances as cruelty, and truckmen would do well to remember this.

Delegate Woods' Charge.

Mr. Frank Woods, Delegate of the Firemen's Union, called at our office to-day and asked us to publish the following:—

"Capt. Delaney, of the Reid Mtd. Co., sent to him during the early part of the week for a union fireman for the Ethie, and a man was sent forward by Thursday evening's express. When he arrived on the ship the captain and chief engineer objected to him. They asserted that the man sent forward was under the influence of drink. The man dispute this. When he boarded the ship he was asked to go below without giving him anything to eat and when he refused landed him in the woods at Clarendville without any food and with no money in his pocket to get a run home. Mr. Woods also says that he asked Captain Delaney to send yesterday and get the man over the road but he answered no. On Monday night a special meeting of the Union will be held to deal with the matter.
