to my mind the terrible hurricane of the day the news arrived, and the great anxiety that existed among the cation—the wireless telegraphy, which fashes along the news through space in the twinkling of an ever and is unloubtedly the greatest blessing ever onferred upon humanity in the history of the world. Thousands of lives ave been saved by this great modern invention, and the name of Marconi will be handed down for all times, as one of the greatest benefactors of the the sixties we had to await the arrival of some home-coming schooner some chartered vessel before we could receive any news from our hardy countrymen who prosecuted our great industry on the coast of Labrador. It is true we had a mail boat plying between Labrador and the Coast of Newfoundland, but she was not noted for her quick passages, and it was only in recent years that arrangements were made to meet the requirements of our people who fish for cod and herring in that northern latitude. Slowly but surely the evolution in the service took place, and the first to give it an in:petus was the great chieftain, Sir W. V. Whiteway. Other Governments have done much since then, but there still remains much to be accomplished. As I said before the gale occurred on 9th October, 1867, and our people suffered greatly at Indian Tickle (where the storm raged on Monday last), and much destruction was done The great planter, Capt. Richard Hennebury, suffered heavy loss, and I think (but am not sure,) that his splendid brig Estelle was wrecked upon that occasion. However, the clipper brig Terra Nova, (originally the Rothesay,) Capt. John Kehoe, was lost, as were several others. The Rothesay was barque, the great builder Kearney's chief d'oeuvre, and was undoubtedly one of the fastest sailers, not alone in Newfoundland, but on this side of the Atlantic. I have heard masters and sailors repeatedly state that it was never known for any vessel to ss her. She was built by Kearney Harbor Grace at the junction of ictoria and Water Streets (where
