THE SENSION.

To day the last session of the first Parliament flowers and the Government will be a short one remains to the Sension of the first flowers. Whether it will be a long or a short one remains to the washing that the Government will be a short one remains to the sension of the first flowers. The generally accepted opinion that the Government will be a long or a short one remains to the sension of the first flowers. The generally accepted opinion that the Government will repart to the Adama chains, and sension of very sension several state of affairs may be that the Government will repart to the Adama chains, and the flowers and provided the sension of the flowers and the sension of the flowers and the sension of the flowers and the sension of the first parliament will be a long or a short one remains to be seen, but it is the generally accepted opinion that the Government will rush the business through as fast as they can, still they cannot prevent discussion on several very important questions which will come under notice. First in importance is the Washington Treaty. The official reserve, so long maintained, with regard to the action of the Premier in this matter, must at hat be broken. It may be that, in concequence of the Creany by Farliament may not be taken this session. They present state of affairs may be solved upon as a most fortunate pretext of staving it off. But the House is the washington Treaty. The official research the contains the world carefully watch were the interests of Cameta dual to the terms of the Drawing it offices and the position in which matters are placed between the two Governments in reference to the Alabama chains, a vote on the acceptance of the Treaty. For the first part of the previous the contains and the previous the previous for the previous previous the previous the previous the previous for the previous previous the previous for the previous the previous for the previous previous the previous the previous forms and the previous forms and the previous forms and

Nor can the Government escape the severe consure which will be passed on them for their miserable and the severe consure which will be passed on them for their miserable are transgement in the North-West. Their policy has been to retard by every possible means the scattlement and progress of Manitoba. No steps have been taken to allof the lands to settlers, the half bread reserve difficulty continues to agitate all classes. Gov. Archibalic smissule has disgusted all classes, and adtogether the people are in a very dissatisfied mood. The Opposition will bring the Government to task for the shifties policy of the Government in all these anothers, and we may expect in the course of the debate on them some interesting revelations.

Other questions of no less in portaine will also claim attention during the session. Changes in the representation based on the recent-acoustic will obtain for better terms will be presented, and the constitution may be again in the sly assaled in making concessions to that Province similar to these made to Nova Scota. Having sown the wind the Government must now expect to reap the whirdwind. They gave way to Nova Scotia and we suppose they will do the same to her sixter Province.
