THE AGONY AT CHICAGO.

EVE BEFORE THE GREAT REPUB-LICAN CONVENTION.

A Lot of Stuff That May be Taken as You Like it—Blaine Still to the Front.

is very much simplified. All the delegates are now here. Negotiations which were carried forward vesterday make it clear that the adherents of Arthur, Blaine, Edmunds, Sherman, Logan and Hawley have made a fair measure of their strength, and deem that the present aspect of the fight warrants them in standing by their men. The most ardent supporters of Arthur and Blaine do not claim for them a majority of the convention.

The highest figure mentioned for Blaine is 338, for Arthur 325. Conservative advocates for each put the figures for both under 300. This is necessary in view of the stand taken by the Edmunds, Logan and Sherman men. The triends of the Vermont senator to-day are in high feather over the possibility of his nomination, and contend that he has developed unexpected strength in the northern and western states, and has even acquired some votes in Missouri. The Edmunds people contend that they hold the balance of power, and can summon one hundred votes, which, if their estimates are correct and the Sherman and Logan men stand by their colors, will throw the convention into a dead-

The Logan forces have been instructed to remain by him, and the Ohio men who are for Sherman, numbering more than half the delegation, declare that all over-been ignored, and that they will certainly remain by him through numerous ballots in the present belief that the fight is any man's. This portion of the Ohio delegation has received some assurance of support from Indiana in the event of Gresham or Harrison not being named. The attitude of Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana is watched with a great deal of interest, as the combined strength of these states might turn the tide strongly of interest, as the combined strength of these states might turn the tide strongly in the direction of a new man. It is deslared that a Gresham movement, if properly supported by Indiana, Michigan, Wistonsin and Minnesota, would probably carry with it the Edmunds strength. It is not thought, however, that Gresham will be named by Indiana. That delegation, it is believed, will present the name of Harrison, but will rally to support Gresham at any opportune time. If Gresham is named, it will probably be by Wisconsin, or by one of the Edmunds' states.

The Arthur and Blaine managers appear to recognize the condition of affairs, but confidently claim that they will show suf-to recognize the condition of affairs, but confidently claim that they will show sufficient strength apart from that given Edmunds to carry the day.

The Indiana delegation met this morning. The Blaine men are anxious that Harrison shall not go into the fight. Their influence was felt in the meeting where a considerable opposition to placing Harrison in nomination was manifested.

The Arkansas delegation was addressed this morning by Collector Robinson, who said Blane could certainly carry New-York, while there was a doubt about Arthur being able to secure it. The meeting was a stormy one.

Powell Clayton of Arkansas was selected to be temporary chairman of the conven-

A circular bearing the title, "New York for Blaine; the voice of the empire state calling James G. Blaine to lead to victory," will be given out to-morrow. It is endorsed by twenty of the New York state delegates, including ex-Senator Platt, for whose reelection with Conkling, Arthur, then vice-president, worked so hard at Albany, and for which he has been bitterly assailed by the independent or better element of republicans ever since.

Horace White, of the New York Evening Peet in an interview to day said: It

Senator Mahone says he is sure Arthur will have 325 votes on the first ballot, Blaine 332 on the same ballot, and he pre-dicts Arthur's nomination on the second ballot.

Thomas Wheeler of Syracuse, N.Y., who claims to know whereof he speaks, says that Conkling is in favor of any one to beat Arthur, and to that extent is for Blaine. Senator Harrison says he is not a candidate in any sense and will try to prevent the presentation of his name before the convention.

Fred Douglass arrived to-day and was probably the most eagerly listened to of any among the crowds in the Sherman house rotunds. He said the colored delegates being mostly office holders felt bound to vote for Arthur, but when a break came their votes would undoubtedly go to Logan.

It is stated that South Carolina at a meeting to-day resolved to vote as a unit for Arthur as long as he is in the field. Should he withdraw it is believed the delegation will divide between Logan and Sherman.

The crowning incident to-day was the

The crowning incident to-day was the action taken by the Indiana delegation in respect to the candidacy of Senator Harrison. Early in the forencon he was requested to quit the headquarters and retired to a room. The delegation then battled through three hours session as to the stand it would take in the convention.

battled through three nours session as of the stand it would take in the convention. A proposition to present the name of Harrison was carried by a fair majority but a unanimous vote could not be obtained, owing to the intervention of friends of Gresham. It was contended that if Senator Harrison could go into the convention with a solid delegation it would prove a strong recommendation in his favor as being the only one of the doubtful states to come in with an unbroken delegation. These arguments were all wasted on the Gresham adherents, who refused to come into the line. They agreed that if the delegation was allowed to go into the convention with the hands free, and it was demonstrated that neither Blaine nor Arthur could be nominated and any considerable number of votes were cast for either Gresham or Harrison, then Indiana would give her entire votes were cast for either Gresham or Har-rison, then Indiana would give her entire vote to the one showing the greatest strength. This was the final decision of the delegation. Harrison it is understood will therefore go with the delegation into the convention. The vote of the state will be given for Blaine and Arthur very equally, with posaibly two for Sherman.

The hotels were besieged to-night by a host which jammed the losbies and corriders to the point of suffocation. It was composed of people aimless in wanderings was found to stand Arthur 17, Blaine 6, Logan 2, Sherman 1. The delegation could not harmonize on a second choice.

In an interview with Postmaster-general Gresham, he is quoted as saying that he gives no credence to the story of a combination of anti-Blaine forces in his favor.
Senator Sherman says neither Blaine nor Arthur will get the requirement.

Arthur will get the nomination.

The New York delegation had a protracted meeting with closed doors for the purpose of organizing to-night. Geo. Wm. Curtis was chosen chairman of the delegation. The Edmunds men voted with the Blaine delegates and having heled to

Blaine delegates, and having helped to choose four of the eight officials, suddenly changed around and voted with the Arthur maining four.

As the result of to-night's balloting, Speaker Sheard, who is strongly for Blaine, estimates the delegation will stand: Blaine 27, Arthur 30 to 31, Edmunds 14 to 15.

At the Grand Pacific they gravitated into the Blaine quarters, then struggled painfully to extricate themselves from the mass, and toiled through packed hallways, to renew their experience in the Arthur and Logan headquarters. A striking feature was the presence of stylishly dressed ladies in great numbers, who followed their escorts through all phases of the crush, enduring rising clouds of dust and the close atmosphere with apparent stoicism.

The Palmer house made provisions for the crush by stationing policemen at the main entrance, and marchers were kept in line and compelled to move up and down the stairways with military precision. The crowd showed no perceptible diminution in numbers until toward 11 o'clock, when locomotion became a little more free, but the stone floors and the canvas which covered the carpeted floors showed the impression of the army which lad marched Binbrook Election Case—Patrol Wagon for the Police—Presentation.
