BR. HARMAN RESIGNS THE CITY
TREASURERSHIP.

It was evident from the beginning of the meeting that the Mayor had not planted him-self close to Chairman McMillan for nothing.

secting that the Mayor had not planked himself close to Chairman McMillan for nothing. Some big move was on the carpet, and the proper time to unfold it had arrived.

"I desire to state," said the Mayor, as he stretched apward six feet from his chair, "that some time ago Mr. Harman, the City Treasurer, sent down to my office and requested up to call and see thim." I did so, and he then informed me that he desired to hand it his resignation, the reason being his failing health and the palsy with which he was affected. I persuaded him to allow the matter to stand for a while, and he consented, further stating that it was his intention, to consult an eminent Philadelphia specialist, and if the latter gave him no hope he would then retire from the service of the dit. However, yesterday I received the following letter from him:

"Das Mr. Mayor, Referencing to our interview at the beginning of the present month; think it better that I should ask not no consults my proposition to regard my office and the retire from him:

Alc. Carly! "I nove that satisfact Cieg. Treasurer Richard T. Coady be appointed City Treasurer."

The Mayor, Alc. Gillespir, Harvie, Johnston and Denison spoke accougly in favor of Ald. Carlyle's resolution, Ald. Fleming thought the appointments might be deferred until the first meeting, but the imposine was carried unaulmously, Ald. Fleming withdrawing his opposition.

Thus point settled, the Chairman then brought up the question of a retriving allow more or Mr. Harman He savered a yearly pension of $2000. The Mayor expressed himself as a supporter of this suggestion, of in place of this a great of the suggestion, of in place of this a great of the Chairman suggestion could be agried out with no loss to the citzens on the following basis: Uniter the old staff Mr. Harman received 4000 a year, Mr. Crady, $2500, and Mr. Patterson $200, and that a new accountant be employed as $1500. This would have enough for a $2000, and that a new accountant be employed as $1500. This would have enough for a $2000, and the a new accountant be employed as $1500. This would have enough for a $2000, and the Ratterson, who in facts would not feel pleased if their old chief was not provided for.

that before the Exceptive seed in the matter some information should be prepared to sub mit to the people, so that they might know exactly how they stood in the question of expenses. He himself did not know whether $300,000 would be enough to finish she work but several professional men, whose knowledge in his opinion was equal to that of the City Engineer, had informed him that the sum asked for would not perhaps bring the work into hind completion. The people, he argued, ought to know exactly how they stood.

Ald, Gillspie backed up Ald, Dodds, but opposition was guideled whan the Mayor brought to the notice of the objectors that the sity in the long run would lose nothing but gain much as the work was done on a local improvement besis, and the expense, whatever it was, would fall eventually on the property benefited. Only Clerk Blevins them got the necessary purinssion to proceed with the available of the former official having different and the former official having of the work in the former official having of the work in the former official having of the work in the supernse to which the setting that the Mayor hid not planked him.

Arrived at Mimico vans were provided to conver the visitors to the school. Under Superintendent W. Hendry the boys were put through a number of exercises. Mr. Howland then asked Mr. Charles Dudley Warner, who was of the party, to turn the first sod of the site of the new cottage. This Mr. Warner did, remarking there were a large and educational work. It doesn't look unab like a house, but it will be one.

At the business meeting there were a large number of gentlemen prominent is religious and educational work. Mr. Howland presided. An encouraging report from the Board of Governor adopt means to raise money for additional accommodation. It shought the erection of a third cottage should be commenced immediately.

Mr. Ruckinnon, late school impector of Peet county, succeeds Mr. W. J. Hendry as Superintendent.

The proposal to establish a giris institute was approved. Among other girts acknowledged was $1500 from the Public School.

Those who treat boys as criminals are the real syminals. No boy can be a criminal. Those boys here who are stready beginning to be bread winners and have east need over 2000 would have cost the country ten times that amount had they not been cared for.
