

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

COLLIERIES AND SKATERS IN THE CITY.

Practice Matches on This But Good sheets of Ice-Variety's Lacrosse Team for a Spring Tour-Winners at the Out- General Sporting News and Gossip.

Jack Frost has come at last and it looks as if the weather here is here. He brought gladness to the skaters yesterday and the city rinks presented a lively appearance both afternoon and evening.

In Church-street there was the city's best sheet of ice, and no new sheet has been cut since the one that was cut last night. They curled in the northern covered building, and enjoyed a good night's sport. A few enthusiasts visited the rink in the afternoon and took advantage of the first ice formed.

Over in Huron-street the ice was also in good condition, and 300 persons were engaged in four friendly contests in the evening.

Respect Park the ice was in splendid condition in both the covered and outside rinks. The Parkers did good curling in the afternoon, and both rinks were given over to the skaters at night.

In the West End the boys and girls took their first outing in the Alexandra rink at Bathurst and Queen-streets.

The Canadian rink has not been opened yet, but will before the end of the week. There they boast of the biggest surface of covered ice in the city and it's always in good condition.

All the rinks will be full this evening and when the city rinks Stanley and Bellwoods Parks skating will be indulged in locally as it has never been before.

A few days ago it looked as if the curling season would be delayed. The curling club had to postpone its matches to the end of the year, but now the curling season is in order. And with the colder weather that is promised it is likely that some of them will be played off in Toronto before Saturday night.

To-morrow night Men Parkers will meet in the Parkdale rink to complete arrangements for the season. A grand rally is expected.

COLLEGE LACROSSE. Varsity's Twelve to Take An Extended Tour in May-Their Itinerary.

Canada's national game will be booming at the Provincial University next year as it never was before. The twelve will undertake a tour on a large scale on the slopes of the college academies in May.

Secretary Burns is already corresponding with clubs across the line. For the trip Varsity expect to have games in their jeans including Manhattan, Staten Island and New York in New York, the Druids of Baltimore, Schuylkill Navy of Philadelphia, Yale, Harvard, Lehigh, Cornell, Johns Hopkins, and Stevens University, champions of the Amateur Athletic Union of America.

All Varsity's last year's stars will be on the turf in the coming season. The Capital club, expected to accompany the team on the tour.

Mr. Teih, secretary of the Cornell Club, was in the city yesterday and states that lacrosse is in an exceptionally flourishing condition at Ithaca. Varsity's game there last fall enthused the Canadians there and they all will unite to put a strong twelve in the field in the spring. Mr. Teih belongs to Orangeville, Ont.

MITCHELL TO CORREY. The English Champion's Letter to the Sporting Life-His Forest View.

Following in the letter addressed to the London Sporting Life by Charlie Mitchell, champion boxer of England:

"I hereby deposit £500 in your hands to bid a match with Jim Corbett to box for the championship of the world and £2000 a side, the match to be decided in America. Mr. Richard K. Fox, proprietor of the Police Gazette, New York, to be final stakeholder. All that Corbett needs to do is to deposit $2500 with the Police Gazette, New York, to ensure a match. Corbett's talk about 'bluffing' is nonsense. I have never made a bluff in my life. I have never been a fair foe, no favor, and the best man to win. The fact of my offering to go to America to box Corbett for a large stake settles that I have every confidence in American sportsmen and their love of fair play."

The Ontario Curling Annual. The first appearance of the annual of the Ontario Curling Association made its appearance yesterday. Of course it is a renewal of the old issue of the Ontario Branch publication, and is the eighteenth number. Embodied in a vast amount of useful information to the curlers of the country. The frontispiece contains a lifelike picture of the association president, Dr. Beeton of Oshawa. A record of all the past season's important matches is carefully compiled. In fact, the whole volume is neatly arranged and a credit to the ability of the popular secretary-treasurer, Mr. J. S. Busnel.

Their Christmas Entertainment. The Toronto Bicycle Club intend holding a Christmas entertainment of Saturday evening next of a novel nature. Every member is requested to bring a present, which will be placed in the general stock to be drawn for by the different members. Every one bringing a present is entitled to draw for a present and considerable amusement is expected on the result. The interest taken in it by the boys generally is a sure sign of success. Every member is requested to take a hand, for the more present the more fun.

Blitzes Over Ran Third. GUTTENBERG, Dec. 21.—First race, 63 furlongs-Woodchopper 1, Tammany Hall 2, Bob Arthur 3. Time 1:24. Second race, 3 miles-Mohammed 1, Freeman 2, Vespasian 3. Time 1:18. Third race, 4 1/2 furlongs-Van 5, 1, Bon Voyage 2, Benjamin 3. Time .58. Fourth race, 1 mile-Little Fred 1, Monica 2, Blitzen 3. Time 1:29. Fifth race, 1 mile-Reporter 1, Sir Sixth race, 4 1/2 furlongs-Red Kim 1, Peranto 2, Coldstream 3. Time .57.

Martello For the Guinea. Early last May 30 Segman's 3-year-old K. Martello was looked upon as a likely candidate for the Queen's Plate. But the Grand Opera House in his new romantic play entitled "The Face in the Moonlight." Mr. Martello had many successes, among which may be mentioned "The Corsican Brothers," "Folora," and "Tangled Lives," but in none has he been so pronounced as in "The Face in the Moonlight." The engagement begins with the matinee on Monday, Christmas Day.

Canada has produced at least two ladies whose names are among the brightest stars in the musical firmament-Albani and Agnes Thomson. Albani has been the public many years and has gained fame in almost every land. Agnes Thomson is just to the fore of her success, and bids to eclipse even Albani. She will be heard at the Theodore Thomas concert at the Pavilion next Tuesday evening.

"The Midwinter Revue" Next Week. This new melodrama, filled with the most realistic scenes and situations, together with several sensational effects, will be the attraction at Jacob & Spence's Opera House all next week, beginning at the special matinee to be given on Christmas Day, Dec. 25, with the usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees. Among the novel effects shown in this play are the capture of the steam elevator at work, the interior of a street car, and five distinct railroad trains in motion.

Seventeen Days. To-morrow will be the seventeenth day at the Museum. Every lady in attendance will have her choice of articles in the souvenir bazaar, where articles such as ladies' puff boxes, combs, hair ornaments, hairpins, silver-plated sugar spoons, butter knives, and many other articles are to be had. Following Saturday, every boy or girl in attendance will be given a Christmas story book.

Wilson Barrett's Success. Brilliant Performances of the Lady of Lyons and Pharaoh Yesterday-Other Theatrical Attractions.

Wilson Barrett and his company gave an excellent performance of the "Lady of Lyons" at the matinee yesterday. There is no doubt that the performance was given for the ladies, for ladies enjoy this kind of a play and the fair Torontoites are no exception to the rule. The platitudinous tenor which swears genuine emotion in the time was written, from which we have now happily parted. The story of Pharaoh is certainly picturesque. Mr. Wilson Barrett has been playing the part of Pharaoh with a certain amount of success. His impersonation of the Egyptian monarch is not without merit. He has a fine voice and a good command of the English language. His impersonation of the Egyptian monarch is not without merit. He has a fine voice and a good command of the English language.

Wilson Barrett's latest tragedy, "Pharaoh," was seen at the Grand last night, and is in every way a masterpiece. It is a story of the Egyptian monarchs, which has become popular in recent years. The plot of the play has already been sketched in "The World" in the past. The story is not a new one, but it is a story of a man who is not thoroughly human in his tendencies, writing good and bad and giving no strain to the reality by excess of qualities of either description. Aris is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

son of Cromwell did not take his work as well as was expected and only finished in sixth place. Reports from Waterloo state that "Frazier Walker has the big bay looking likely, and the black and yellow will put their faith on him to again capture the Majesty Princess.

Sporting Miscellany. The billiard match in Paris between Jules Vignaux and Jacob Schaefer of Chicago resulted in a victory for the former. Vignaux made 600 points and Schaefer 588.

In the first of the series of three races between Harold Hagen of Norway and Hugh McCormick of New Brunswick for the world's championship and $1000 at Minneapolis, Hagen won by about 40 feet.

A New York despatch states that Anson is likely to be transferred from Chicago and made captain of Gotham's baseball club. Also that A. G. Spalding might succeed J. B. Day as president.

Stamboul brought $41,000 as New York and Nancy Lee $7100. The prices of the other Hobart horses ruled generally low.

The Toronto Checker Club's regular weekly contest place to-night in Temperance-street. The club officers will heartily welcome all city checker players to be present.

At a meeting of the New York Baseball Club John B. Day tendered his resignation of the presidency. No action was taken on the matter. The treasurer's report showed a loss of $32,601.68 for the season.

Wilson Barrett and his company gave an excellent performance of the "Lady of Lyons" at the matinee yesterday. There is no doubt that the performance was given for the ladies, for ladies enjoy this kind of a play and the fair Torontoites are no exception to the rule.

The platitudinous tenor which swears genuine emotion in the time was written, from which we have now happily parted. The story of Pharaoh is certainly picturesque. Mr. Wilson Barrett has been playing the part of Pharaoh with a certain amount of success.

His impersonation of the Egyptian monarch is not without merit. He has a fine voice and a good command of the English language. His impersonation of the Egyptian monarch is not without merit. He has a fine voice and a good command of the English language.

Aris is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

It is almost folly to undertake to raise early lambs unless one is a skilful and good season to provide good shelter for the ewes as well as for the lambs. To make lambs profitable they must be thrifty from the start.

Experiments have shown that sterilized milk is somewhat less digestible than raw milk. It is hardly probable that it is enough so to offset the advantage of using it for young babies.

Good butter should not contain more than thirteen per cent of moisture. Lard that is eight per cent makes a dry butter and more than sixteen per cent is injurious to the keeping qualities. If butter contains over fifteen per cent of moisture the water is either left in through neglect or dishonesty. Such butter loses much weight in shipment or in storage and hurts the maker and merchant.

The dairy stable that is clean and well lit will not permit the cows to do their best. The pure open air is natural to them. Five dollars spent in putting in ventilators will be returned many times over by increased product, to say nothing of milk saved from contamination.

It is the universal experience of our older creamery superintendents that there is no such thing as a perfect place for raising cows and milk. Better have it less than perfect than have it more than perfect. It is better to have it less than perfect than have it more than perfect.

Two feedings a day have proved to be the productive of good health and a flow of milk as thick as cream. It is better to feed not later than 6 o'clock at night. Keep the manger clean through the day and wash twice.

Oxen do not get much attention these days, being wintered on straw and stables without great care. As the high prices paid for help, oxen do not pay, as they are so slow and on most farms are only used occasionally, while horses are constantly.

Some amateur gardeners rely upon self-seeders for their needs. After the plants come up in the spring they are transplanted to beds. It might do to sow a few seeds in a protected place this fall, to have the seedlings come into bloom early, although there is generally no difficulty in getting them into bloom from spring sowing.

Do not leave lumps of salt in the cow pasture. The cows become tired of licking it and will not touch it. It makes the lumps, then, leave it in convenient places in the pasture, where the cows can have free access to it.

Dehorned stockers and feeders bring in the Chicago market 15 to 20c. per cow, more than the United States nearly one. It is better to prevent the growth of horns in calves than to dehorn grown cattle. After 10 days of experience I am of the opinion that the masses will use the gouge and out-cutter rather than chemical horn killers to stop the horns from growing. If the gouge and out-cutter the hide around the button must be cut, then the button or embryo must be left out.

In no case feed an animal wet or damp. Dampness is the cause of many diseases in the mouth and it is the office of the saliva to begin it. Chemists tell us that the saliva is a weak solution of mucus. It is better to keep the mouth dry than to keep it wet. It is better to keep the mouth dry than to keep it wet.

Great Britain has about four sheep to every acre, France has two, Spain seven and the United States nearly one. If sheep husbandry were not profitable the farmers of these countries would not engage in it as extensively as they do.

Sheep wintered with straw and half a bushel of corn a day for a sheepman of Colo., Colo., last season. They were fed in racks and had all they would eat. It is better to feed in racks than to feed in troughs. It is better to feed in racks than to feed in troughs.

I do not count much on wool, although it should not be despised. I would keep a few ewes in a protected place this fall, to have the seedlings come into bloom early, although there is generally no difficulty in getting them into bloom from spring sowing.

Mr. B. E. Walker, general manager of the Bank of Commerce will be in the city through Europe. He has been on an extended trip through Europe. He has been on an extended trip through Europe.

Mr. Fred Plumb, a son of the late Senator from Niagara, has been appointed assistant curator of the Ontario Museum. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

ALL ABOUT THE FARM.

It is almost folly to undertake to raise early lambs unless one is a skilful and good season to provide good shelter for the ewes as well as for the lambs. To make lambs profitable they must be thrifty from the start.

Experiments have shown that sterilized milk is somewhat less digestible than raw milk. It is hardly probable that it is enough so to offset the advantage of using it for young babies.

Good butter should not contain more than thirteen per cent of moisture. Lard that is eight per cent makes a dry butter and more than sixteen per cent is injurious to the keeping qualities. If butter contains over fifteen per cent of moisture the water is either left in through neglect or dishonesty.

The dairy stable that is clean and well lit will not permit the cows to do their best. The pure open air is natural to them. Five dollars spent in putting in ventilators will be returned many times over by increased product, to say nothing of milk saved from contamination.

It is the universal experience of our older creamery superintendents that there is no such thing as a perfect place for raising cows and milk. Better have it less than perfect than have it more than perfect. It is better to have it less than perfect than have it more than perfect.

Two feedings a day have proved to be the productive of good health and a flow of milk as thick as cream. It is better to feed not later than 6 o'clock at night. Keep the manger clean through the day and wash twice.

Oxen do not get much attention these days, being wintered on straw and stables without great care. As the high prices paid for help, oxen do not pay, as they are so slow and on most farms are only used occasionally, while horses are constantly.

Some amateur gardeners rely upon self-seeders for their needs. After the plants come up in the spring they are transplanted to beds. It might do to sow a few seeds in a protected place this fall, to have the seedlings come into bloom early, although there is generally no difficulty in getting them into bloom from spring sowing.

Do not leave lumps of salt in the cow pasture. The cows become tired of licking it and will not touch it. It makes the lumps, then, leave it in convenient places in the pasture, where the cows can have free access to it.

Dehorned stockers and feeders bring in the Chicago market 15 to 20c. per cow, more than the United States nearly one. It is better to prevent the growth of horns in calves than to dehorn grown cattle. After 10 days of experience I am of the opinion that the masses will use the gouge and out-cutter rather than chemical horn killers to stop the horns from growing.

In no case feed an animal wet or damp. Dampness is the cause of many diseases in the mouth and it is the office of the saliva to begin it. Chemists tell us that the saliva is a weak solution of mucus. It is better to keep the mouth dry than to keep it wet. It is better to keep the mouth dry than to keep it wet.

Great Britain has about four sheep to every acre, France has two, Spain seven and the United States nearly one. If sheep husbandry were not profitable the farmers of these countries would not engage in it as extensively as they do.

Sheep wintered with straw and half a bushel of corn a day for a sheepman of Colo., Colo., last season. They were fed in racks and had all they would eat. It is better to feed in racks than to feed in troughs. It is better to feed in racks than to feed in troughs.

I do not count much on wool, although it should not be despised. I would keep a few ewes in a protected place this fall, to have the seedlings come into bloom early, although there is generally no difficulty in getting them into bloom from spring sowing.

Mr. B. E. Walker, general manager of the Bank of Commerce will be in the city through Europe. He has been on an extended trip through Europe. He has been on an extended trip through Europe.

Mr. Fred Plumb, a son of the late Senator from Niagara, has been appointed assistant curator of the Ontario Museum. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position. He is a man of high position, a man of high position, a man of high position.

Mr. Wilson Barrett is Aris, and he is a man of high position, a