

this with a little story of a Moslem girl, twelve years old, who became a Christian in a Mission school. She was a boarder, and the best behaved girl in the school. One day, during vacation, her mother came to her teacher and said, "What have you done to my little daughter, Fereedy? When she came home she at once took the whole care of the little children, so that I have no trouble with them; and when night comes she puts them to bed and prays with them all, and in the morning she prays again, I never saw such a child, she is like a little angel." Will you not pray that very many of the poor Syrian girls may, like little Fereedy, learn to love and serve the Lord, Jesus.
