

and a call bell in each of the four corners of the tray. This piece is massive and expensive.

Benares ware is the name of a new variety of brass goods which comes from India. It is all hand-worked, and comes in jardinières, vases and card receivers. The same ware comes also enamelled in a style peculiar to Indian productions.

Very beautiful vases are mounted on onyx bases. The vases are decorated with hand-paintings, and range in price from $200 to $400. —American Stationer.

How to Cure Mustiness in Grain.

Not infrequently stored grain emits a damp or musty odor, the reason of which, in all cases is a surplus of dampness, and a lack of proper ventilation. If the odor is barely perceptible, it is generally sufficient to shovel over the grain at short intervals, making only low heaps and admitting as strong a draught as possible in the store room. But if there is an intense odor, showing that the deterioration of the seed substance has made considerable progress, it is more difficult to clean the grain, and it requires more energetic means. A process, which often is attended with success, consists in mixing the grain with powdered charcoal. Take finely powdered and sifted charcoal in the proportion of 1/2 per cent. (1/2 bushel of charcoal to 100 bus. of grain), and mix it thoroughly with the grain and as uniformly as possible, and leave it about four weeks before cleaning. If necessary, this procedure must be repeated. —U.S. Miller.

Last Thursday 17,000 bushels of apples, 15,000 boxes of cheese, and 5,000 tubs of butter were shipped from Montreal to England. The shipment of Canadian produce to Europe is increasing every year.
