the money that might be given to lher before twelve every Monday morning.

On the next Sunday moming a gentleman visited the light. house, and, seeing her in the attire of a widow, gave her a sovereign.

The poor woman was perplexed; so large a sum would be of great service to her duriag her present pressing wants-the doctor's bill was unpaid too-she asked the advice of her friends; one advisedune way, another the contrary. At last she resolved to ask God in prayer what she ought to do with the sovereign. She rose from her kness cunvinced that it belonged to the missions, and she at once put it into the box. God, who is a husband to the widow, and a father to the fatherless, was not unmindful of her faithfulness.

In the course of the day a widow lady of high rank, with her daughter and seveial attendants, called to inspect the lighthouse. She made several inquiries of the poor widow, and, before she left, put a piece of gold into her haud.

Iwo days afterwards one of the pages came with a letter from the lady, lindly stating that she felt mueh interested in the family, and begged the aceeptance of $£ 25$ from herself. and f5 from hor little daughter, who was also much concerned for their welfare.

The kind lady was Her Royal H:ghness the Duchess of Kent; and her little child-the Princess Victoria, now the Queen of England.

A GOOD EXANPIE.

Cozonel Gardiner always deroted two hours every morning to reading the Word of God null prayer. If his regiment had to march at six oclock, he rose at four'; and, if he had to march at four, he rose at two. Whilst true to his earthly, he forget not his heayenly. Sovercign: whilst providing for his body, he neglected not the culture of his heart.

A OURE FOR ALL FITS OF DOUBT, PERPLEXITY AND FEAR.

Wherner they respect the body or the mind, whether they are a load to the shoulders, the bead, or the heart, the following is a radical cure, which may be relied on, for I bad it from the Great Physician: "Cast thy burden on the Lord: Ho will sustain thee."
