Ashamed of old Ireland,
Where never was turnt
On a land that's so famous
For scholar and saint!
We're proud of the land
That St. Patrick has blessed, The home of our fathers, Fair Isle of the West.

We're proud of the tales
That so oft we have heard,
Of its priests, saintly martyrs,
Its poets and bards
We're proud of the faith
That St. Patrick has taught,
The heroes that kept it,
The battles they lought.

For God and their country But never the faith Of St. Patrick denied. For God and their country Their love has been shown, Far faith like Old Erin's

And the words it would stem
Are echoing still
From the lips of St. Patrick,
On Tara's iamed hill.
And to-day with a love
That can never depart
Is the name of Old Erin
Enshrined in each heart.

Le Fanu, in his "Seventy Years of Irish Life," tells of a peasant who said to a gentleman: "My poor father died last night, yer honor." "I'm sorry for that, now," answers the other, "and what doctor attended him?" "Ah! my poor father wouldn't have a doctor; he always said he'd like to die a natural death."

DEAR AND REV. FATHER,—We, the undersigned, on behalf of the congregation of St. Mary's church beg to approach you for the purpose of expressing our deep regret at your approaching departure. We are doubly grieved to learn that failing health and the necessity of absolute rest has been the immediate cause of your departure. We can assure you that in leaving us you carry away with you our deepest sentiments of love and respect. During your residence here both as priest and p stor you have earned and won our love and esteem and we trust that rest and change may restore your health and strength. In conjunction with these sentiments accept dear and rev. father the accompanying purse, it is lovingly offered in the hope that it may procure for you some of those little comforts which we know are usually missing from the humble homes of our devoted missionaries.

At the conclusion, Mr. Smith present-

At the conclusion, Mr. Smith presented Father Fox with a purse of gold, as a token of the esteem and respect of the parishioners of St. Mary's. This was almost too much for the venerable and saintly priest, who could do no more than express to those present and to his many other friends the heartfelt feelings of gratitude which he entertained towards them, and to assure them that he would never be unmindful of them in for you.

Remember time's precious; for while, we're esteem confined to the Catholics of the dvising to be blest Sun of Freedom beginning to mile but who were prompted by their love and respect to give him a formal farewell. NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills' are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first, only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes timost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
