

ANNEXROUTE SCHEDULESSECTION IFor Canada

The following routes may be operated by the designated airline or airlines of Canada in either or both directions, at the discretion of each designated airline.

Points of Origin:	Any point or points in Canada
Intermediate Points:	Any point or points
Points in Cuba:	Havana, Varadero and two changeable points in Cuba to be named by Canada
Points Beyond:	Any point or points

Notes:

1. Points in Cuba may be served separately or in any combination. Any Intermediate and/or Beyond Points may be omitted.
2. All services shall originate or terminate in Canada.
3. Points in Cuba to be named may be changed on thirty days' notice, or such lesser notice as may be agreed by the aeronautical authorities of Cuba.
4. Intransit and own stop-over rights shall be available at Intermediate Points and at Points in Cuba en route to Points Beyond. Traffic between Canada and Cuba may be commingled with traffic between Canada and Intermediate Points and between Canada and Points Beyond.
5. No fifth freedom rights shall be available.
6. Subject to the regulatory requirements normally applied by the aeronautical authorities of Cuba, in operating or holding out the agreed services, any designated airline of Canada may enter into cooperative marketing or operational arrangements such as blocked-space or code-sharing with a designated airline of Cuba provided that all airlines in such arrangements hold the underlying route rights.
