

October 12, 1932.

Dr. Martin telephoned to say that "he thinks he has another $15,000 or $20,000 from the Rockefellers for Experimental Surgery for the year beginning next February. The grant comes to an end in January. They were very nice, and said they could probably give this and then see at the end of the year's extension what else could be done."