

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

PART II.

CHAPTER XII.

SANDWICH ISLANDS.

Navy—Army—Revenue—Government—Religion—Education—Productions and Manufactures—Trade.	17
---	----

CHAPTER XIII.

SANDWICH ISLANDS, ETC.

Troubles with Sailors—Visit to Nuanau—Kamehameha's Great Victory—Wells in Honolulu—Subterranean brook—Idolatrous temple—Cannibalism—Suicide of a Chinese—Chinese and Japanese—Power of false religion to resist truth—Chinese residents—Death of heir apparent—Governor Kekuanao's activity—Sitting on hams a mark of respect—Royal Mausoleum—Distribution of Kamehameha's bones—Causes of scarcity of children of chiefs—Bickerings of all sorts among foreign residents—More troubles with sailors—Voyage to Mowee—Arrival at Lahaina—Rekeke's Hotel—Mr. Baldwin's Chapel—Rev. Mr. Richards—King, Haalilio, and John Young—Royal Mausoleum—Kekauluohi the Premier—Excellent quarters with maids of honor as bed-makers—Visit from Messrs. Richards and Baldwin—Queen Kaluma—Visit to the Premier along with Mr. Richards—Jack of Clubs—Native dance—Swimming of natives and aversion of foreign residents to lathing—Lahaina, its population and situation—High schools—Arrangements for sending a deputation to England, France, and the United States—Haalilio's character and death—King and suite dining on board—Kaluma again, the silent eloquence of her female attendants—Policy of government in managing the aristocracy—Paying farewell visits—Accompanied on board by king and suite—Voyage to Sitka, change of temperature—Mount Edgecombe—Retrospect of journey, the English race having been dominant everywhere—Common origin and common destiny of English and Russians	55
--	----

CHAPTER XIV.

SITKA.

Landing—Difference of day of week—Bishop of Sitka—Departure for Taco and Sitkine—Tragical end of Mr. John McLoughlin—Critical position of establishment and consequent proceedings—Abundance of pine and cypress—Voyage back to Sitka—Arrival on Easter Sunday—Peculiar customs of this festival—Divine
---	--