

✓
L
P. 16001 033 45

THE following are the verses of two writers whose work has lain in very different fields. Written in occasional hours over a long period, they reflect so many situations and moods that the reader may be entertained at least by their variety.

CUTT'S END, CUMNOR,
July, 1919.