

2.—Exercises in writing may be enjoined as a punishment by any Professor or Tutor. The punishments to be inflicted by the College Board are—confinement to rooms or college; detention after the end of the term; banishment from the University for a time or entirely; and suspension or removal from office, with forfeiture of privileges and emoluments.

3.—Any member of the University refusing to submit to lawful punishment shall be expelled; and every member expelled for whatever cause, shall be deprived, de jure and de facto, of every office, place, salary, emolument or privilege that he may have enjoyed or been entitled to in the University or College.

4.—No member of the University shall be guilty of immoral or ungentlemanly conduct, or shall hold, maintain or teach any principles contrary to the Christian faith, or to good morals, or subversive of the British Constitution.

5.—Juniors shall pay proper respect to seniors, and especially to those in authority in the University, as heretofore.

6.—Members of the University may reside in any house sanctioned by the authorities, subject to such regulations as may from time to time be framed for them. Students residing in the College are not to be out of it after 9.30 P. M., without the permission of the President or in his absence the Vice-President, and such regulations shall be made as may be found necessary to secure the strict observance of this rule. The College authorities may enter the apartments of any undergraduates at all hours of the day or night.

7.—The Academical habits shall be the same as those which are worn in the University of Oxford; and no undergraduate shall resort to any inn, tavern or public house, except for some special cause to be approved by the President, or shall spend his time in the streets of the town. Any member of the University who shall disobey the Proctor in the performance of his office, who shall
