

While Mrs. Potter was in the city she visited the gaol weekly, followed the women up and helped them with clothing, etc. It was with great regret we heard of her removal to Kingston but her mantle has fallen on her former colleague, Mrs. Bellamy, who is now devotedly carrying out the same work. We quote from her report; "Since Mrs. Potter left there has been no one but Mrs. Bentley (a dear, saintly old lady of seventy) and myself for the Wednesday meeting. We follow these women up; if they are sent to the Mercer, we go and see them or write them if they are ill in any of the hospitals or House of Providence. During the past 15 months, 5 women and girls have gone home to Heaven, others have gone, so far as we could see, unprepared into eternity. If any of those who are working take drink and get into the hands of the police, the matron lets me know and I go to the court and the magistrate gives them to me. We do all we can (which has really been a great deal) towards getting them situations and clothes to work in."

Willard Union has had one public meeting, in the Broadway Tabernacle, at the Wednesday evening service, at which members of the Union gave addresses. Two special Bible readings also were given in their own Union.

In the Northern our dear and honored sister, Mrs. Fawcett, was superintendent of this department. Her work was visiting from house to house, holding prayer meetings regularly with the sick and dying. We sincerely sympathize with the Northern Union in losing one so wise and good from their number.

Deer Park has held three meetings in different churches for the purpose of instructing the young people in temperance work.

Youmans Union has a Mothers' Meeting with a membership of nine. Held sixteen meetings, visited the women in their homes and distributed underclothing.

Your superintendent has visited and given Bible readings in Parkdale, Dovercourt, Northern, Willard and Eastern Unions, to the Mothers' Meetings in the Western and Youman's Unions, also addressed a Mothers' Meeting in the Sackville Mission and Howland Mission Hall.

Dovercourt reports one Evangelistic meeting.

Mothers' Meetings are held every Wednesday at No. 7 Fern Ave. The summer sessions began on April 18th, since which 23 meetings have been held, at an average attendance of 8. The meetings are opened with praise, prayer and reading a portion of God's Word, after which there is patchwork sewing done for quilts, an interesting book in the meantime being read. There is a
