HON. MR. CARVELL AT THE CAPITAL

Great Meeting in Fredericton Gives Him Record Reception For Public Man

Fredericton, N. B., Dec. 11.—Hon. Frank B. Carvell, minister of public works, on his first appearance in Fredericton during the campaign was given a magnificent reception. In the afternoon he addressed a women's meeting in the Opera House, with Rev. G. M. Campbell and Rev. Canon Cowie as the other speakers, and Mrs. Haverlock Coy presiding. This evening he spoke at a mass meeting in the same place, at which he was given a reception, unequalled by that given any public man in Fredericton. His former political opponents as well as his former followers joined in giving an ovation when he rose to deliver the final speech of his evening, having been preceded by Col. H. F. McLeod, Unionist candidate in York-Sunbury, and Rev. Dr. Campbell. There was little doubt that public sentiment in this section is strongly for union. The reception given the Unionists at the women's meeting also indicated that the women voting here will vote for union.

The platform tonight was occupied by a large number of prominent citizens among whom were many who, like Mr. Carvell, had broken party ties to support Union government on the ground that partisanship must be abandoned and every effort directed toward the winning of the war. The audience completely filled the large Opera House at both meetings and each speaker was given an excellent hearing. Robert Fitz-Randolph presided.

Hon. Mr. Carvell prefaced his remarks with a brief reference to the political developments in this past year. Had any man told him twelve months ago that he would be a member of a government supported by Harry McLeod, he would have called him an infernal fool, Laughter.

He had been a Liberal of the Liberals and had not changed his views of what was good for Canada. He had been the ardent critic of the old Conservative government of all the two hundred members of the House of Commons, but it had changed.

There came times in men's lives when

DO YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES?

Tells Simple, Harmless Way to Overcome This Trouble at Home and Improve Hearing 100 Percent in Many Instances

Thousands of people are constantly afflicted with buzzing, ringing, rumbling or hissing noises in their head and ears, are hard of hearing and fear the loss of partial or total deafness may result. Such cases, even though of long standing, are not hopeless as a simple home remedy used daily has shown itself able in many instances to overcome head and ear noises in less than ten days and to restore clear, distinct hearing in less than thirty.

Get from any druggist 1 oz. Parmitin (double strength) which costs about 80 cts. Take this home and add to it a pint of hot water and 4 oz. granulated sugar. Stir until dissolved and take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmitin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, the results it gives are nearly as quick and effective.

O.T.E.—While Parmitin is widely used for treatment of catarrh people who suffer from head noises or defective hearing should be certain to get it in the full (double strength) form especially good for treating such cases.

NUXATED IRON

Increases strength of delicate nervous, run down people 100 per cent. in ten days in many instances. $1.00 for a bottle. It is sold in large quantities in this paper. Used and highly endorsed by former United States Senators and Members of Congress, well-known physicians, and former Public Health officials. Ask your doctor or druggist about it.

Save Your Light

THE DIM-A-LITE avoids the great disadvantage of electric lights—the impossibility of regulation. With the DIM-A-LITE each lamp may be separately turned up or down like gas. Without the DIM-A-LITE, lights are either "full on" or out, no choice between full illumination and total darkness. You can get the—

DIM-A-LITE

in the three forms shown—
—as an attachment socket to screw into any common socket already installed, and fitting any lamp.
—as a permanent fixture socket which replaces the ordinary key, or pull chain socket, or——as a portable, with convenient hold for attaching to bed—only—anywhere. This has cord and attachment plug, and may be instantly connected to the ordinary lamp socket.

Canadians had climbed to the heights they had in the past three years considering the little training they had in such matters.

Keeping Solemn Treaty.

Colonel McLeod had referred to the solemn treaty Canada had made with the men overseas. He (Carvell) never had made a treaty in his life which he considered more solemn. He had criticized profiteering, he believed that it was wrong and that the men doing it should be punished. Many of them had been punished. (Applause.) But that was not the point.

The crux of the situation was whether or not Canada would stay in the war and support those men in France. Mr. Carvell said he had seen a circular signed by a man whom he had once honored, stating that there were more men in England than would be killed in a year.

The mental attitude of this man is such that must be horrible, and the statement was entirely false.

Canada had not more than 80,000 infantry men in reserve which she could put into action. About a year ago every one must have noticed that Canada must resort to a change in her means of raising troops for there was just one way of fighting wars, and that was with men, no matter how excellent the mechanical equipment.

Early in the year the premier, after a trip to Europe, announced his intention of introducing a conscription act. Then the members of parliament had to decide whether they would vote for a measure which would compel men to serve in the army. What the members of the commons decided then the voters decide in the campaign.

War Changes Conditions.

He disliked the word conscription now but he had to recognize that some form of forced military service was necessary

DRINK A GLASS OF REAL HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST.

Says we will both look and feel clean, sweet and fresh and avoid illness.

Sanitary science has of late made rapid strides with results that are of untold blessing to humanity. The latest application of its untiring research is the recommendation that it is as necessary to attend to internal sanitation of the drainage system of the human body as it is to the drains of the house.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the phosphated hot water is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, biliousness, indigestion, stomach trouble, rheumatic stiffness, stomachs who have yellow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quart of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

to carry on a big war. There was the question of a referendum as suggested by the leader of the opposition. A referendum in time of peace on any great question might be proper, but in war it would not be.

The British people held no referendum when they declared war on Germany and threw that magnificent little army into Belgium.

Twenty-six Liberals had considered that question and had decided against a referendum. It was one of the greatest regrets of his life that he could not follow the lead of the twenty-six Liberals to support Union government.

What would come after the war, he did not care. It was just a matter of winning the war now and rivers of blood must flow in France and Belgium before the end of the struggle. Fiscal and other problems must wait. At the end of the war conditions in Canada would be such that no man can foretell the solution of the problems. There would be an enormous war debt and a debt of honor to the heroes of the war.

Already this burden was heavy and new forms of taxation had been devised. Income tax had been resorted to and he took a personal pride in that for in 1914, he had forced upon the attention of the government the necessity of using that form of taxation. Wealth in Canada must pay an increased share in taxation. All preconceived ideas of finance and of the country build over again, after the war.

Reference to M. S. A.

Returning to the Military Service Act Mr. Carvell said that in Fredericton and everywhere else in Canada under voluntary enlistment men had been enlisted who were unfit and who left behind them many dependents and others on whom no one depended and who would not go. Some people talk as though forced military service was something entirely new. It is not more than that should this war result in a draw Canada will have to adopt militarism on a European scale to guard herself from Germany.

Mr. Carvell outlined the efforts of Great Britain to raise armies, which he put into force the conscription act. (Applause.) A business like method had been adopted and with success. The United States had adopted exactly the same measure for military service. They were going to help to win this war, and they never could do it without business methods, what was good for Britain and the United States was good for Canada. Mr. Carvell went on to say the only place in which to defend Canada was Europe. The man who said otherwise was dishonest or ignorant. One man of the opposition said not even a volunteer should be sent but the speaker had no intention of being led by Henri Bourassa. (Cheers.)

A referendum, even if in favor of conscription, would not put an army in the field in a year and half. He closed his remarks, by making an appeal to each elector for a vote for Union government on Monday next.

STATEMENT BY MAYOR

His Worship Mayor Hayes last night requested that the following be published:

"The public is requested to withhold any further contributions of clothing for Halifax relief until further notice. The congestion of shipments in Halifax leaves much relief undisturbed, and the amount of clothing at St. Andrew's rink ready for shipment with the material unpacked, warrants the request. No more clothing will be received at St. Andrew's rink until further notice."

Letters from the Commercial Travelers' Association to the local Halifax relief committee state that the relief cars are arriving and the material is being distributed. St. John was the first city to send bread to Halifax.

Women Who Have Votes

Some deceitful canvassers and fraudulent enumerators are telling a number of women who have soldier relatives overseas that the woman suffrage law has been changed and there is no need to bother any more about their vote.

The law has not been changed and all women who come under the following classes can vote in the coming elections:

- 1.—Of a Canadian soldier now overseas;
- 2.—Of a Canadian soldier who has died overseas;
- 3.—Of a returned Canadian soldier.
- 4.—Of a Canadian army nurse in the forces of Canada or of Great Britain;
- 5.—Of a person who during the present war has been on active service in the Imperial Army or the British Navy;
- 6.—Of a member of the Canadian naval forces.

For the benefit of women who are entitled to have a vote there has been opened at 64 Charlotte street a Women's Central Committee, where information will be given. T.F.

THESE METROPOLITAN STARS

As Your Christmas Guests

THAT would be a privilege, wouldn't it—to have these eminent artists singing to you in your home? "But the idea is preposterous," you reply. "It's inconceivable."

Far from it. So far as the enjoyment of music is concerned you can sit in your living room and revel in the beauty of Marie Rappold's wonderful voice, for example, exactly as though the great diva were standing there in the flesh. And the same applies to any other of our assemblage of world-renowned artists.

The NEW EDISON "The Phonograph With A Soul"

re-creates the human voice with such accuracy, such fidelity—it renders so complete and perfect a reproduction that no human ear can distinguish the slightest difference between the living artist and the record.

This is not a claim; it is an established fact. Over one million people have attended our famous tone tests where thirty eminent artists sang in direct comparison with the New Edison's Recreation of their own interpretations, and not one could tell where the voice left off and the record began. In the case of instrumentalists the verdict was the same. 600 new paper critics have gone on record to this effect. Thomas A. Edison has not merely imitated—he has actually re-created the human voice.

A Gift Which Means Life Enriched

As a Christmas gift what can equal a New Edison? It adds something real and vital to life.
