season. The Washington franchise, which it was proposed to bring to this city, will again be operated in the United States National Capital. From unquestionably authoritative sources, however, it is learned that the Washington team and franchise will not be found in that city in 1918. Toronto, Brooklyn and Pittsburg have been mentioned in connection with the transfer of the Senators, and Toronto is everywhere given the preference.

May Change Training Camp. May Change Training Camp.

New York, Aug. 27—The Brooklyn team may not train at Dayton, Fla., next spring. Col. Ebbets is in receipt of a telegram from President Charles Weeghman of the Cubs asking that the Robins take over the Chicago club's contract covering the training camp at Tampa, as the Cubs will go to Pasadena, Cal. Ebbets has asked Weeghman to send the contract on for inspection, and has not as yet decided upon his plans. "I may not be in baseball next spring," was his observation.
