

OLYMPIC CHAMPION IS DUE HERE SHORTLY AFTER CHRISTMAS

THUNBURG MAY COMPETE FIRST AT NEWBURGH

Word Expected Daily From The Finnish Skating Ace

THUNBURG, Finland's great Olympic champion, is expected to arrive in this city shortly after Christmas and his first appearance in competition on this side of the water probably will be at Newburgh, N. Y., at the annual meet opening there on New Year's Day. That is according to present tentative plans of the Saint John Amateur Skating Association, which is handling arrangements for the appearance on this side of the water of the acknowledged peer of the amateur skaters of the world. Word is expected daily from Thunburg in regard to conditions and when they are known, the local association can shape its plans with definiteness. As November is at hand and only two short months remain to prepare for the big meet, the situation has been thoroughly canvassed for definite action when Thunburg's wishes are known. There was some talk of sending Thunburg to New York and from there to Newburgh, but it has been practically decided to land him in Saint John and have him work out and train at Lily Lake, and then go to Newburgh for the opening meet of the season, coming back here for the world's meet. It is expected that he will be accompanied by a compatriot, Scottt, and a great deal of interest has been aroused over the expected coming of these two famous Finlanders.

OUTSIDERS INTERESTED.
The Montreal Star carried a long story on its sport page this week regarding the big meet here and this shows the interest that has been aroused outside of the city in the effort to bring over European competition this year. It is hoped the meet will attract many outside people and in this connection there is talk of special excursions from points including Boston. The idea is taking hold strongly and it looks now as though the local association will be deluged with offers for Thunburg's services.

BOWLING TOURNEY ON Y. M. C. I. ALLEYS

There is every indication of a boom in bowling in the Y. M. C. I. during the coming season. The House League is already in operation with four teams of good bowlers. The Diamond League, composed of the Sparrows, Owls, Falcons and Hawks, was formed at a large attendance of leading bowlers last evening. The officers of this league are: President, Thos. Cogswell; vice-president, Jas. McNulty; secretary-treasurer, L. Wall.
The Catholic Inter-Society League has also been formed and is expected to start next week with representatives from all the Catholic societies of Saint John.
The Y. M. C. I. are holders of the championship of N. B. and eastern Maine, having won the title in the tournament at Houlton last spring. At the close of this season the annual tournament will take place on the Y. M. C. I. alleys and with a view to having the strongest team possible, the league was adopted that the team would be composed of the seven high men of the three leagues.
As the alleys have been thoroughly overhauled it is expected that high scores will be the rule during the coming season.

BADMINTON WILL START TOMORROW

The Saint John Garrison Badminton Club will start the season's play tomorrow. The opening date has been advanced by one week because of the requests of members. The date originally planned for the opening was Oct. 31, and on that day the afternoon tea will commence.

Harry Wills Should Meet Gene Tunney Or Withdraw His Challenge To Dempsey

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
(United Press Sports Editor).
Gene Tunney, former American light heavyweight champion, is rapidly forcing himself to the front as the outstanding challenger for the heavy-weight championship—if he hasn't already.
Harry Wills, because he was the first to drop a challenge and a forfeit with the New York Boxing Commission, is the official challenger. But Tunney is becoming the popular choice.
The claims of Wills to shut out Dempsey are bolstered by sentiment and sympathy, but it would seem that if Tunney is to be treated fairly that records should receive the first consideration.
Tunney has done infinitely more in the last two years to deserve consideration than Wills has and records surely ought to count.
In two years Tunney has knocked out Emilio Spilla, European champion; Georges Carpentier, Tom Cribb and Barley Madden. He has beaten Jimmy Delaney and Harry Greb, and a victory over Greb means something.
In the last two years Wills has knocked out Kid Norfolk, Jeff Clark, Buddy Jackson, Ted Jackson, Homer Smith, Jack Thompson and Charley Weinst. He won from Barley Madden and Luis Firpo, although he failed to stop them.
Tunney stopped Weinst three years ago when Weinst was a much better

Along The Sport Trail

SAINT JOHN'S second annual track and field meet for girls will be held tomorrow afternoon on the South End grounds and any one looking for an afternoon's enjoyment can do worse than going down and watching the fair young athletes emulate the deeds of the Olympic heroes. Some of the marks, they say, made at last year's meet are going to fall this time. Here are some of the targets set up last year: Running broad jump, 11 feet, by Miss D. Norwood; running high jump, by Miss G. Fowler, 8 feet, 11 inches; hop, step and jump, Miss Norwood, 24 feet, 7 1/2 inches; shot put, Miss Fowler, 29 feet, 2 inches; throwing the basketball, Miss Fowler, 29 feet. Miss Norwood won the dash and tied with Miss Fowler for high points. The senior girls' class of the Y. W. C. A. won the meet with 31 points with the Boosters second with 19. These marks, we might say, compare very favorably with those set up by Toronto girls at their big meets. What we should like to see next year would be a New Brunswick championship meet with entrants from all parts of the province competing here for the provincial titles. It can be done, provided the movement is started early enough in the spring. Moncton, Fredericton, Woodstock, St. Stephen and other centres should have some good material to send up. How about it?

AND NOW it's the Swedes. They have a heavyweight championship boxer by the name of Harry Persson, known as the "slugging stonecutter" who announces he is going to New York early next year and fight under the tutelage of Tex Rickard. He is 6 feet tall and weighs 190 pounds, wearing nothing.

THE BALKANS, we note, are at it again. Whenever they start tearing up the mud and making faces at each other down there, we are always reminded of the advice handed out by a well-known local sportsman, now long since retired but still interested in the game, particularly boxing. In his day, he was one of the best Saint John ever had. The conversation one day turned to riots and rows on the sporting field. "The cause for all this trouble at these affairs," he says, "is because the crowds persist in interfering with the honest-to-goodness fight. Whenever two youngsters square off at each other and one lets drive a blow that gets in the way of the other fellow's face, immediately the fans rise up on their hind legs, rush down on the field and try to separate them. Maybe, I'm tough but it is my idea the proper way would be to form a ring, appoint a referee and let them go to it. In FIVE MINUTES, yes and less, they'll get all the fighting they want for a while. Let them turn to it, I say, and it will be such a tame affair that the crowds will go into a disgust. This 'hold me, or I'll kill him' stuff makes me tired. Maybe, I'm wrong but it seems to me that would be an effective way." Now if they applied that to the Balkans and let them go to it, we don't think it would last long. But the trouble starts when one nation interferes. That drags in another—and so on down the line. Perhaps, the analogy is not quite perfect but it is a half bad idea at that. The next time the experiment should be tried out. The future peace of the world depends on it.

HAD WALTER JOHNSON won that last game of the world series he would have been faced with the job of accepting or rejecting a $2,000 a week theatrical contract at the Hippodrome. He lost and the offer was void.

SOME of our friends of the City Intermediate League have taken us to task for a suggestion made in this column last evening to the effect that to create a reserve from which material could be drawn for the High School eleven, the local High should enter a second team in the Intermediate League. It appears that we have reflected on the dignity and standing of the Intermediates by making a suggestion. It was the last thought in our minds when presenting the analogy to the Holy Land. It is not a holy horror at the thought that the High School would have a second team as good as the teams now in the City Intermediate League. Obviously, such a thing is about as possible as selling refrigerators at the North Pole for the very simple reason that even the High School first team would have quite a job gobbling up the present intermediates. In fact, there are some who believe the gobbling would go the other way. The point we made was "what about the future?" It must be plain that the boys now in the present Intermediate League will be ripe for senior company, quite probably next year, because a senior league here would put football back on its feet. They can't be intermediates all their lives. That is fact No. 1. This being so, juniors will take their places. Here is the chance for the High School season team. The time was, boys, if you will believe us, when High School DID have a real second team that was quite a capable bunch. And what has been done can be done again. If history is any good at all, it should make clear the path of the future. The ideal state would be to have every school in the city represented in a schoolboy league but we haven't the facilities in the shape of grounds. The next best thing is to create a reserve and to do that, High School must have a second team in a league, whether they call it junior or intermediate; whether they get trimmed or whether they win. The main thing is EXPERIENCE. If they are so weak they get beaten 80 to 0 every time, that won't hurt the league or the team. It's a funny thing in football that the greater the score, the greater the fame. Is this clear? The present intermediates teams are well-balanced and powerful and put up some wonderful games and as an honorary officer of the intermediate league executive we are proud of their efforts to revive rugby football here.

to force Wills to meet him. If he plays his cards right, he can do it. He complains that Dempsey will not fight him, that Dempsey never will fight again, and that all he has in prospect is a winter of golf in Florida. If he becomes discouraged and goes to Florida for the winter, he may improve his golf game but he will not better his chances to get a crack at the title.
Dempsey did not complain in 1919 that Willard wouldn't meet him. He didn't annoy big Jess with challenges. He let the public do the forcing and he got the match and the title.
The present champion went out and knocked over every fighter who was willing to offer his chin to dispute Dempsey's claim for first consideration. Wills was more of the logical contender for the title in 1919 than he is now, but he sat back and pointed and yowled out that the public will not champion a cause that hasn't some steam behind it.
Wills is doing the same thing now. He refuses to go out and prove that he is the greatest challenger in the class. If he has confidence in himself he could have had a match with Gibbons and Tunney and he had knocked them out he could have forced Dempsey to fight or retire. If he couldn't have knocked them out, he would have had no right to demand a bout with the champion.
Tunney will say that there are none

U. N. B. SWAMPS MT. ALLISON BY 27 TO 0 SCORE

Sackville Boys Never Had Chance Against Red and Black

DAZZLED by the appearance of the University of New Brunswick's rugby fifteen in brilliant scarlet and black new uniforms, Mount Allison's squad of pigskin chasers fast in their tracks while U. N. B. ran wild on the college campus at Fredericton yesterday afternoon and when the scene was over and the spell broken, U. N. B. had won, 27 to 0. This crushing defeat compares very favorably with the one administered to the Trojans and stamps the present U. N. B. outfit as one of the greatest in many years. The red and black tris were made by concerted back field movements with one exception. The latter was by Currie, receiving half, who when opportunity presented itself went over himself. Seely at left outside on the three-quarter line scored four times and McCaffrey at right outside scored once. Captain Paul Fraser's educated toe accounted for nine points as he kicked the penalty goal and made three conversions.

MANY ROOTERS.
Mount Allison brought the biggest crowd of rooters which had been seen here at a college football match many motoring over from Sackville. They gave their team all the support they could but it was without avail. The game and gold team, however, fought to the last and gave a good exhibition of gameness. They were up against a better fifteen. They often got away on three-quarter line runs but the U. N. B. tackling smothered them. Captain Ray Smith, of Woodstock, played an exceptionally fine game at flying half, but he was collared before he could get away. Had he been in his former position at outside three-quarter he would have had greater opportunity.
The University of New Brunswick sprang a surprise on everyone by taking the field in brand new uniforms in which scarlet predominated with narrow stripes of black on sleeves and stockings. Mount Allison wore garb of blue and gold and jerseys of garnet and gold.

U. N. B. WON TOSS.
The U. N. B. team won the toss and placed with backs to the sun. Later in the game there was no advantage from the sun.
Before Norman Ralston, of Halifax, blew for the kick-off at 3:15 and for a time neither team showed any superiority. Lister of Mount Allison, left but Wills for him to fight. There are, however, if he would be reasonable in his demands. He is reaching the stage of perfect development now and if he went out for ordinary purposes he could keep himself right at the proper edge by fighting.

Even if Wills declines to fight him, there are King Solomon, Berlebach, Jack Sharkey, Jim Maloney, Bud Gorman, Bob Fitzsimmons and others who would be good cards with Tunney and he could make a lot of money by going out after them and he could get himself so much notice that Wills would have to fight him or withdraw his challenge against Dempsey.

Laugh This One Off, Boys

For a place of hallyhoo about the Harvard-Dartmouth game this Saturday that hits 100 per cent. on what a hallyhoo should be, "Bill" Cunningham in the Boston Post, takes No. 1 prize and head of the class with the following:
HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 19.—In the murky black corners of newspaper offices, those quaint spots where handsome young men are tailored each fall for their All-American regalia, more than one editor is already dusting off a spare halo or three for the possible use of Andrew J. Oberlander of this Dartmouth team.

Andrew J. Oberlander is a halfback. He weighs two pounds less than a carload of pigiron and is about three times as tall as a table. He is the proprietor of the meanest straight-arm in the pop-eyed nation and he always swings into action shouting his famous battle cry—"Ten thousand Swedes jumped out of the woods at the battle of Copenhagen."
Against season opponents last year, Obie crashed like a brick through a window. He was the fifth horseman Notre Dame didn't have—the Old Wild Bull of the Campus, himself.

Came the Yale game, as they say in French, and the Big Express Train from Everett was making that Bulldog line look like a bench load of perfume. Pomeranians, when some Yale man accidentally kicked Andrew J. in the head.

The report that the Yale man broke his foot in three places was later found to be wrong. He broke it in only two places.

Asking a football player to spend his odd moments at personal football practice is something like asking a ditch digger to bury an elephant on a day off, or Earle Sande to spend Sunday on a merry-go-round, but big Obie punted and passed and practiced starting and straight-arming before work and after and between times.

When he broke loose for his first long run up here this year, the Adams applies of the audience hopped up and down like gold-fish trying to hurdle the rim of their bowls. For, to the unenraptured astonishment of the congregation, Obie could hip-leave and side-step. He could dodge and wriggle and writhe. He could still lower his neck, shouting his famous battle cry, of course, and divide a line like Moses divided the Red Sea. He could do that last year. It was the new stuff that captured the attention and gave it a galvanic thrill.

And he could out-kick any man on the squad and throw a pass from the step of Robinson Hall clean through the Bell Tower on top of Old Dartmouth.

Obie considers that he's done a bad day's work anytime he fails to run half the field at least three times a game. At least he must feel that way. He never says anything—in fact he rarely speaks at all except to shout his famous battle-cry. But any time they stop Obie after a mere 30 yards or so, he arises from the sward with a wistful look at the goal posts and takes his place in the line as if badly pleased with himself.

The man who originated that statement about consistency belonging in the jewelry department must have had big Obie and his touchdown in mind. They all bear the 40 or the 50-yard tag. That boy gets distance like a seven-tube radio.
Harvard will see a lot of Oberlander on Saturday.
Most of it may be a rapidly diminishing rear view.
They'd better build a safety fence in back of each goal line—a good stout barrier of cross-ties and railroad rails. For if Obie gets up steam for a drive from, say the 10-yard line, he's very likely to demolish the entire bowl end of the Stadium, killing thousands and thousands and thousands.

All Set For Girls' Track Meet Saturday

FINAL arrangements for the girls' track and field meet on the South End grounds tomorrow have been completed and the girls are hoping that the weather man will be kinder to them than to the West Side schoolboys who were compelled to postpone their meet three times in succession owing to bad weather. In case tomorrow's meet is called off, it probably will be run off next week. The first event tomorrow is called for 2 o'clock.

on the throw out used a long throw which often was not straight and brought his team back for a scrim. In the loose play the U. N. B. forwards soon showed themselves able to gain ground. Soon the red and black was within three yards of the Mt. Allison goal line on a long run by the three-quarters. Mt. Allison relieved by kicking. On the punt which was received by the U. N. B. back, the garnet and gold were flagrantly off side and a free kick was given. This started the scoring, as Paul Fraser put the ball over cleanly on a 40 yard kick.

THE LINEUPS.
U. N. B.—Fullback, Hickson; three-quarters, McCaffrey, Fraser (Capt.), Seely, Seely; halves, Babbitt, Keen, Currie; forwards, McPhail, Donohoe, Macaulay, Dalzell, Odell, Woods, McLennan.

Referee, Norman Ralston, Halifax.
Tonight a dance was given in the U. N. B. Memorial Hall for the Mt. A. team and supporters.
The next match in the section is to be played at Wolfville next Thursday when U. N. B. will meet Acadia. The latter team has never lost to the Red and Black on home grounds and is expected to be out to preserve its record inviolate.

IN INTERMEDIATES' CARD SATURDAY IS GOOD ONE

Nationals to Play Wanderers on West Side Grounds

ELECTION DAY on Thursday next being a half-holiday, Moncton city's rugby football squad will play the Trojans here on the Allison grounds, this being a return game for the one to be played between the two teams tomorrow at the railway centre. Moncton has not been here for some time now and as they have a heavy, powerful outfit and capable of running away with a game if allowed to get started next Thursday's game should be a good one. Tomorrow's game at the railway centre should also produce some good football. Both teams are practically in the same box when it comes to securing practice as the members work during the day and there is very little of daylight left for them to try-out new formations after work. Despite these disadvantages compared with the college teams, both Moncton and the Trojans can put up some hefty arguments and it will be interesting to note the result of two so evenly-matched teams.

On Saturday, October 31, University of New Brunswick will be the attraction here against the Trojans. The Red and Black goes to Wolfville for the time being. On Saturday, November 6, when Dalhousie University's squad, conquerors of Acadia, play the Trojans here Dal will play U. N. B. at Fredericton on the Saturday preceding. Tomorrow's football game here are scheduled for the West Side grounds and the Allison. On the West Side, the wanderers and Nationals of the City Intermediate League, while on the Allison grounds, Fredericton High, meets the local High. Fredericton is playing at Calais this afternoon.

COLAIS TEAM WINS

ST. STEPHEN, Oct. 22.—St. Stephen High School football team went down to defeat here this afternoon at the hands of the Calais boys by a score of 7 to 6 in a very hotly contested game.

HURLEY WON.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Twelve sensational rounds were fought here tonight by Edouard Mascart, the French featherweight champion, and Lew Hurley, aggressive New York boxer, the latter earning the decision of the judges by a strong finish in the final three rounds. The pair slugged toe to toe without a letup in the first four rounds, then slackened their pace until the tenth, when the American swept Mascart to defeat with a furious rally. The Frenchman weighed 125 pounds; Hurley half a pound less.

STRIBLING WON

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 22.—W. (Young) Stribbling tonight knocked out Tommy McKiernan, of New York, in the second round of a scheduled ten round bout at the State Fair Grounds.
