DR. LUNNEY'S LECTURE IN THE C. M. B. A. COURSE

Takes Large Audience in a Delightful Tour of England, Scotland and Ireland and Part of Continent

Dr. T. H. Lunney was the lecturer last evening in the C. M. B. A. winter course in the hall of Branch 134, in Union street, and his subject, a visit to the British Isles and part of the continent. For fell on to an hour and a half Dr. Lunney held the large gathering deeply interested by his finely worded descriptions of places seen, and he cleverly illustrated his talk with sparkling anecdotes and historical references, which made his lecture particularly entertaining.

Opening with a brief account of his trip across the Atlantic in the S. S. Montezuma in 1909, Dr. Lunney described the arrival at London and then told of days spent in the world's metropolis sight seeing afoot and on wheels. Much of detail was given and the long list of places enumerated suggested that not much time had been lost while in the great city.

After London, Paris was seen with the wealth of attraction in its churches, the Louvre, the Tuilleries and other historical places. After return to London came a visit to Scotland, Glasgow, Edinburgh and Loch Lomond were told of, and then a tour made to London by way of Liverpool, Birkenhead, Warwick, Leamington and other cities. The speaker was then taken for Holland and after Antwerp and other places had been seen, Germany was visited. There was reference to a trip on the Rhine and a description of sights on the field of Waterloo was given.

The lecturer then described with many well told stories interspersed, a tour of Ireland—Cork, Malton, Blarney Castle, Killarney, Belfast, Loch Erne and Enniskillen being among the places dwelt upon. It was readily seen that Dr. Lunney had used well his powers of observation and had stored up a large fund of fact and story as the result of his visit to the old land, and with his ability to picture for others what he sees himself, the lecture was made most entertaining and instructive.

Charles P. O'Neill, president of the branch, was in the chair, and at the close of the lecture, on motion of Dr. R. F. Quigley, seconded by R. J. Walsh, presented to the speaker a hearty vote of thanks for his address.

The next lecture in the course will be given on January 8 by Rev. A. J. O'Neill on the Post of the South.

Halifax Grants Concessions

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 11—The Halifax city council at a meeting yesterday afternoon voted all the civic concessions asked by the Nova Scotia Car Works, Limited, of this city, who are the purchasers of the Silliker Car Company.

The chief advantage the Silliker Car Company enjoyed from the city was exemption from taxation for a period of ten years, and it has a civic loan of $125,000 at 4 per cent.

The new company has this tax exemption period extended to twenty years. The civic loan is continued, and in addition the company are given 5,000,000 gallons of water free for twenty years, with any further quantity they may require, to be sold for at the city's minimum rate.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

HEROISM AND TRUE DEMOCRACY
By Edwin H. Chapin

From "Humanity in the City" (N. Y. and Boston, 1894), pages 84 to 88.

THERE are occasions that summon up all the energies of manhood as with a trumpet-peal. See yonder! where the conflagration, bursting through marble walls, casts a terrible splendor down the street and reddens the midnight sky. What an enemy has broken loose among us, devouring the achievements of human skill and the hopes of enterprise! What shall stay it?
With a triumphant shout it snatches the fetters of stone; it roars with victory; it bends its flaming crest towards peaceful homes, where men and mothers and babes lie in unconscious slumber. The hell beasts; and what old brute-strain, what pibroch, what rattling drum ever sounded a more perilous call? And on what battlefield that you read of was there ever displayed a loftier heroism, a more dauntless energy than that man displays who, with the unconscious courage of duty, plunged into the furnace, mounts the quivering walls, and, making his own body a barrier between his fellow-men and the flame, stands there scorched, bruised, bleeding, and beats the red terror back and beats it down with that irresistible energy which always springs from the human will bent upon a noble purpose.

And so, in other forms, men are exercising a heroism and working achievements that make dim and pale the trophies that are plucked from fields of war and in lists of glittering renown.

The tendency of things is to bring out more and more the real claims to human precedence and to throw all spurious title into the shade. This is the radical purpose of true democracy, which I take to be the social synonym of Christianity. I don't call that "democracy," which is simply the domineering spirit of self-exaltation in a new shape. For there is no essential difference whether we call the social order a monarchy or a commonwealth—whether its leading men are Charles and Louis or Robespierre and Cromwell. If we must have the old social fallacies they appear more attractive with the old symbols. In that case I would rather not have them changed.

For, when I look merely at the sentimental side of things, I feel sorry when the so-called "royal martyr," with a dignity which contrasts with his past conduct, stretches his head upon the block; or when the pitiless insults of a Parisian mob are hurled upon the head of the beautiful Marie Antoinette. A poetic regret and enthusiasm are awakened by the associations that cluster about the golden lion and the Bourbon lilies. And, when I turn to those grim Ironsides, or those frantic Jacobins, the work they are doing looks savage enough. But with a more discriminating vision I perceive that that red popular storm which desolates palaces and shatters crumpled embossments a rectifying process which, tumbling all false distinctions from their pedestals, shall by-and-by have up the platform of social justice and reveal the true dignity of man. The essential work of democracy is not the destruction of forms; is not the giant arm of revolution, striking the hours of human progress by the crash of falling thrones. But its great work is construction—is in changing the very spirit of institutions—and it asserts its legitimate and bases its claims upon the Christian doctrine of the human soul.

Marine Notes
Schooner Ronald, one of J. Willard Smith's fleet, arrived in port yesterday with hard coal, after a rough trip. One of her boats was blown away while round Cape Cod on Friday last. Off Point Legion on Sunday the schooner collided with a buoy, the vapor making it difficult to see ahead. She had her gasoline boat torn away and rail broken. While outward bound from the port the Ronald collided with a schooner, with the American schooner David Faust.

When the C. P. R. liner-Lake Manito-la sailed yesterday she took away twenty-six deports.

Allan liner Grampian, Captain William, from Liverpool, arrived in St. John's port on Saturday evening and docked at No. 6 berth, Sand Point. She brought out to Halifax about 400 passengers, but only thirteen came to this port. Captain Williams comes here for the first time as commander of the ship. Other changes in steamers of this line are, Captain Hendrie of the Sardinian to the Pretorian, to take the place of Captain Pitt, who died recently. Captain Hamilton, of the Sil-berian to the Sardinian, and the retirement of Captain Johnston, formerly of the Silberian.

Steamer Olympia, of the Alaska Steamship Company, is ashore on Seal Island, according to a despatch from Cordova, Alaska, and grave fears are felt for the safety of the 100 people on board.

If you succeed it isn't necessary to explain how you did it.

MUTINY QUELLED BUT DEATH LIST IS LONG

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 11—The government troops are again in control of the garrison on Cobra Island, and the second mutiny of the naval forces has ended with a heavy casualty list, but in a way that will probably prevent further things for some time to come.

The mutineers in the garrison who composed a battalion of the marine corps, numbered about 800 men. Of these 200 were either killed or wounded. The others were taken prisoners by the destroyers while attempting to escape from the island during the night.

Two hundred citizens were either killed or wounded while watching the bombardment from the streets of the city or along the water front. Many government buildings were damaged including the treasury, the foreign office and the departments of public works and telegraphs, all handsome structures.

TWO GET REPRIEVE AND TWO MUST HANG

Ottawa, Dec. 11—Mary Dufan and James McIntyre, who are now in Barrie jail under sentence to be hanged on Wednesday next for the murder of their illegitimate child last summer, will escape the gallows.
The death sentence has been commuted to life imprisonment.

In the case of Wiemark, under sentence to be hanged at Perth on Wednesday next for the murder of his wife in a fit of drunken anger, and of a Hungarian under sentence to be hanged at Leithbridge next Thursday for the murder of a fellow countryman, the law will take its course.

Frederickton, N. B., Dec. 11—The death of Alfred F. Street, collector of customs place Saturday night as a result of paralysis. Deceased was in his 67th year

The late A. F. Street was a son of the late Rev. S. D. Lee Street, some time latter town in 1844. He removed to Fre-derickton about 1860 and after studying some time at the University of New Brunswick, took up the study of law in the office of his uncle, the late Hon.

John Ambrose Street. In 1870 he married Louisa Hanford Tilley, daughter of the late St. Leonard Tilley. She died fifteen years ago. Rev. T. W. Street, sub-dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Frederickton, and Warwick W. Street, of San Francisco (Cal.), are brothers of deceased and the

A MOTHER'S SACRIFICE

Made in Kindness is Often an Injustice to Herself and to Her Family.

It is a common thing for mothers to sacrifice comfort, strength, and sometimes life itself, for her family. So common, indeed, that little notice is taken of it.
If anyone else is tired or weak or sick, mother waits on them. But there is no time for mother to be sick or to get the much-needed rest. So she neglects her aliments until she gets beyond the reach of human aid.

This is an injustice to herself and to her family. Health must be preserved. It is a mother's duty to herself and to those about her.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will restore you.
It makes new blood. It creates new nerve force. The feelings of weakness and fatigue disappear as if by magic when this restorative is used. It sharpens the appetite, improves digestion and removes the cause of headaches.

You cannot get well in a day. Nature's cures are gradual and lasting. Dr. A. W.
Chase's Nerve Food works hand in hand with Nature by supplying the elements which go to build up the system.

Mrs. H. A. Loyne, nurse, Philadelphia, Que., writes: "I was all run down and could not do my own work. Everything I ate made me sick. In nursing others I had seen the good results of Dr. A. W.
Chase's Nerve Food and resolved to try it.
As a result of this treatment I have gained ten pounds, do my own work alone, and feel like an entirely different person."

NORTH END FATALITY

Mrs. Annie Miller, widow of Nicholas Miller, was found on Saturday night dying in the cellar of her house in Unley street, and as a result of injuries she had sustained she passed away yesterday morning. It is believed that she struck her head on a beam in going to the cellar about 5.30 o'clock, and had been unconscious from that time until her death. Her home was near the Portland Rolling mill, and the upstairs portion of it was occupied by Mrs. W. Sillibank, who found Mrs. Miller, on searching for her. Dr.
Roberts examined the woman and found a cut several inches long in her forehead.

Mrs. Miller was about sixty-two years of age, and is survived by three brothers and one sister. She was well known and lived in the neighborhood. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.15 from 82 Chesley street.

Dr. Rufus C. Chapman of Newcastle, Me., is thought to be the oldest practicing dentist in the world. He is 88 years old and has been in active service for 65 years.
