WILD SCENES AT WOMAN'S TRIAL

Police Struggle to Control Mass of 2,500 People

WOMEN IN THE MOB

All Eager to Get Into Courtroom to Hear Evidence in Trial of Mrs. Schenk on Charge of Poisoning Husband—Evidence Early Sensational

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 11.—While the crowd at the Ohio county court house after the luncheon recess of the Schenk trial yesterday, almost staggered the court officials and attendants, it was not until this morning that there was to be little falling in attendance at the sensation seekers. This is the third day of Mrs. Laura Farnworth Schenk's trial on the charge of poisoning her husband and the second day in which testimony was taken. The scenes yesterday, when the women had to be beaten back by the police, the stampede, in which one woman was so badly hurt that she had to be taken to a hospital, and the noisy demonstrations in the courtroom, when certain bits of testimony were heard have shocked and astounded Judge Jordan, who insists that order be kept.

His admonition to the spectators yesterday that it would be more becoming in them to stay at home and appraise the curiosity by reading the reports in the newspapers, was not taken seriously, apparently for the crowd that assembled about the court house doors today outnumbered that of yesterday.

As early as 9 o'clock, four hours before the doors were thrown open, there was a kind of the curious assembled and with each minute it grew until there were fully 2,500 persons with whom the police struggled, pleaded and pulled and hauled.

The first witness of the day was Dr. Frank L. Hupp, who was on the stand when court adjourned yesterday. It was during Dr. Hupp's direct examination yesterday that Mrs. Schenk showed the first sign of any of the testimony, when the physician told of statements made to her by Mrs. Schenk, who said "Perhaps I would be better satisfied if you would let him die."

The resumption of the direct examination of Dr. Hupp was the plan for the day, and his testimony on direct and cross examination occupied the greater part of the day. Prosecutor Handlan, just before court opened, remarked to newspapermen and the attorneys grouped about the corridor, "What we brought out yesterday was very mild. Watch what we produce today."

When the physician's testimony was finished, two other physicians who sat at the blood tests, and other toxicological tests followed.

Following this, Mrs. Schenk's nurse who attended Mrs. Schenk throughout her illness, testified.

While this is practically the day's list of witnesses to be called, it was doubtful when court opened whether more than two would be heard before adjournment this afternoon.

BANKER MISSING

Italians in New York in Frantic Assebley, Fearing Savings Are Gone

New York, Jan. 11.—A cordon of policemen stood guard this morning outside the closed banking house of Cito Scandone in 100th street, as the result of a demonstration last night by several hundred frantic foreigners who had placed their savings on deposit there. It was feared that the banker had been missing, the police say, since Monday afternoon. He had been in business for five years, and had won the confidence of the Italian colony, and his depositors numbered more than 1,500.

FULL INVESTIGATION BY COURTS INTO THE FARMERS' BANK CASE

Toronto, Jan. 11.—(Special)—"All I can tell you is that the courts will make full investigation into the Farmers' Bank case," said C. J. Clarke when asked regarding reports that the actual outlay by W. R. Travers, former manager of the Farmers' Bank in the Keeley mine was only $400,000. It is reported the sum paid for this property was $200,000 and that about $100,000 was spent in its development. In a statement of the curator, however, more than $1,100,000 is charged against the Keeley Mine and much discrepancy obtains as to the apparent discrepancy of $700,000.

Keeley and his two associates it is earned received one hundred thousand dollars each for their share in the property.

JOHN BURNS GETS AFTER SOME PAPERS

British Government Member Makes a Vigorous Speech at Battersea—Declares the Veto Power Gone

London, Jan. 11.—John Burns, president of the local government board, at Battersea last night, severely attacked the British press in a speech enthusiastic in its praise of Asquith's leadership of the Liberals. He contended that the last two elections had destroyed for ever the veto power, had destroyed for twenty-five years all the pretensions at tariff reform, and had been a triumphant repudiation, by the common sense of the people, of the "vulgar, lying, sensational press, whose conduct during and since the elections was a scandal amounting almost to a national crime."

The influence of this press, he said, was the only danger ahead for the British people, but fortunately the Liberals, with 75 per cent. of the London press against them had been able to defend the free trade ideal against the lords.

CROPS $25,000,000 BELOW LAST YEAR IN VALUE, SAYS MINISTER

Wheat, Oats and Barley in West $40,000,000 Less Than in 1909

Guelph, Ont., Jan. 11.—Hon. Sidney Fisher, addressing the annual meeting of the Ontario Agriculture and Experimental Union, which opened here last night, pointed out that the crops of wheat, oats and barley yielded from 23,000,000 acres under cultivation in Canada last year, 25,000,000 less than in 1909 and by for the forage crops of eastern Canada, the decrease would have been much greater.

The value of wheat, oats and barley in the prairie provinces alone was $40,000,000 below that of the previous year. Mr. Fisher said that, with a little more care and intelligence, the farmers of Canada could greatly increase their annual output. There was vital need for re-encouragement in every department of the farm, he declared.

ARCHDEACON EMERY, NOTED DIVINE, DEAD

Father of the Church Congress and Organizer of the Diocesan Conferences

London, Jan. 11.—Archdeacon Emery, who will be long remembered in addition to many good works, as the "Father of the Church Congress," is dead.

When he resigned the Archdeaconry in Ely in 1907, on account of his age, Canon Emery had held the post for forty-three years, but it was as promoter of the first Church Congress at Cambridge, in 1861, and as its honorary secretary ever since, that he was best known.

Archdeacon Emery was too feeble to be present, he followed its doings with the greatest interest, and had the satisfaction of knowing that his son was filling the secretarial post he had held so long.

Archdeacon Emery was for twenty years chairman of the council of the Church of Schools Company, and organized the diocesan conferences which are now to be found in every see.

He served the country in a wider aspect. It was he who, in 1859, helped to start the great volunteer movement, forming a corps of Cambridge men, and scoring the first bull's eye. Later he became chaplain of the Cambridge University Corps, and on his retirement in 1895 was the oldest chaplain on the staff. It was generally understood that his promotion at an early age to an Archdeaconry by Lord Palmerston was in recognition of his patriotic work.

The Universities Mission to Central Africa was also started in his rooms in Cambridge.

BRITISH CAPITALISTS IN BIG BREWING DEAL IN THE WEST

Vancouver, Jan. 11.—Merging practically all the brewing interests on the coast in this province, a gigantic deal is now pending whereby the operation of breweries in Vancouver, Nanaimo, New Westminster and Victoria will be placed under the control of British capitalists, the present large shareholders to retain, however, a place on the directorate of the new corporation. The transaction has been under way for some time.

TOBACCO ANTIDOTE FOR MENINGITIS?

Paris, Jan. 10.—After the Lancet's admission that tobacco aids digestion comes the report of an army doctor whose regiment suffered an epidemic of cerebro spinal meningitis. He found that smokers resisted the disease better than non-smokers and could remain in the contaminated area without being attacked.

MAY SETTLE GREAT STRIKE IN CHICAGO

Peace in Clothing Industry Expected as Result of New Move—A Compromise is Likely

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Peace in the clothing industry is expected within a few days as a result of a new move made yesterday by the strike leaders. Following the settlement with one firm on Monday, other manufacturers have suggested that they would accept similar terms if the offer came from the leaders. A new form of agreement, accordingly, has been drawn up and has been approved by the strikers.

Full power has been conferred on the conference board to make settlement without submitting it to the rank and file, and it is expected that a number of the large firms will accept the compromise. The new agreement proposed by the United Garment Workers, provides that all the strikers shall be reinstated within ten days, and that there shall be no discrimination against members of the union. An arbitration board of three shall consider whatever grievances if any, exist and find a method for the adjustment of future troubles.

Baseball Annual

Chicago, Jan. 11.—American Association magnates will arrive today for their annual meeting tomorrow. Business around President Chivington's is at a standstill, awaiting the result of the session. At present it looks as if there would be no business transacted outside the election of a president and the adoption of a new constitution. It is not likely any opposition will develop to Mr. Chivington.

WIFE OF JESSE JAMES' SON IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 11.—Stella F. James was granted a divorce from Jesse James, son of Jesse James, the bandit, in the circuit court here last night. James did not contest the suit.

"That's what I said," quoth Hiram. "Then he possesses a qualification that should commend him to the city council," said the new reporter. "Has he any friends?"

"Well," said Hiram, "he's got no natural enemies, as I know. He's a good natured citizen."

"Does he belong to all the societies in the Section?"

"Pretty much all, I guess."

"Well," said the new reporter, "there are two clerks in the market now, and the third may be needed to give the casting vote when somebody spits on the floor, being your man down and let him give the sign and countersign. He may be all right."

REPLY TO FARMERS' DEMANDS

Manufacturers, 42 Strong, to Wait on Premier Laurier Tomorrow

Ottawa, Jan. 11.—(Special)—Once more the corridors of the House of Commons show signs of activity. Members are gathering in force for the opening of the house this afternoon. The senators are likewise beginning to arrive in considerable numbers, the commons has a very heavy programme for the day, largely questions and motions. When they are disposed of some of the bills of private members will be taken up, it being private members' day.

Arthur Meighen's resolution, calling for a substantial reduction in the import duties on agricultural implements occupies the premier place on the order paper, but it is not likely to be taken up for a day or two, and perhaps not until after a postponement has been made as to the resumption of the tariff negotiations at Washington.

There is little expectation on the part of the members that this session will close before the early part of May, when prorogation will be necessary to allow Sir Wilfrid Laurier and one or two of his colleagues to attend the imperial conference. The opposition has a large number of matters which it proposes to inquire into in the public accounts committee, and to bring up in the house, and this will keep the house going for four months, even if the business of a purely government character could be disposed of in less time.

GET ONLY SEVEN JURORS IN PANEL

Two Business Men Missing After Fire

Vice-President and Cashier of Cincinnati Grain Brokerage Firm Likely Burned to Death

Cincinnati, Jan. 11.—Two men prominent in the business circles of this city were among the missing when morning dawned over the ruins of the Chamber of Commerce Building which was destroyed by fire last night entailing a loss which will reach well over a million dollars and inflicting injuries upon a dozen firms and others.

The missing men are Brent Marshall, vice-president of the grain brokerage firm of Parley & Daniels, which was destroyed in last night's conflagration, and Charles S. Sibbald, cashier of the concern. Members of their families as well as the police hold out small hope of their being alive. These men are known to have been at work in the office at their homes early this morning and inquired at their homes early this morning elicited the information that neither had been seen or heard from since just prior to the time that the fire broke out. While twenty persons were injured, including firemen, it is not believed that any of them sustained fatal hurts. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Y. B. Mellish, Grandmaster of the Grand Encampment of Knights Templars, is among the seriously injured as a result of the fire.

Mr. Mellish was hurt by wreckage from the falling roof. He was struck on the head by a piece of masonry and sustained a severe scalp wound. While he will be under the care of surgeons for some time, his condition is not regarded as critical.

JUDGE MCKEOWN ADJOURNS COURT TILL TOMORROW

NEW YEAR'S EVE CASE

Mr. Mullin Asks That Indictment Be Quashed and Presents His Reasons But Motion is Disallowed—Big Crowd Gathered to Watch Case

Interest continues keen in the case against the eleven young men indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of being members of an unlawful assembly, as was plainly evidenced this morning at the opening of the sitting of the circuit court, Judge McKeown presiding, when a large number of spectators gathered to witness the proceedings.

Some difficulty was experienced in securing a jury, and out of the first panel summoned, only seven jurors were sworn. In order to furnish a new panel, adjournment was made until tomorrow at 10 a.m., when the hearing will be continued. The prisoners will have their liberty until the expiration of the trial.

Yesterday afternoon the grand jury returned in session nearly all day after being with a true bill against Stanley Brown, Fred. R. Way, Benedict Ryan, Wm. J. O'Rourke, Chester Smith, Frank Hayes, J. B. Jones, $1,000; Benedict Ryan, Edmund Ritchie, $1,000; John Jones, J. B. Jones, $1,000; Stanley Brown, John McCullum, $200; Edmund Ritchie, $200.

The grand jury also broadened its recommendation to the effect that a signal police system should be established in this city.

The Proceedings

On the opening of the proceedings, Mr. Mullin moved to quash the indictment against his client. There was a distinction clearly defined, he said, between an unlawful assembly and a riot, and that the latter assembly and riot, and that the indictment should be quashed.

Recorder Baxter said there could not be a riot without an unlawful assembly. He contended that the defendants could be indicted for riot, but through consideration on the part of the court this had not been done. Since Mr. Mullin had said that riot was charged, then it was a matter for argument. There was no desire on the part of the prosecution to try the defendants for anything more serious than an unlawful assembly.

In reply Mr. Mullin said that the defence would take advantage of any possible defect in the indictment. The county of St. John had not been named in the indictment as the scene of the disturbance and there was no allegation of terror on the part of the citizens. These were two of his points for moving to quash the indictment. There had been an attempt to include two charges in one count, which, he said, was not according to law. His Honor disallowed the motion.

Mr. Mullin's request to have a conference with the other counsel for the defence was granted by the court, and they retired, returning about a quarter of an hour. The consultation here was in regard to the choosing of a jury.

The eleven prisoners were then arraigned and each in turn entered a plea of "not guilty." The work of securing a jury was then proceeded with but the panel was exhausted after only seven jurors had been secured. Geo. W. Murphy, and Wm. Hodges were excused through illness. Stanley Busby was excused on account of being under age. This is a challenge for cause," said Mr. Mullin, jocosely.

The Jurymen

The following seven were sworn for service as jurymen: Frank C. Killam, Wm. G. Estabrook, W. H. Steeper, James Board, John Jackson, A. H. Chapman, and W. H. Arnold.
