REALISM AT WORST ON BERLIN STAGE

Play a Succession of Horrors
Which Rouse Indignation
of the Audience

Scenes Deplored as Disgusting, Scandalous and Profane by Excited Crowd.

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Remarkable scenes took place at the production of a drama entitled "Chevalier Bluebeard," by Herr Herbert Eulenberg, at the Lessing Theatre here last night. The play surpasses anything that has hitherto been presented to the theatre-going public in the way of downright sordid and horrible realism. In the first act the horrified audience saw on the stage a crypt in which lay the heads of five wives already murdered by Bluebeard. The second act represented a wedding banquet on the stage, which is suddenly disturbed by the only son of Bluebeard, who drinks until he falls into delirium tremens, and then runs amuck, demolishing everything within his reach. Suddenly, after a most disgusting exhibition of drunken delirium, he falls on his knees and says the Lord's Prayer.

The third act reveals Bluebeard murdering his sixth wife. During the fourth act the burial of the sixth wife takes place on the stage. There is a coffin, with weeping relatives, and after the funeral service the coffin is lowered into the grave by ropes, the planks are removed and earth is thrown on the coffin. The son, still in delirium tremens, attempts to murder his seventh and last wife. She escapes from him, springs into the flames of his burning castle and perishes, likewise in full view of the audience. Her father and brother thereupon appear and kill Bluebeard without more ado. Loud hoots and hisses at times made the actors almost inaudible, and many persons rose in their places and shook their fists at the actors and actresses, gestulating wildly with righteous indignation. Most critics condemn the play, but a few praise it as revealing wonderful talent.
