SENSATIONAL CASE AT CAMPBELLTON

Journalist Has Long Chase Across Continent After Daughter.

Father and Mother Disagree Over Custody of Children, Who Were Kidnapped—Court Must Decide.

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., Sept. 19.—In a case which promises to be one of the greatest sensations ever heard in a Westchester court, the marital troubles of W. R. Stewart, an American journalist, and his wife, will in all probability be heard at Dalhousie in the near future.

The case is one in which Mr. Stewart seeks to have returned to his custody his pretty fourteen-year-old daughter, Winnie, now in the care of Rev. Mr. Bate, rector of the Episcopal Church at Dalhousie. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, who were married about fifteen years ago in Ontario, lived happily together during the greater part of their union, but a little over two years ago disagreements sprang up between them. They were then residing in New York, where Mr. Stewart was engaged in journalism.

Following the scene in the house of Rev. Mr. Bate, that gentleman felt that he had a case of trespass against Mr. Stewart and sought the advice of W. A. Trueman, barrister, Campbellton, but as Mr. Stewart had gone away nothing was done.

Mr. Bate also telegraphed to Mrs. Stewart in New York to come on, but so far she has not done so. The child is believed to be still in the care of Mr. and Mrs. Bate.

Mr. Stewart is about forty-five; his wife is younger. Both are natives of Ontario. Before going to New York Mr. Stewart was on the staff of the Montreal Star.

AYLESWORTH FIGHTING

Minister of Justice Also Challenges Mr. Borden.

Conservative Charges Were Met With Strong Counter Charges—Mr. Borden Implicated.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 19.—The Liberal picnic at Essex today was one of the greatest gatherings ever seen in Western Ontario. The chief feature was Hon. Mr. Aylesworth's reply to Mr. Borden's speech at Chatham.

Mr. Aylesworth after a graceful acknowledgment of the greeting accorded him, entered upon the discussion of the scandal campaign being conducted by the Conservative leader and press. One material influence of this campaign undoubtedly was the part that of seventy Conservative members in the House of Commons only seven were from the province of Ontario. These men hoped to win the country to their side by jurt the name of the Liberal leader, that was waged in the last provincial elections. A year ago, he proceeded, the Liberal had refused to North Bruce, and only yesterday Hon. Dr. Pugsley had been returned by acclamation in the county and city of St. John, N. B., where at the last elections there had been a Conservative majority of over 800, in spite of the plea of the leader made in the city of St. John a month ago and the slender campaign since.

During the last few weeks, it never before, the opposition leader had lent himself apparently with a willing heart to the task of mud-throwing and general abuse. Speaking of the Conservative, Mr. Borden had in the course of references to the result of the general elections as being won by way of Mr. Aylesworth, stated in effect that his own among other constituencies, had been debauched.

"I felt indignation when I read those words," said Aylesworth, "and I felt, Fielding, the people of this country know him, and I venture to say that there is not an honest man in the province who does not believe that Mr. Fielding is as pure and honest a statesman as ever drew the breath of life. Last night, in the course of an extract from Mr. Borden's speech, and I had a word or two to say by way of answer. When the newspapers of this province have been profuse in their accounts of challenges we were made, I was waited upon not long ago by a representative of a Toronto newspaper, where I would meet Borden, I had no other answer to make than that I had met him before on the floor of the House of Commons, and I would meet him there again. Mr. Borden will be welcome if he comes to any meeting in a vain and idle thing that he, as champion of the Conservative party, should be issuing challenges through the country, and challenging his opponents to meet him. Does he think I am going to follow him? I am here, let him come."

I said before, in referring to Mr. Borden, that he had better look to his own case. As to what should be done before the people of Canada, that certain statements of what petitioners in the Halifax election case said they could prove with regard to Borden's own connection with corrupt practices at the last Dominion general election, he had submitted to me and I expressed my opinion of those statements as any lawyer might. I said what I repeat today, that if the things were established at a trial, R. L. Borden would stand disqualified for eight years from the House of Commons in Canada.

At Peterboro, Mr. Borden had said that Aylesworth was a discredited man. On the floor of the house he had said that if he were to repeat before the people of Canada, that he was a discredited man, he would be able to find even in his own native province of Nova Scotia a single constituency that had any confidence in him. "Is he the man?" asked Aylesworth, "to say that I am a discredited man in my own position?"

Mr. Borden had stated that before there was any repetition of remarks respecting the disqualification, Mr. Aylesworth had better devote some little time to explaining his connection with the Ganeay affair. "Well," he continued, "I say to Borden it will take me no longer to explain my connection with the Ganeay affair than it will take him to explain his connection with the Lafarge, Fowler, Poirer affair, which in fact, he spent an hour in the House of Commons explaining it, the sum and substance of his statement being that he knew nothing of it. And I say the same about the Ganeay affair."

Aylesworth also went into the question of the Conservative corrupt fund.

He showed how the sworn evidence of Hugh Graham, of Montreal, contradicted Borden's statement. The evidence was in effect that the witness (Graham) had received a sum of money from the party who were in public life, words to that effect and that it would be better to name in each province persons acceptable to the friends in the locality. Copies of that letter Graham had been sent to all the provinces where he had given aid.

"Mr. Borden," the speaker continued, "according to newspaper reports has concocted from the platform to say that no such letter was written. Thus

COUNCILLOR LONG WINS IN CONTEST

The last evening of the garden party in the Church of the Good Shepherd in Fairville was marked by a very large attendance. In the voting contest for the most popular alderman or councillor, Councillor Long was the winner. The alderman who was favored to win in the race for popular honors, but in the home stretch his friends were there with the goods and made him the winner of the prize. Councillor Hooley was second, while Councillor Fox obtained the honors of third place. The alderman who were favored to win on the first night seemed to lose their friends, and were compelled to drop back into oblivion.

In the rifle competition Mr. Williams seemed to have no second, as he was the winner of a silver mounted walking stick for first prize and a hint vase as second prize.

In the game of the bean toss, Robert Wayne was the winner, while in the ladies' bean toss, Mrs. McCracken, who was not a prominent person among the girls, held up to her reputation and won again last evening. In the drawing of the names for the evening, Mrs. Thomas Deer, during the evening the Artillery Band rendered a humorous and witty program, and the garden party came to a successful close by the singing of the National Anthem.

THIRTY-TWO KILLED IN WRECK

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Sept. 19.—There has been a disastrous wreck on the Mexican Central railroad. A freight train and a passenger train came into collision at Encarnacion, near the city of Aguascalientes, and it is reported that thirty persons were killed and many injured. The passenger train was the regular El Paso express, which left that city Tuesday.

No train from the United States has come in today over the Central, but one is expected tonight.

It is impossible to get further details of the wreck at this moment. The railroad officials here admit that the wreck had occurred, but refuse to talk of the matter.

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Sept. 19.—Aurthentic reports received here say that thirty-two persons were killed and thirty-three sustained injuries. There are no prominent persons among the killed or wounded. It is said that the Pullman cars are not badly damaged. The two engines and some first, second and third class coaches of the passenger train were demolished. The disaster is thought to be due to the engineer of the train disregarding orders.

BULLET LODGED IN YOUNG LADY'S LEG

What came near being a fatal shooting accident occurred Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Marjorie Knight, the sixteen year old daughter of L. B. Knight, King street east, was out shooting at New River, near Musquash. In some mysterious manner the gun went off, sending a bullet into the fleshy part of Miss Knight's leg.

Miss Knight, who is exceedingly fond of gunning, has been spending a few days at her father's summer residence at Musquash. During this time she has enjoyed herself by fishing and gunning. On Wednesday afternoon accompanied by a small boy, she took her gun and started in a rowboat up the New River. While rowing around the gun in some unexplainable manner went off, sending a bullet into Miss Knight's leg. Although both Miss Knight and the boy were badly frightened, yet they showed remarkable pluck and rowed to the shore, and the boy went for assistance, and in a few moments a number had gathered around the unfortunate girl, who was taken to Dr. Reynolds at Lepreau.

He dressed the wound.

During all this time Miss Knight showed remarkable courage, and even assisted the doctor in probing for the bullet, which, however, he was unsuccessful in finding. A telephone message was then sent to this city telling of the accident, saying that Miss Knight was about leaving at that time, and asking her relatives to accompany her in Carleton. Upon arriving in Carleton on the Shore Line she was met by her brother, who took her to her home on King street east.

At the time of the accident both Mr. and Mrs. Knight were in Fredericton attending the exhibition, and on returning home Wednesday evening on the late train were shocked to hear of the accident, but at the same time were thankful to learn that it was not more serious and that their daughter was then resting comfortably. Inquiries at Miss Knight's home yesterday said that Miss Knight was resting quite easily and that no dangerous results were expected.

AMUSEMENTS

Queen's Rollaway

Tonight is "ladies' night" at the Queen's Rollaway. Gentlemen will please remember the usual rules in force tonight. The Friday "ladies' nights" are increasing in popularity as the size of the crowds testify.

The Roller Craze

Roller skating is all the rage now in New York and London. In fact it has become so popular that the skaters through the streets, avenues, and boulevards that are paved, from 7 until 10:30 every evening, and the places ring with their merry laughter and the roll of skates.

This healthy pastime is fast becoming popular here, and at the Victoria rink nearly every evening, but more particularly on Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays, a crowd of young people enjoy themselves to the fullest extent.

Last night No. 556 drew the ladies' door prize, and No. 761 caught the gentlemen's.

Nickel Has New Pictures Today.

The programme for the end of the week at the Nickel Theatre, which will be shown for the first time at noon today, is a varied one and introduces a number of new features as follows: The Robber Robbed, being a ludicrous situation of a professional burglar and second-story man, who enters the apartment of a fellow thief and robs him of some of the goods the other fellow has just stolen. The picture ends with a general mix-up of police and culprits. The second picture is entitled A Starring Artist, and certainly ingenious photographers have made this a very funny feature. The poverty-stricken painter finally conceives the idea of producing such realistic pictures of food, etc. that his hunger is appeased, and when the police arrive to arrest him for theft he paints a look on the door and a bear trap on the floor with the colored result.

Life in a South African Gold Mine is really the most interesting picture of the lot, and depicts the Chinese and South African natives at their arduous task, introducing all phases of mining as it is done in that great gold region. This long programme is completed with a screamingly funny film, entitled The Boarders Object To The Actor.

This afternoon Miss Felix will sing Starlight, and this evening Mr. Brown will render Capt. Baby Bunting Of The Rocky Horse Brigade. Orchestra music at night.

Happy Half Hour

The large crowds that were present at The Happy Half Hour yesterday certainly enjoyed themselves. If laughter is any indication, and they witnessed an exceptionally good bill. The pictures are five in number, and are with one exception comedy. Little Tich is a very funny picture and shows a famous French Vaudeville artist doing his act. The actor is only a child in size, but his cleverness and the amusing antics he does keep the audience in a constant laugh. The Rival Sisters tells the story of two sisters—one young, the other old—who both love the same man. Naturally he favors the youngest, but the eldest plans revenge. The lover and his beloved plan an elopement; the eldest learns of it, and takes the younger on a place. The expression on the man's face when he discovers his mistake is worth the price of admission. The Yawver is a treat from start to finish. Everybody he meets yawns and many in the audience were yawning, and couldn't help it. Tommy at Play shows one of those little dears(?) who are always playing tricks of every kind, and on everybody they meet. Modern Painters is one of the handiest, and at the same time the most mysterious pictures ever seen here. The picture is a beautiful hand-colored one, and to see the two artists create beautiful pictures and living girls out of squares of paper with the aid of a brush the size of a chiveawash brush was certainly in-
