His impression was a most New Brunswick conference for 34 years ram, forced an entrance into the bank favorable one. Among these members was Rev. W. G. Sipprell, president of of E. M. Another fact that impressed New Brunswick's representative was the magnitude of the work under the care of these western brethren, who are familiar with its every detail, and it was an eye opener to him in coming into contact with them and realizing the possibilities of that great country Good Friday was spent in Toronto,

Will Consider. Address of the Governor General on Monday at the Toronto Club Dinner. "It is impossible not to feel most grateful for the reception you have given me. Although I paid three visits to Canada before I came here last December as the representative of the king, I cannot claim to have as yet any intimate knowledge of your requirements, ideals and prospects. I have often travelled in the car of my continent, and it has long been my conviction, after close consideration of the facts and potentialities of your country, that there is no reason why before the end of the present century you should not excel the United States in everything that goes to make a great, a happy, a prosperous and a high-souled nation. My first experience of the huge vastness of your tergraphic manner. I had hardly arrived at your federal city when I was askbetween Dawson City and Ottawa, and I reflected then that the town from which the challenging team had travelled was a great deal farther away than any part of England in which I have lived.

CANADA'S FUTURE GREATNESS. "It is difficult for anyone-even for native-born - to adequately appreciate the vastness of the dominion, and when one realizes that a continuous rich belt of land, several thousand miles wide, stretches from the Atlantic to the Pacific, no man, howeve bold an imagination he may have, can venture to set a limit to the horizon of your future greatness. It is still more difficult to measure the prosperity which awaits you when you reflect that the laws of nature have decreed that the country which exists nearest the northern limit of production has been blessed with an inherent virtue which enables it to produce the best fruits, the hardest careals and the finest and most strenuous men that can be found on earth. It is a well-esthe duration of the armament of a tablished fact that Canadian-grown modern British fleet in a manner apples nearest the limit of production which, if the facts given should be subare finer in quality, better in flavor stantiated, is calculated to cause a and last longer than of the United Kingdom do not complain, and do not think when I state this fact that I am finding fault with the attitude of Canade. It is recognized in England that, although you do not as yet contribute to the cost of the imperial fleet, you are contributing to the empire in many and different ways. It must not be forgotten that your population of six millions is spread over a country the size of Europe, and is busily straining every nerve in laying securely foundations of a magnif cent future. That you should have reclaimed so large a part of this mighty continent from the wilderness, and by your spirited railway and steamship enterprise been able to make Canada the natural route between England and Japan and between England and her great Australian colonies; that you should have given the lead in your preferential postal arrangements and your cable subsidies, with the object of binding the component parts of the empire closer together, is to have ernor general on Monday at the To-ronto Club dinner: HALIFAX AND ESQUIMALT DE-

FENSES.

"I have read with delight the notices in the press which have welcomed the decision of the dominion government to assume the whole respon imagination over your magnificent tional self-respect would have been lowered if you had not assumed the whole responsibility of these two important posts, and if you had not resolved that you would do your duty to the empire by keeping them in the highest possible state of imperial efficiency.

"It is sometimes said by the detract ors of Canadians that they are more apt to think of what the empire can ritory was brought home to me in a do for Canada, than of what Canada can do for the empire. I believe this to be just as great a libel upon them ed to face the puck at a hockey match as to say that the prevailing sentimen in Canada is not. 'What will Canada do for Canada,' but 'What will Canada do for me?'

"I stated that I had not yet had an opportunity of making myself acquaint ed with more than a small portion o your great dominion, but I have enjoy ed the signal advantage of making the acquaintance of the greater number of your senators and members of parlia ment. Those I have seen have given me a most interesting and satisfactory account of the countries and territor ies and of the people they represent They all tell me that they do not know, within the area of their constituency, of such a thing as real poverty and while there is no poverty, neither is there great wealth concentrated in undue proportion in individual hands suh as that which perplexes and alarms the people of the United States. Judg ing from the reports, there appears to be throughout Canada an evenly diffused prosperity and contentment, and I feel, after a morning's talk with your parliamentary representatives, that Canada is the incarnation of the Arcadia which I had formerly believed had only existed in the regions of mythology.
