

RUSSIA'S LEADERS GROPPING BLINDLY JUST NOW

RUSSIA HAS OVERDOSE OF SOCIALIST REFORM IDEAS

Charles R. Crane of American Commission to that Country Describes Russia as Facing a Long Period of Trial and Inner Chaos.

NO IMMEDIATE PROSPECT OF CLEARING UP SITUATION SATISFACTORILY

Says United States Can Do Much and Must Do Much to Get Nation on Its Feet and Enable It to Resume Proper Participation in the World Struggle.

Stockholm, Sept. 25.—Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, a member of the American commission to Russia, who spent two days in Stockholm, on route from Petrograd to England and France, describes Russia as facing a long period of trial and inner chaos, and to be suffering from an overdose of exaggerated modernism in socialist reform ideas. Russia's many leaders, he declares, are groping blindly for a way out of the present troubles but are inspired by a sincere desire and intent to find a satisfactory solution and to bring Russia to her proper place among her present allies.

Little Hope For Betterment.

Mr. Crane sees no immediate prospect of a clarification of the situation. He thinks some time may elapse before Russia gets on her feet again and takes any vigorous part in the prosecution of the war, but he believes much can be done, and must be done, by America to help her regain her footing and assist her towards reaching a position whence a move can be made forward toward the goal which these leaders have in view.

Mr. Crane remained in Russia after the departure of the rest of the Elhu Root commission, studying development and conditions and conferring with the present leaders. He was in Petrograd when the struggle between Premier Kerensky and General Korniloff came to a head, saw the outcome and effects of that conflict, and, therefore, is able to picture the Russia of today, which is not the Russia of yesterday and far less the Russia of the days of the Root commission.

The process of tearing down and of discarding, Mr. Crane believes, has not yet come to a pause. Some time may elapse before a positive reconstructive process can begin to show results, but he sees no reason to lose hope in Russia.

He says that the Russian situation is a complex one, and that the Russian people are in a state of confusion and despair.

REICHSTAG'S
PEACE MOVE
CRITICISED

National Liberal Party of Germany Adopts New Platform—Says Germany's Future Must Be Founded on Germany's Might.

Berlin, Monday, Sept. 24, via London, Sept. 25.—The national liberal party committee of the National Liberal Party in general session yesterday adopted a resolution outlining the attitude of the party in regard to current foreign and domestic issues. In the new platform, which was adopted unanimously, the Reichstag's peace resolution of June 19 is roundly scorned as inimical to Germany's future development. The resolution continues:

"Germany's future security cannot rest on international treaties alone. It must be founded on German might and strength. Without ample war indemnities, Germany would not be protected against future menace and our political and economic development would be retarded by decades."

Military Situation.

"The military situation gives us the surety that Germany's borders are receiving ample protection and that our economic future as a result is fully safeguarded."

The resolution opposes the introduction of a parliamentary system, but calls for confidential and intimate co-operation between the government and the Reichstag. It also opposes the introduction of a parliamentary system, but calls for confidential and intimate co-operation between the government and the Reichstag.

Addressing the committee, Dr. Gustav Strausmann stated that in the present excellent military and political situation Germany was prepared to begin peace negotiations. The submarine, he asserted, was the deciding weapon. At the outset of the war, British tonnage compared with Germany in the ratio of five to one. England was now compelled, he said, to carry on the war with stop watch in hand. Her rank as a maritime power had been shattered and if she decided to go on, the United States would force her to make peace.

IS MISTAKEN FOR MOOSE
AND KILLED

Joachim Daigle of St. Charles, Kent Co., Victim—Samuel Kingston Held—Fatality in Victoria County.

Special to The Standard. Richibucto, Sept. 25.—Shot and instantly killed was the fate of Joachim Daigle of St. Charles who was hunting last evening in the Kouchibougué woods near the Halfway house on the Richibucto-Chatham road. The man who fired the fatal shot in Samuel Kingston of Kouchibougué. It appears that two parties, Joseph Daigle and Joachim Daigle, brothers, and Samuel Kingston and Thomas Graham, a brother-in-law, were out hunting big game between six and seven o'clock. As Kingston and Graham were passing along the road they saw what they took to be a moose going through the second growth bushes. Here Kingston fired and Joachim Daigle fell dead, shot through the neck.

At the time the Daigle brothers were together walking, one behind the other. Joseph was in the lead and the first intimation he had of other hunters was a flash and the report of a gun.

Shouted Warning.

He shouted to warn parties, being unaware at first that his brother-in-law in the rear had been shot. Observing that his brother had apparently stopped he turned around and was horrified to see him lying on the ground.

He hastened to his side only to find he had been instantly killed. When Kingston and Graham learned what had happened they were horror-stricken.
