Mississauga firm set to publish auto magazine

A Mississauga firm has received approval to go ahead on the publication of a national motorsport magazine to be headquartered in Mississauga.

Wheelspin News Inc. of Universal Drive has completed an agreement with the Canadian Automobile Sport Clubs (CASC) to produce that organization's publication beginning January 1. The new magazine, to be called Autosport Canada, will appear in mid-February.

The CASC is the governing body for road racing and rallying in Canada and its 7,500 members will form the nucleus of the magazine's circulation, although the magazine will be available on national news stands and by direct subscription.

The company also produces the auto racing tabloid newspaper Wheelspin News, now in its tenth year.

Editorial emphasis in Autosport Canada will be on road racing, rallying and the new generation of small cars that have changed the face of transportation in the '70s, Editorial Director Doug Mepham advised.

"While there will be some overlap between the two publications, they will not be duplicate magazines by any means," he added.

CASC Executive Director Bob Hanna of Grenville Dr., Mississauga, announced the appointment of the firm as publishers of the CASC magazine. "We're very pleased to be able to work with Wheelspin News Inc. on what we feel will be a fine magazine," he said.

"Our first priority will be Canadian racing and rally activity," said Paul Ogden, Managing Editor of the new magazine. "We think the country is ready for a first quality publication like this. The market is strong and growing all the time. Road racing, rallying and the people who follow the sport have arrived in Canada and Autosport Canada will reflect that sophistication."

IMPORTANT CHANGES
EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1st, 1975

Your Canada Pension Plan

Here's good news... for CPP contributors—their surviving spouses and dependent children

Recent changes to the Canada Pension Plan will result in substantially increased benefits for 1975 and subsequent years. There are other important changes, too. Some affect people over 65 or approaching that age. Others provide equality for the spouses and dependent children of male and female contributors. These changes may require prompt action or getting advice. So we suggest you read this message very carefully.

1. Retirement Pensions
Have you contributed to the Plan at any time since January 1, 1966?

Are you between 65 and 69?
Then you have a choice. Apply now and start receiving your monthly CPP retirement pension. No more need to retire to collect benefits. (Once you start receiving your pension, however, you can't make further contributions to the Plan.)

OR
Continue to contribute to the CPP and possibly build up a larger retirement pension to commence at a later date. Continuing to contribute is also a way to qualify survivors for benefits if you have not already done so. (When approaching age 70, you should consider applying for your retirement pension because after 70 you may no longer contribute to the Canada Pension Plan.)

NOTE: Before making your choice you may wish to seek advice from the nearest CPP office. The staff will be pleased to help you.

Are you approaching age 65?
If you have made your choice and want your CPP retirement pension to commence as early as possible, you should apply two or three months before your 65th birthday.

NOTE: There is no provision for retroactive payment of retirement pensions between the ages of 65 and 69. So if you're in that age group or approaching it, get advice as soon as possible.

Do you now receive a CPP retirement pension?
As of January 1st, 1975, your pension will no longer be affected by any money you earn thereafter.

2. Equal Protection for Males and Females.

This means that for female contributors, in addition to being eligible for a retirement pension and disability protection for themselves, and a death benefit payable to their estates, as has been the case in the past, their spouses and dependent children are now eligible for benefits as follows:

Benefits for Surviving Spouses
A monthly pension payable to the widower who at the time of the death of the contributor is over 35 years of age, or under 35 years of age but is disabled or has dependent children; that is, a benefit similar to that which has always existed for widows.

Benefits for Orphans
A monthly benefit payable to unmarried dependent children under 18 and to unmarried dependent children between 18 and 25 attending school or university on a full-time basis.

In order for survivors to qualify, the contributor must have died in January 1968 or later and must have contributed for the minimum contributory period, which is three years for deaths occurring before January 1, 1975.

Benefits for Children of Disabled Contributors
A monthly benefit payable to unmarried dependent children under 18 and to unmarried dependent children between 18 and 25 attending school or university on a full-time basis, where the contributor concerned is in receipt of a CPP Disability Pension.

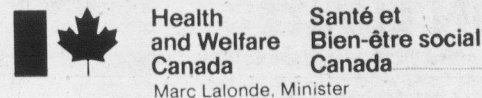

NOTE: In all cases, it is necessary to make application for benefits. If such applications are approved, payments can only be made currently—that is, from January 1, 1975. No payment can be made for any period prior to that date.

MAXIMUM MONTHLY CPP BENEFITS

Effective January 1975

Retirement Pension	$122.60
Disability Pension	$139.35
Surviving Spouse's Pension—under 65	$88.31
Surviving Spouse's Pension—over 65	$81.67
Orphan's Benefit	$37.27
Disabled Contributor's Child's Benefit	$37.27
Death Benefit (Lump Sum)	$740.00

Other Changes:
The earnings ceiling—that is, the maximum amount on which contributions can be paid and on which benefits can be calculated—is being raised to $7400 in 1975 and to $8300 in 1976. The initial amount of earnings, on which you are not required to contribute, will be $700 in 1975.

travelled to Glenforest and more than doubled the count on the Gryphons 45-22.

MIDGET

The only midget basketball meeting saw Central Peel Centurians hand visiting Mayfield Mavericks a 39-27 setback.

Centurians' scoring was relatively spread out with the victory being attributed to their stingy 2-1-2 defense and the thievery of Eddy Demme under the backboards.

Ricky Tonetti was the top Maverick shooter with 12 points and Bob Brewster was next with six.

Junior and midget basketball gets into full swing on January 7th after all teams enjoy the holiday break.
