

323. Every convict shall take the greatest care of books drawn by him from the library; he shall take care that they are not torn nor defaced, nor otherwise injured, while in his possession; he shall not be permitted to receive any book from another convict, nor to give a book to any other convict, but shall, when he has finished reading any book drawn by him, return the same to the library on the first exchange day thereafter.

324. All convicts who upon their reception into the Penitentiary, declare themselves to belong to the Roman Catholic Church, shall be placed under the spiritual charge of the Roman Catholic Chaplain; all others shall be placed under that of the Protestant Chaplain.

325. A convict who is sent on a message from one part of the prison to another, shall show his pass to every officer, whom he meets or passes on the way should the officer require it. He shall deliver up the pass to the officer from whom he received it on his return.

326. Should he be found away from his work without a pass, he will be liable to punishment.

327. When the cell of a convict is changed, the convict shall carry with him the Bible, Prayer Book, and other Books at the time in his possession.

328. Every convict who is seen within twenty feet of the enclosure of the Prison grounds, shall be liable to punishment.

329. The remission of sentence authorized by the Statute, shall for every month be such as the Warden may determine according to the good conduct and industry of the convict. But no remission shall be allowed until after the expiry of the first six months of imprisonment.

SURVEY BOARD ON UNSERVICEABLE ARTICLES.

330. The Chief Keeper, the Storekeeper and the Steward, or such three officers as the Directors may name, shall form a Board, whose duty it shall be to determine, whether an article which has been in use is unserviceable or not.

331. Officers in charge of departments shall be held responsible for every article given to them, until it shall have been condemned by the Board as unserviceable.

332. When an article in use in a Department has become in the opinion of the officer in charge unserviceable, he shall send the article to the Storekeeper with a description thereof in writing, and the Storekeeper shall notify the other members of the Board of a day and hour convenient for them to assemble, to pronounce their judgment thereupon.

333. The Board shall determine whether the article should be repaired, used for any other purpose, sold, or declared condemned, and lay their decision before the Warden.

334. They shall keep a record of all articles submitted to them, and of their proceedings with regard to them.
