Dear Mr Meighen,-

My school days ended Nov 5th 1895, shortly ^{after} my fifteenth birthday, because of the pressing necessity of earning money. Fortunately my education did not stop then as I have been fond of reading since childhood. Of all the books that I have read none is prized as highly as your "autographed" Unrevised and Unrepented. Only a M. Gratton O'Leary could write the Foreword for it. I wholeheartedly subscribe to everything that he has written about you and your career.
Therefore, with gratitude and sincerity, I send you cordial greetings on this your eighty-fifth birthday and express the wish that you will have health and happiness many more years

Yours truly

Leone
