Contractor John Gibb, is building a new bridge over Bear Creek. Dover. Yesterday while carrying planks one of the workmen slipped off the framework of the bridge and fell into the creek among some timber. The man's leg was broken by the fall.

This morning Mrs. Carr appeared before Judge Bell to elect trial on the charge of perjury. She chose trial by Judge Bell. The date of the trial was not fixed but Mrs. Carr was let out on her own recognizance and $75 in cash.

Thos. Kime says that he noticed 13 cars of sugar beets on the G. T. R. siding recently. The beets were in transit from Wallaceburg to Ann Arbor. The sample was very poor and Mr. Kime considered the beets very small due to the dry season this year.

All Eye Pains
Mean Something

Everything isn't right. What it is that is wrong can only be revealed by a careful examination by a competent optician.

We examine eyes carefully—and fit glasses accurately. Call and let us test your eyes. Maybe there is not the least thing wrong with them—but it's a good thing to know that there isn't. And it's a good thing to know that there is. It may seem slight—probably it is slight—but a little right treatment at the right time will save you any amount of annoyance at some future time.

Better let us examine your eyes, it costs nothing.

TRIFLE MIXED

Richard Slagg May Have Looked It But He Wasn't Really in the Camera Business.

Richard Slagg acknowledges being a baker and has some suspicion that he knows one or two things about the duties of a fireman, but as for being a photographer—no one, he thought, would ever accuse him of knowing anything about that business. Yet such are the queer tosses of fate that Mr. Slagg came near being attacked recently for the crime of being a picture taker. The popular maker of cakes and things has no general objection to a man calling him almost anything, and in his day he has been named under many non de plumes, but this was the first time he had ever been accused of a knowledge of photography.

It happened thus: Mr. Slagg was out on his front verandah with a lantern fixing the stove. A wedding was taking place just opposite and the children of the neighborhood were watching the upstairs window and admiring the bride, who was putting on roses—and things. The lads of the neighborhood were enjoying a little fun, making it interesting for the occupants of the wedding residence.

Suddenly a man came across the road in leaps and bounds and, as he saw him come, Mr. Slagg's heart kept company with the actions of the stranger, as he feared lest his boy had been a party to the annoyance caused to the people in the residence where the marriage was about to be. The stranger came right up and thus addressed the man of cakes and cookies:

"Blankity, blank you, are you trying to take a picture of the wedding? We won't have it done," continued the irate wedding guest, who thought he had discovered a kodak fiend, "and (pointing to the stove) you can just take your camera inside."

Mr. Slagg explained everything satisfactorily, but the joke was too good to keep, and if anybody mentions photographer to Mr. Slagg now he breaks out into a broad smile.

BOY INJURED

Ran Away from Home and Jumped from Moving Train.

A boy named Millerton, whose father lives in Dresden, ran away from home some time ago, and Wednesday evening was stealing a ride from Windsor intending to go to Buffalo on the M. C. R. on the tender of the car. When passing through Tilbury at full speed the engine was taking in water and in some way he was sprinkled. He thought that one of the train men had doused him, so he jumped off. He fell right on his back, fracturing his skull and severely lacerating his head. He was attended by Dr. Sharp, of Tilbury, until yesterday when he was brought in to the general hospital, where he was transferred to Dr. McKee's care. The boy claims ill-treatment by his father as a reason for running away from home. On a previous occasion he ran away from home and slept in a barn, freezing one of his legs to such a degree that amputation was necessary. Since then he has had to wear a peg leg.

BRUSH FIRE THE CAUSE.

James Innes, of the Sutherland-Innes Company, has returned from Sycamore, where he has been investigating the recent fire. He reports that the damage to the company's property is slight. The cause was a brush fire which spread to the company's property.

If the wind had not changed the whole of the property would have been destroyed. As it was only one shed, a car loaded with wood and one empty box car, were burned.

STOLE HALF A MILLION.

London, Friday, Oct. 25.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Monte Carlo reports a robbery at the Casino there of $400,000 through the collusion of croupiers and clerks, a dozen of whom have consequently been dismissed. No arrests have been reported.

POPE'S DEATH IS NEAR.

Rome, Oct. 24.—The Vatican officials are offended by an article that appeared in the Paris Relai, which declared that a coadjutor to the Pope was necessary owing to the decrepitude of the Pope which places him absolutely under the influence of Cardinal Rampolla, the Papal Secretary of State. Nevertheless, it is rumored that the Pope will never again be able to perform any independent act, and that his life is preserved solely by Dr. Lippini's extraordinary care of him. It is said that His Holiness is subject to continual fainting fits.

BOUGHT QUEEN'S PORTRAIT.

London, Friday, Oct. 25.—The report is confirmed that King Edward has bought Constant's great portrait of Queen Victoria, which will be hung in the dining-room at Windsor Castle. The picture was exhibited at the Academy in 1900. It was originally purchased by the London Illustrated News from which paper his Majesty bought it.

Mrs. Josephine White, charged with the murder of her husband at Brantford, gave evidence in her own behalf yesterday. She was overcome in the box during her cross-examination and the court adjourned. She will again go on the stand to-day.

"School libraries are a good thing, and of great benefit to the public school scholar," said a prominent citizen to The Planet this morning. "Parents should do all in their power to encourage and maintain the libraries."
