

PREPARATION FOR WORSHIP.

There are many uses to which a church may be put, but certainly none of them is that of a conversazione. Hence, the whispering and chatting that go on before service is not the preparation that one should make for the act of worship about to be engaged in. If one totally unacquainted with Christianity and its forms of worship were to be present in some of our churches for the first time, he would be excusable if he made the mistake of supposing that the words, "The Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him," referred to the clergyman who has just entered the chancel and uttered them—so often is it that only his entrance produces the silence that is reverent.

The heart cannot be very sincere in the worship of God which draws the line so sharply between the conventional inquiry and chat of the day, and the solemn act of worship which often begins with the words, "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditations of my heart be always acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength and my Redeemer."

—During a big thunder shower little Willie, who slept up stairs alone, got scared and called his mother, who came up and asked him what he was frightened about. Will admitted that the thunder was too much for a youngster who slept alone.

"Well, if you are afraid," said the mother, "you should pray for courage."

"Well, all right," said Willie, an idea coming into his head, "suppose you stay up here and pray, while I go down stairs and sleep with pa."
