Canada's Ability to Supply Allies With Ammunition

London, June 13.—General Bertram's statement concerning the ability of Canada to produce ten fold the amount of munitions being made at present is supported by Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who points out that Canada is already supplying more shells than all the British manufacturers grouped together, and yet this is not up to ten per cent. of her capacity output.

W. W. Butler, Vice-President of the Canadian Car Company, who has postponed his return to Canada, has made proposition to the War Office, that the latter should where necessary, purchase plants for the Canadian manufacturers and sell after the war if desired. This course has already been adopted in England.

Mr. Butler has made an offer to the War Office to supply between 2,000,000 and 5,000,000 shells, delivery to begin in ninety days, at a minimum rate of 400,000 shells a month.

The appointment of J. P. Morgan & Company by the Government as purchasing agents in America is criticized by Mr. Butler who has encountered opposition from that firm to Canadian war contracts.

We can secure Germany's position on the continent of Europe only if we succeed in smashing the Triple Entente, in humiliating France, and giving her that position to which she is entitled. Every unprejudiced man must have arrived at the conviction that Germany's further development as a World Power is possible only after a final settlement with England.—Bernhardt.

CAN TURKEY QUIT THE WAR?

Feeling in Rome That Soldiers and People Have Had Enough of it

Rome, June 12.—Ever since Italy declared war against Austria, and in a sense, war also against her ally, Germany, Turkey, the illustrious partner of the "kill or conquer" policy of Potsdam, has realized the hopelessness of her position. Dismay has seized the governing party of Young Turks in Constantinople. They feel that the hour of retribution is at hand and that they will be asked to pay to the utmost farthing the price of their ill-timed intervention on the side of Germany. From authentic information, it can be stated that the present government of Turkey has enough of the German alliance. It is tired of the war, and ardently desires peace. It has been driven to entertain the possibility of separate peace because it can see no other feasible method of procuring the cessation of hostilities, so far as Turkey is concerned, on any other conditions.

No War With Italy

It is worthy of note that Turkey has not declared war against Italy. Further, it can be stated that Turkey has indirectly conveyed to Italy her intention not to declare war against our ally. This is not so much an ardent sign of friendship for Italy as it is of her early intention of divorcing which has brought her to the verge of destruction and which menaces her integrity, even as a nation. In view of the changed attitude of the Islamic partner of the Kaiser, it is significant that Naby Bey, Turkish ambassador in Rome, and his whole staff are still in this Italian capital. According to information furnished, Naby and the members of the cabinet will remain as heretofore.

A Peace Embassy

In view of the instructions received from Constantinople and which Naby has communicated to the Italian authorities, the latter, while seeking co-operation, have tacitly approved these instructions. Naby, it may be remarked, has already acquired some fame as a peace emissary, for he was a member of the conference in Switzerland which helped put an end to the war between Turkey and Italy. It was said yesterday by one eminently qualified to express an opinion that Turkey is now casting about for a suitable modus operandi for treating with the Quadruple Alliance. Whether any Turkish proposals, informally submitted, and having for their basis the conclusion of a separate peace by the Islamic ally of the central powers, would be entertained by members of the Quadruple Alliance, is a question upon which it can be ventured at this stage to express no opinion whatever.

A Five Per Cent Investment

Rumania has thus far secured 95 per cent of her demands, upon which her entrance into European war depends. In other words, only 5 per cent is between the Balkan nation and civilization, humanity, liberty, etc., etc.—Ottawa Citizen.

Bryan's Resignation

As Viewed By Canadian Press

Ex-Secretary of State Has Large Following

A BIG HOLD ON WEST

Bryan's Hold on Democracy Unique Feature American Politics

The resignation of Mr. Bryan leaves him footless to advocate the principles for which he so readily made a great personal sacrifice. His position will be, and is being, viciously assailed by the great majority of the American press but, nevertheless, the ex-secretary of state is, next to the president, perhaps the most influential figure in the United States. Few realize the tremendous following Mr. Bryan commands in the West and his action must have a very profound effect upon those who have followed him for many years and who have rejoiced in his evolution as a public leader. The hold of Mr. Bryan upon the democracy is really one of the unique features of American politics. He has been defeated in his presidential aspirations only because of the preponderance of electoral votes in the great eastern states and no candidate of his generation has held and increased his following in the face of such reverses as Mr. Bryan has suffered in national elections; indeed, few, if any, could have secured party endorsement and nomination as Mr. Bryan has done repeatedly. Today his following is probably greater than at any other time and while he has declared his political loyalty to President Wilson and his administration there can be no doubt that on the matter which has caused the rupture between the president and secretary a tremendous number of Americans will think as Mr. Bryan does. The people have faith in the honesty and sincerity of the man and this must tell at a time like this. Altogether it is a crisis in national sentiment rather than a crisis in national affairs. Mr. Bryan upholds his peace convictions in a manner necessarily dramatic because of the outstanding nature of the occasion and in a manner which exhibits his confidence in the sanity and support of a vast number of his citizens. There is no question of disloyalty to either party or national interests involved. Mr. Bryan is as patriotic an American as Col. Roosevelt but his patriotism takes a different form in accord with his personal convictions as to what constitutes the best, safest and most humane and effective way of demonstrating his regard for the welfare of the United States. The American Note will be none the less rigidly adhered to because of Mr. Bryan's attitude—a fact of which the ex-secretary is perfectly aware, and whatever action follows will receive the united support of all classes irrespective of personal beliefs. But this does not affect Mr. Bryan's attitude and rightly so. As one of the world's foremost peace advocates his patriotic duty prompts him to seize the occasion as perhaps the most impressive that will ever come to him to exercise his great influence for what he thinks his country's welfare. For that he deserves all honor and sincere respect. Many may differ from him but none can impugn his motive.—Ottawa Citizen.

Italy's King Tells Men of Hardships

King Victor Emmanuel, upon taking supreme command of the Italian army and navy issued the following order: "Soldiers on land and sea. The solemn hour of the nation's claims has struck. Following the example of my grandfather I take to-day supreme command of Italy's forces on land and sea with the assurance of victory, which your bravery, self-abnegation and discipline will obtain.

"The enemy you are preparing to is hardened to war and worthy of you. Favored by the nature of the ground and skillful works, he will resist you tenaciously, but your unshaken ardor will surely vanquish him.

"Soldiers, to you has come the glory of unfurling Italy's colors on the sacred lands which nature has given as the frontiers of our country. To you has come the glory of finally accomplishing the work undertaken with so much heroism by our fathers."

Buck Kilby says the reason women use better language than men is that practice makes perfect.

For Sale! Motor Boat F. P. U.

Built for R. H. Silver, Esq., at their premises, Greenspond, in 1912. Used by President Coaker the last two summers during his Cruise North.

Boat is fitted with a 27 H.P. Fraser Engine, which has given splendid satisfaction. The boat is 40 feet long and 9 feet wide, and would make an ideal mission boat.

She contains sleeping accommodation for four, and tanks for 250 gallons of fuel. Nine-tenths of the fuel consumed by the engine is Kero oil.

The reason for selling is, the boat is not large enough for the purpose she is now used for.

The boat cost about $1800, and is well fitted in every respect. She is provided with sails. She would make a fine boat for collecting bait or for fishery uses.

"Poor Man"

(Life)
 Celestial Page: "A magazine editor, sir, submits himself for approval." St. Peter: "Tell him to wait in the anteroom for a couple of hundred years. Meanwhile, assure him that final rejection will imply no lack of merit in the offering—that he may be turned down for any number of reasons, none of which we'll take the trouble to point out."

Then and Now

Once they said that they longed for "The Day."
 For "A Place in the Sun" they would fight;
 But the day and the sun
 Are now dodged by the Hun,
 And he only sneaks out in the night.
