Brown—German Nuptials.

The marriage of Miss Maude German, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. German of Trenton, to Mr. Brown of Havelock, was solemnized very quietly at two-thirty o'clock on New Year's Day at the home of the bride.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Rural Dean Armstrong, rector of St. George's church, in the presence of only immediate relatives. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for Toronto, Port Perry and other points west, before going to Havelock where they will reside.—Trenton Advocate.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown arrived here on Monday and will reside at the residence of Mrs. Geo. A. Williams. The Standard unites with Mr. Brown's many friends in extending felicitations.

Mr. Peter Steele Killed.

Mr. Peter Steele, Traveling Chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, was killed at Carleton Place on Tuesday. He was boarding a train there, where his foot slipped and he went beneath the wheels, both legs being taken off. He was immediately rushed to the Ottawa hospital, but died from loss of blood.

Mr. Steele's home is in Toronto Junction, where a wife and two children survive him. He was well known in Havelock, having run in here for the past seventeen years.

Coming? When? This season? Where? At the Opera House. What is it? "THE DEACON'S FARM," the latest rural comedy drama, well staged, well played, and full of snap. Look for us, and be sure and not miss us. Havelock, Friday, Jan. 10th. Popular prices.

Arguments of the Liquor Trade.

A Discussion of the Brewers' Newspaper Advertising.

If the arguments against local option presented by the liquor interests in the series of advertisements now appearing in the Globe and in other newspapers are the best that can be offered it is no wonder that trade is left without a friend in the daily journalism of this Province. The emphatic black-faced declaration that "Local Option makes Dives: Local Option makes Drunkards," carries with its own refutation, and involves the liquor traffic itself so inextricably in the making of "dives" and "drunkards" that the wonder grows why an association of business men spends money in making public the compromising confession. It is the liquor traffic that makes "drunkards" for were there no traffic there would be no "drunkards" and helpless victim. It is the appetite the traffic creates and the gain made out of it by its promoters that give the "decent bar" its occupation, and it is that lust for drink and for gain in defiance of public opinion that substitutes the "blind pig" for the "decent bar." Friends of temperance reform should be doubly heartened by the line of defence to which the liquor traffic is driven in the present local option campaign. That traffic has almost no platform advocates left. We do not know of one newspaper in the Province that champions its cause. The advertising columns of most newspapers are open to its announcements as to those of all other legalized business. But no daily journal feels under obligations to the liquor interest beyond the privileges of public discussion in a free country. The best method of promoting temperance reform is an open question in Canada, and prohibition, local option, Government control, high license, low license, and all other proposals are matters for discussion; but certain it is that the bar-room has disproved its right to be regarded as a useful or necessary institution in civilized society. Communities in which public opinion is strong and active in favor of local option would do well to wipe out the bar-room altogether, and they may do it the more deliberately and confidently because of the lame arguments presented by the liquor interests.—Globe.

Wedding Bells.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Darius Green, Stirling on Dec. 23rd, when her daughter, Miss Ethel, was made the wife of Mr. Fred Keller, of Healey Falls.

Promptly at 7 o'clock, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, the bridal party entered the drawing room where a large number of friends and relatives had gathered to witness the ceremony which was performed by Rev. W. Clark, beneath a canopy of evergreens and holly.

The bride who was given away by her uncle, Mr. Jessie Tice, looked charming in a costume of white embroidered point de sprite over white taffeta. She wore the customary veil held in place by orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and roses.

She was attended by Miss Ethel Kellar, sister of the groom, who also wore a dress of point de sprite over silk, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations, while little Miss L. Kellar as flower girl and little Miss L. Green as ring bearer, in white silk dresses, looked very becomingly placed.

Mr. Claude Williams, of Havelock acted as groomsmen. After the ceremony the party assembled in the dining-room where all did justice to the excellent repast. Mr. and Mrs. Kellar left amid cheers and good wishes on the 8.10 a. m. train for their home in Healey Falls, the bride traveling in a black velvet suit, and hat of black velvet with long white plumes.

The groom's gift to the bride was a necklet with a subburst of pearls attached; to the bridesmaid a brooch set with pearls; to the flower girl and ring bearer each a gold tie pin.

The esteem in which the bride is held was shown by the array of beautiful, and costly presents.
