WHAT CANADIANS HAVE DONE

One of the most inspiring passages from the address of M. Viviani's address before the Canadian Parliament has been translated from the Hansard report. Here it is:

"Yes, you Canadians, mingled with English and French troops without distinction of race or distinction of country, under different standards, have shown the same bravery. And let us not forget that in the month of April, 1915, at Ypres, in the north of France, quite close to Belgium, in that region desolated by floods, after the terrible assault delivered by the German soldiers by means of asphyxiating gas—that Germany which has derailed science, and which instead of bringing all its blessings to humanity caused to be cast on all its evils and its crimes—it was the Canadian soldiers who in that terrible day rose up and saved the day. And in many a combat and in numerous and recent victories they have stood firm. We see yet your younger men, alert, agile, courageous, under this colors the first to scale the Vimy Ridge, which had been reputed impregnable. Honor to all these soldiers; let us proudly incline our thoughts before those who fight, before those who suffer, before those who have died. They knew well what they did and why they left your land. They knew well they did not bear their arms merely for Great Britain, or merely for France, invaded and attacked, but with a clear vision fixed upon the sky, beholding a higher ideal, they knew that it was for the holy cause of humanity, of democracy and of justice. And it is under the aegis of these glorious and recent deeds that we have come to visit you."

Preparation are being made for the operation of Newfoundland fishing fleets and curing plants of a larger scale than ever this year. It is the general expectation that an unusually large amount of fish will be exported to the United States, where it is thought that the demand will be greatly increased by the war conditions and the high prices of other food.

Boston Post, May 14th—Lobsters continue plenty in local market. A large consignment arrived yesterday from Nova Scotia in a steamer and several other cargoes are on the way in schooners. Lobsters are low priced at present and judging from the reports of the heavy catch along the Nova Scotia coast the supply will continue to be plentiful for some time and the price will remain low. Dealers report a very heavy demand for crustaceans at present.

According to an advertisement in an other column tonight is the last opportunity to enjoy roller skating at Victoria rink, Digby, for three years. Mr. Walker, the general proprietor, is moving to Kentville, where he expects to get good business for the next few years at least. There were three good years of business in Digby. Roller skating in all northern towns falls off after the novelty wears off and the same thing occurred here. Mr. Walker gave his patrons a good service and their many friends regret to have the family move away, but look forward to their return at some future date.—Digby Courier.

It is at Meteghan that the largest schooner at present under construction in Nova Scotia is being built. She will have a gross tonnage of about 880, and is being built by Dr. T. H. Macdonald and others.
