LINENS, YES LINENS, TABLE LINENS, TOWELING LINENS, FRONTING LINENS, ETC.

Isn't this as good a time as any to get reliable Linens when they're to be got Cheap!
206 King Street never relaxes its purpose to have the Best. All our Linens are imported direct from the manufacturers from their natural home—Ireland.
We haven't any that we can't endorse as the best of their class.
Get Linen that's Linen. Plenty of it that's adulterated with Cotton to cheapen the price, and, of course, shorten the service.
We should have a big trade from housekeepers. You will regret it if you don't see our Linens before buying.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

A Bridge of Stone and Concrete—Personal Intelligence.—A Little of Everything well mixed up.

ADDITION.

Monday, Oct. 6.—Alex. McDonald of the Florida House is buying large quantities of potatoes from the farmers in this section. He ships from Unionville via B. & W. He also wants several car loads of oats for which he will pay the highest price.

Misquith Covey of New York is visiting for many friends in this section.

Wm. Langdon of King St. has leased the farm of Prof. Lewis and is now turning out on an extensive scale, next summer.

Our road contractor is said to be anxious to open his heart and hand to some handsome lady for life. Youth and beauty are the unconditional conditions.

ELGIN.

Saturday, Oct. 5.—We are enjoying the finest weather of the season yet present.

Mrs. M. Baker is very ill, but slight hope is entertained of her recovery.

Mrs. Augustus Coon is convalescing after a long and tedious illness.

Mr. Dwyre is able to get on his feet again.

Elgin has finally had an eloquent C. C. Chisholm and one of our finest girls, Libbie Brown, left for parts unknown, on Monday last week. This was not altogether unexpected, yet no less surprising.

We hear Miss Pennock opened a very fine stock of millinery on Saturday last. As our milliner has taken pains to attend openings in Toronto and other places, we trust she is worthy of patronage.

Phil Halladay and wife have gone on an excursion to New York.

Zeph Sexton has obtained a situation with Chown and Cunningham, Kingston, as traveller, and will soon commence his travels.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Brown have returned from Carleton Place, where they have been visiting.

Mr. Hugh Heron and family, of Chicago, are visiting at Fuller Stevens'.

Mr. Sirell has preached his farewell sermon at Elgin.

WESTPORT.

Saturday, Oct. 4.—The Sutton Home Care Company have been in the town during the present week. They are represented by Dr. Sutton who is assisted in giving fine entertainments nightly in the hall by Mr. Harry Scott, a singer of some repute from Uncle Sam's Dominions.

Senator McLaren in company with some members of his family and a gentleman from Germany, honore our town by quietly dropping in on our midst yesterday. They arrived in the Senator's yacht the "Geraldine." The purpose of the visit we understand is in connection with the phograph taken by Mr. McLeary's fair of this year for outstrip all former efforts.

Some of these gentlemen were allowed to spend a night in the cooler and disgorge their pockets to the small sum of $5 or $10 in the way of fines, but financially increase our township's income so that we could possibly build a more respectable town hall.

The friends of the Presbyterian church have decided in the future to hold a Sunday evening service in addition to the morning service.

Our genial post clerk Mr. Mike Keowny has been succeeded in office by Mr. Shields.

Mr. Wm. Carstairs and Bert Bills intend opening a new marble shop in town in a few days. Opposition is the life of trade.

Wonder what will become of the numerous members of the canine race, that infest our streets, when Dryden's new dog bill comes in force.

Our council has decided that in the future all cows, sheep, hogs and pigs shall not be allowed to parade the streets.

NEWBORO.

Saturday, Oct. 6.—It is rumored that Mr. Horner the wrangler, will give his tent in Westport in a few days.

As the brick kiln is now being burnt the "Boys" are in session to determine who will be called on to contribute to the annual feast. One "Old Tom" who has been chosen as a secret has reported that the boys are busily changing their minds for a few nights and something must be done at once or they will be too high to

THE FRANKVILLE FAIR.

A Great Big Success. More Exhibits, Better Quality, Finer Arrangements, and a Greater Crowd of Visitors Than Ever Before.

Wednesday and Thursday were glorious autumn days, scarcely a cloud was to be seen. Old so's rays were tempered to suit the occasion and as a consequence the Frankville fair of 1890 was a grand success. The halls had been thoroughly renovated, the cattle stalls were repaired and placed in as good shape as possible; the track has been levelled and gravelled in places, a new judges stand had been erected and every officer from the president down to the humblest caretaker vied with each other in trying to make the fair of this year far outstrip all former efforts.
And the members seemed to have caught the zeal of the officers and every available article that was thought worthy of a place in the exhibition was got in readiness and placed on exhibition. The show of cattle, sheep and swine was pronounced to be the largest and best ever on exhibition at Frankville. The horses, mares and colts, stallions and driving horses were all good. The display of carriages was fine. Cole Bros., Row's Corner, exhibited about the same number of carriages that they had at Unionville. B. F. Stewart, Frankville, and Geo. Stratton, Toledo, were also exhibitors of some very fine vehicles. There was a large display of agricultural implements and machines on the ground. Hiseck & Day, Dundas, had three kinds of cultivators and a set of castings, including doors, grates and chimney pieces for sugar arches. In the ladies hall the supply of novelties was simply immense.
In fact there was too much to show to advantage. Fruit, bread, syrup, sugar and honey were all represented.
Grain and vegetables were displayed to good advantage and the quality was fine. A beautiful collection of house plants and flowers added much to the appearance of the hall, the only drawback to this collection being that the light was too poor in the section where they were placed to allow the fine foliage plants to show to advantage. Geo. A. Radd, of Brockville occupied a large space with his collection of hand made harness, his display would have done credit to the largest show. Mr. B. F. Austin, of the Brockville Business College had a corner in the building, when he, with the assistance of a lady typewriter most thoroughly advertised the advantages of his home institution of learning. The genial president mounted on a magnificent Bay charge, his steaming armchair surrounded with a white fringed canopy, was seen there, Mr. Frank, giving the word of command and Mr. E. Kitley Blue knows how, and to their credit be it said, that they paid due respect to the dignity of the chief officer, and obeyed his commands with becoming reverence. As we intend publishing the prize list in full in our next issue we forbear making any comment on who drew the fortunate red tickets.

A copy of the program will be sent to each exhibitor, and any errors or omissions found in the printed list should be at once reported to the Secretary Mr. S. S. Davis, Brockville.

Since the above was in type we learn that the receipts at the gate amounted to over $350, and that the number of entries footed up over 1, 500. This with the money received from new members will place the society in a position to largely increase the prize list for 1891 as well as add to the accommodation to exhibitors and visitors.

was fairly represented. Dairy products seemed to be confined to two or three exhibitions. Horses racing seemed to be the chief attraction and was kept up during the 2nd and 3rd days. The number of fairgoers and gamblers who were allowed to ply their vocation and rob the unwary was a disgrace to civilized country. Any person who attended both fairs must feel proud of the Unionville fair and its management.

from the United States. In horses the show was not up to the mark.
The first prize on draft team being taken by Henry Lee of Lyn, by his fine team, which attracted much attention. As at Unionville and carried off the first prize. The show of implements consisted of plows by the Wilkinson Co., Frost & Wood, and Eric Works, St. Thomas, Corbin's harrow, cultivators and horse hoe by Lyn Ag'l Works and Halls improved Hay carrier. In the hall was a fair display of ladies work painting &c., and the Manitoba exhibit which attracted much attention. Fruit &c.,
was fairly represented. Dairy products
ment.

From our Special Correspondent.
The South Grenville fair which was held on 22-25th was a successful success. The weather on the last two days being all they could be desired.
The exhibits with the exception of roots and vegetables was far behind the Unionville fair. A few pairs of sheep and cattle with a few birds of fairly good quality comprised the show in stock in those classes. There was a good show of poultry, some fine fowl being shown by an exhibitor from the United States. In horses
the show was not up to the mark.
