Rev. Mr. Earl, of Delta, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church on Sabbath last, in the absence of the Rev. Mr. Lawson, who it was announced would exchange pulpits with the pastor, but who was indisposed. The visiting clergyman is a clear and forceful speaker, presenting his thoughts in a highly taking manner.

W. Guy Pickell, who succeeded Mr. Donnally in the Reporter office severed his connection with the office after three weeks trial. He claimed the town was too small for him and the boss thought his head was too big for the job so there were two parties well pleased when he wiped the dust of the office from his feet and made for more suitable and conjenial quarters.

Not many years ago a minister in one of the eastern states, fell, as will sometimes happen, into a difficulty with his choir, which, for some time, prevented their accustomed attendance. At length the choir relented, and appeared, as heretofore, at the usual time of service. The minister most unexpectedly saw them in their places, and n due time, looking very significantly in their direction, arose and read the hymn: And are ye wretches still alive, And do ye yet rebel?

The Gananoque Reporter of last week, says :-- "Dr. W. J. Giles and Miss Minnie Giles, Montreal, and Miss Giles, Brockville, were in town last Saturday morning on their way to Brockville. They had come down the Gananoque River from Charleston Lake, and were going down the St. Lawrence to Brockville, covering the entire distance in a canoe." The Giles' family spent a month at Charleston Lake, occupying "Camp Lookout," the eautiful summer cottage of R. D. Judson & Son.

Who died on Thursday, 22nd August. Mr. Wiltse had been in poor health for over two years and while his death was not unexpected, his decease cast a gloom over a bost of friends and relatives scattered throughout this and other sections. Mr. Wiltse was in his 66th year, and was born on the farm on which he spent his whole lifetime. He was a twin brother of Anson residing in Dakota, and brother of Charles, living down on the Addiso and Frank, now on the staff of the Brockville Asylum. Also of one sis-ter, Mrs. John C. Blanchard, Greenand an adopted daughter, Angeline, are left to mourn the loss of an affection ate husband and father. Mr. Wiltse was a staunch member of the Society of Friends, of the old school, and the funeral, which was conducted at the family residence by Mrs. Verney, of Bloom field, Prince Edward County, (a life ong friend of the family), was held in the manner prescribed by the rules of that body of Christians. Some months ago she had a stroke of paraly sis from which she never recovered and death came to her relief on Sunday, 25th of Aug. She was in her 65th vear and leaves besides her husband, a family of two daughters and four sons The funeral service was held in the Methodist church, Addison, on Tuesday 27th, and the remains were followed to their last resting place by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and relatives.

Dr. Robert Kelly Addison

The footsteps of the old physician of this part of Leeds County will no more resound on the streets of Athens, where for over 45 years, his was a familiar figure. Of wonderful vitality and memoty he made daily trips around town, up to within a short time of his death he was ever ready to engage in conversation and relate experiences and anicdotes of his earlier days. Dr. Addison was born in Halifax, N. S., and removed first to Kingston and then on to Atheus, where he has resided for over 45 years.
