Reports of strawberry blossoms, dandelions, and such spring bloomers reach the office; and these are said to indicate an open winter. Contrary to this, reports are general of an abundance of beechnuts said to portend a long, cold winter. The best sign we know of is that if the present cool weather continues the long winter is certain.

Much interest centers in the parish elections. In Brighton Woodford Craig has entered as a candidate along with E. C. Morgan and E. A. Britton. He is a capable business man well qualified for the duties of councillor and will at least give one of the others a close call, in fact it seems safe to predict his election.

While at work in Sayre's mill on Tuesday John Christian met a painful accident that might easily have proved fatal. He was in some manner caught and jammed in the machinery and when extricated was unconscious. He was taken home and is recovering as well as can be expected.

A cow moose caused much excitement yesterday. It came along the west bank of the river and attempted to cross. Those who saw it could not determine at first whether it was a cow or a bull and many sportsman with rifles gathered to get a shot. But it proved a cow and went unmolested.

On Saturday last the death occurred at the home of John Farley, Woodstock, of Hubert Holmes, a man well known throughout the country and thoroughly respected. "The Quick or the Dead" created the biggest sensation ever caused by a novel appearing in magazine form. To this day there is an incredible demand for the story. Its author, Amélie Rives, now the Princess Troubetskoy, has written a new novel which bids fair to overtop the reputation of its famous predecessor. It is called "Hidden House" and appears in the October Lippincott's.

FREE

Three good numbers—October (containing the new Amélie Rives' story) and the November and December issues with each yearly subscription to begin with the January, 1912 number. Send $2.50 to-day and get fifteen numbers for the price of twelve.

The Chief Seat of Foot Trouble

Nearly all foot trouble is in the toes. The fore part of the ordinary shoe is the chief mischief maker.

It is just here that the "AULTO" and "FREAK" lasts of the "ASTORIA and GOLD BOND" for men come in.

These two lasts, though altogether different in shape and appearance, are so constructed as to allow the entire five toes to lie perfectly flat as they would if the foot was bare. Then the box, the cap and lining are sewn together in such a manner as to prevent undue pressure on the toes and joints, thereby ensuring perfect comfort. All leather.
