BREAKS THE ICE

T. W. Caldwell, elected by the United Farmers—and others—to represent the constituency of Carleton-Victoria, was the first of the cross-benchers to "break the ice" in Parliament and not only he, but his fellow farmer members created a very good impression so Ottawa reports state. Mr. Caldwell stated that he and those occupying seats with him were there not solely in the interests of the farmers, as had been charged, but that they had in view the best interests of the whole of Canada. Mr. Caldwell's speech will be given in full next week.

While our numbers are yet small, we believe we have got a large majority of the people of Canada behind us, and that the government knows we have this bulk of public opinion with us. I believe that at the next election this public opinion will so assert itself that we will be returned to power by an overwhelming majority.

Mr. Caldwell charged that Union government was formed to carry on the war. This duty had been completed, demobilization had been completed and the retirement of the government was long overdue. He charged that the government was not consistent in its tariff policy, that there was little likelihood of the tariff being one of the main issues at this session, and that the government had penalized rather than assisted increased production. "As to economy, I never heard the Union Government accused of that," said Mr. Caldwell.

Mr. Caldwell claimed that the tariff was imposing an unfair burden on the farmer. He cited the case of a Ford car which he said could be bought for $240 cheaper on the American side than the Canadian side of the Maritime boundary. In each case it was the same car. It was absolutely necessary that the farmer should have a cheap car. Mr. Caldwell read extracts from Judge Robson's letter of resignation. These Mr. Caldwell said showed that the creation of the Board of Commerce had not been favorable to production. Yet Judge Robson was a man in whom the government had such confidence that they appointed him chairman of the board.

Mr. Caldwell congratulated the government on having found it necessary to honor his constituency by sending three Cabinet Ministers there to speak during the by-election campaign. The presence of these three ministers, Mr. Caldwell asserted, had increased his majority by thousands of votes. He had entered the field as an independent, pledged to support the measures of either party which he thought were in the interests of the people of Canada at large. The government's opposition to his candidature evidently meant that the Ministry did not intend introducing legislation which would be in the people's interest.

In closing, Mr. Caldwell, said he would not occupy the time of the House, as he found in going about the country that people considered that entirely too much time was being wasted in debating the address in the Commons. "We are not here in the interests of farmers alone," he declared. "We are not here to tear down, but to build up so that the whole world may see that Canada is a little bit of God's own country."

Methodist Children Entertain

The entertainment given by the children of the Methodist Sunday School last Friday evening in the Armory was a very successful affair and was fully appreciated by the audience which was made up of the older members of the church and congregation for whose pleasure it was given. The program consisted of songs, readings and recitations interspersed by the telling of funny stories which were so well told, the audience was convulsed with laughter. The whole program was pleasing and very well given. Clinton Clark was leader and organist. He certainly proved his efficiency along that line. After the program was given games were played and refreshments were passed consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee. Although not as many were present as would have been had the roads been more passable the sum of $13 was realized which the boys and girls gave towards defraying expenses of some added repairs to the church. These young people did all the work involved in this entertainment, themselves and much credit is due them for the earnestness and enthusiasm with which they carried it out. Mrs.

POWERFUL APPEAL OF THE MIRACLE MAN

The Dramatic Power of This Best Thing in the Photo-Drama World is Unquestioned—Superb Orchestral Accompaniment and Matinee for Out-of-Town Patrons—Excursion Rates

"The Miracle Man is Coming" has been on everybody's tongue during the past week. Shown in St. John in January it was acknowledged freely to be the best production ever screened in the province. There seats sold for $1.50—and the house was packed four times daily for four days. This did not satisfy St. John people and last week the same wonderful drama was repeated 24 times—twice each afternoon and twice each evening, and it filled the house every time.

While the scenery, the actors and lighting are all of the very highest class, the really compelling thing about it is its remarkably strong heart appeal. Its first showing was before 1500 criminals at Sing Sing prison, and the warden afterward declared that never in his time had he seen the sin-hardened classes he is in charge of, so profoundly stirred. The story is thrilling from the beginning to the glowing grandeur of the consuming climax, when every spectator is thrilled with the realization that after all the sin and uncleanness of the world, there exists goodness and purity if there is faith.

Soon as it was known that this great dramatic triumph was to be brought to New Brunswick one of our fellowtownsmen not directly interested in the "movies" for profit, but rather looking upon the great invention as a wonderful instrument for good, if properly used, and of high educative value, seized the chance of exemplifying to the local people what is possible in a moving picture. He urged the managers of The Star to secure this great feature and the securing of it was no easy matter. But at last it was arranged so that the big 8-reel feature will be shown at Centreville on March 31, at Hartland April 1 and 2, with an afternoon performance at 3.45 on April 2. This matinee will be for the especial benefit of (Continued on Editorial page)

Shadow Social

A shadow and novelty social will be held in the Star theatre on the evening of March 19 under the management of the G. W. V. A. The ladies and girls will provide baskets containing dainties which will be pleasing to the appetites of the gentlemen. The baskets will not be auctioned off as is customary, but instead the shadow of the person who provided the basket will be thrown upon the screen. This will afford some amusement as the gentleman buyer may think he is getting the basket of the girl of his choice when it may belong to his married aunt or grandmother. Some other features of entertainment are also being provided. Ice cream, soft drinks and candy will be sold in the building. The proceeds of the evening will go to the Memorial Fund of which more will be said in a later issue. H. A. Sippell, 1st Vice President, G. W. V. A.
