FREDERICTON JUNCTION CHURCH.

New Anglican House of Worship
Consecrated Yesterday

Receiving Name of St. Andrews
With Impressive Ceremonies

A Model Edifice in Which the Parishioners Take Much Pride

The new Anglican church at Fredericton Junction was consecrated yesterday, receiving the name of St. Andrews. Throughout the neighboring parishes great interest has been taken in this little church, and contributions came in from all parts of the diocese. On Thursday morning quite a number of visitors came to the opening ceremonies. The clergy present were Bishop Kingston, Canon Roberts, Rev. J. R. DeWolfe Cowie, Rev. H. Montgomery, Rev. J. A. Richardson, Rev. W. Armstrong, Rev. G. F. Scovill and Rev. H. E. Dibblee, rector of the church.

At 10.30 a. m. the consecration service was held, followed by the Holy Eucharist. His Lordship Bishop Kingston was celebrant, assisted by Rev. Canon Roberts and Rev. J. H. Richardson. The bishop preached. After the morning service the visitors were entertained at luncheon by the ladies of the congregation. The service was administered at 3 p. m. to seven candidates. The bishop delivered an impressive address.

Tea was served by the ladies in the public hall.

Evening prayer was said at 7 o'clock. At both of the other services large congregations had assembled, but in the evening the church would hardly hold all who had gathered there.

Rev. J. A. Richardson preached an eloquent and inspiring sermon. The music was very bright and well rendered.

The new church is built of wood, in the modern Gothic style. Both externally and internally it is pleasing to the eye. It was designed by Rev. Scovill Neales of Sussex and built by Moses Mitchell. The interior is finished in natural spruce, trimmed with black ash. Part of the church furniture was donated by private friends. Mrs. Medley gave an altar of quartered oak. The font was the gift of W. Tyng Bagners of Bathurst. Rev. G. F. Scovill of St. Jude's, Carleton, presented the credence table. At the time of the consecration the church was free from all legal incumbrance. Offerings amounting to over $800 were received during the day.

The church cost altogether in the vicinity of $5,000.

TEACHERS WANTED.

Male Teachers of Ability Can Find Lucrative Positions in South Africa.

Dr. Inch, chief superintendent of education, is in receipt of a letter from Mr. E. D. Sargent, director of education for the Transvaal and Orange River colonies, asking whether New Brunswick teachers would accept employment in those colonies. Accompanying the letter to the chief superintendent were a number of blank forms of application, which teachers who would like to follow their vocation in South Africa can obtain from the education office.

Mr. Sargent states that he wants to procure the services of experienced teachers who would be of assistance to him in establishing an educational system in the new colonies similar to that in vogue in New Brunswick. He intimates that the government would be willing to pay the traveling expenses to and from South Africa of men capable of doing organization work, providing they would consent to remain in the country for at least a year. He does not, however, guarantee travelling expenses to all teachers who apply for work and are accepted.

In the blank forms of application, the teacher is to state his name and address, condition of his health past and present, post and approximate salary demanded, length of experience, and knowledge (if any) of Dutch and native languages. The applicant must also state if he has had experience in athletics and whether or not he can ride and shoot, and furnish satisfactory references and testimonials as to his ability to teach.

ON THE DIAMOND

Weather Has Been Much Against the Base Ball Players

St. John Roses Smashed but
Alerts Will Reorganize

Affairs Much Mixed at Halifax, But Will Have Good Team

The weather during the past ten days has been so cold and wet as to effectually keep down the baseball fever in Fredericton. As soon as suitable climatic conditions prevail and the players who are now on the lumber drives return the popular game will likely be taken up in earnest.

St. John Roses Smashed.

The Globe says that efforts are being made to fan the spark of baseball enthusiasm into a flame, but at present the prospects cannot be called dazzling. There seems to be a smash up of the Roses since last season and it is doubtful if many of those who wore the blue last season will play under the Roses banner this summer. But things at present look badly. It is doubtful if Friars, Shannon or Cunningham will be with them this year. The two former talk of accepting diamond engagements elsewhere, and Cunningham, it is understood, wishes to enroll himself with the Alerts.

Mr. Edward Haney, one of the lessees of the Shamrock grounds, is endeavoring to get the Roses together again, and he told a reporter recently that he expects to have as strong a team as ever. This is cheering news and it is to be sincerely hoped that Mr. Haney is not over sanguine. There should be no difficulty reorganizing the Alerts. All the players of last year are now available and it is possible Yapp may come here again. He will come if the Boston club does not hold on to him. Harry Jope not only wants to come, but has written offering to buy an interest in a professional club, if one was started. The Alerts, of course, are anxious to see their old rivals, the Roses, continue for they recognize the fact that the keen local competition makes the games more remunerative.

Halifax in a Muddle.

The Halifax Recorder says: The baseball situation in Halifax, like that in the States, is somewhat muddled. The Crescents and Alerts are both forming teams, while the Wanderers' resolution gives the Resolutes the grounds the holidays and spare Saturday. The champions of the other teams to amalgamate, but to this the latter are not inclined. The Resolutes are not disposed to arrange a series of games with three clubs, as the others agree to play their games on week days. They naturally want some of the other dates, but the Resolutes say they cannot pay the expenses of an imported battery unless they have all the choicest dates. It is to be hoped, however, there will be some way out of the difficulty, as there promises to be a renewed interest in baseball here this season, provided the clubs play good ball.

The Resolutes and Crescents both expect to have foreign teams here during the season; the Resolutes have already about concluded negotiations with the Boston Journal team, who are coming to St. John about the end of July, to extend their visit to Halifax.
