LIQUOR AMONG FOREIGNERS.

Case Rests on What Constitutes an Occupant.

James Waldhof Accused of Receiving Stolen Goods.

Magistrate Does Not Like Gum Chewing In Witness Box.

Inspector Birrell had another foreign er up this morning on a charge of dis posing of liquor without a license Frank Denz, 4 and 5 Steel Plant, was the victim this time. The inspector saw liquor being disposed of on Thursday night, he swore, in No. 4. He saw man and a woman who were not board ers at the house get some of the liquor. The man laid a quarter on the table, and the inspector swooped down on him. W. L. Ross, K. C., for the prosecution, submitted several sections of the act in regard to this. George S. Kerr, K. C., put the defendant into the box, and Denz said that he was the lessee of the property, but neither he nor his family fived there. They ran a store four blocks away and fived there. He said that the boarders had full control of the house, and he only went there once the house, and he only went there once or twice a week. Mr. Kerr argued at or twice a week. Mr. Kerr argued at this point that, not being the tenant, his crient was not liable, as the act clearly provided that the man must be the occupant. Mr. Ross read sections of the act to show that in an unheensed place the lessee could be legally taken as the occupant, even if he was not cognizant of the sale of the liquor and did not live on the premises. The Magistrand these till Thursday.

as the occupant, even if he was not cognizant of the sale of the liquor and did not live on the premises. The Magistrate adjourned the case till Thursday to look into the legal meaning of the word "occupant." Mr. Kerr has the right to call more testimony if he wishes to when the Magistrate gives his decision on this point.

"James Waldnot, 17 Huron street, was charged with house breaking and theft, with the usual rider to the charge in regard to receiving. The complainant was J. T. Hill, grocer, Huron and Sanford, and a young man named William Patterson was found guilty of the charge a few days ago. Waldhof said he was not guilty of theft, but that he had received the goods. He did not know they were stolen till after he had disposed of them. Acting Crown Attorney Martin asked for a remand till Wednesday, which was granted. The defeated whe food to the first he fore the force the for nesday, which was granted. The de-fendant elected to be tried before the If you have any respect for this court you will take that tobacco or gum out of your mouth," said the Magistrate to Jabez Cliff, 278 James street, north, when that individual went into the box to tell his story in regard to a charge of digging up the Gore Park extension lawn. The defendant made a frantic effort to swallow the wad, but failed, and talked with it lying dormant in his cheek for the rest of the time on the stand. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of being disorderly on Saturday right on York street, for which charge he was arrested by Constable Campaign, and he entered a similar plea to the charge of wilfully damaging the park yesterday afterneon. Constable Duffy was the complainant in the last case. The defendant was given the benefit of the doubt in the latter case, but was fined $5 for being disorderly. He kicked a man on York street, according to the evidence.

. TOY WARSHIPS.

In the old world the children of a great imperial and royal house turn naturally to the army or navy as a career from their very earliest years. Thus the German Emperor's ambition for his eldest son is to see him qualifying himself to command, not a regiment or a brigade, but an entire division of 30,000 troops—if not with the skill of a Von Moltke, then at least with the adroitness of any other of the Kaiser's generals, who form the brain power of the mightiest army on earth.

On the other hand, the children of the British royal house gravitate naturally toward the navy; and the Prince of In the old world the children of a great
