The Political Campaign

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Jan. 4.
Every available speaker of both parties as well as a host of minor men were engaged to-night in addressing political meetings in various parts of the country. Premier Asquith at a meeting at Brighton, from which women were excluded, and Chancellor Lloyd George at two meetings in London made a great play at the expense of the Peers' oratorical campaign. The Premier thought that if the Peers could only be induced to prolong this campaign another fortnight at the same rate and volume, the Liberals might also be content to hold their tongues altogether. The Chancellor of the Exchequer expressed the belief that they never worked so hard in their lives. They seemed to think that the House of Commons was an Assembly of lunatics and that the Peers were their keepers. The Peers, he said, were walking through the valley of humiliation in order to find work for the unemployed. The Chancellor also caused laughter by describing his Budget simply a revised and enlarged edition of Kipling's ballad. Cook's sons, Duke's sons and sons of the belted Earl pay, pay, pay. A. J. Balfour, leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons, speaking at Hanwell, said that 1910 would remain in the history of the Empire as the year in which was fought the first round of the struggle which might last for years. Never before had the ideals of the two great states parties been so widely divergent. This tone in Mr. Balfour's utterances on previous occasions has been commented upon as an indication that he realizes the hopelessness of a Unionist victory in the coming elections. The Marquis of Londonderry in an address at Belfast declared that the Unionists would rather occupy the opposition position till the crack of doom than hold office for five minutes dependent upon the Irish vote.

King Albert's Troubles

Special to Evening Telegram.
BRUSSELS, Jan. 4.
Le Soir asserts to-day that the marriage of King Albert and Queen Elizabeth, who was the Princess of Bavaria, was sanctioned neither by the late King Leopold nor Parliament as it is required by the Constitution. The paper insists that the sanction of the marriage by Parliament is imperative. Since the confirmation of Leopold's religious marriage, the Catholic papers seem disposed to raise a threat against the future dynastic issue unless King Albert submit to Catholic influences.

Suffragette Disturbance Results in a Fatality.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LEEDS, Jan. 4.
The first fatality in England to result from a suffragette disturbance occurred to-night, when Alfred Hudson, a postman, died from injuries received during a riot outside the Coliseum, on August last. Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, was addressing a mass meeting inside the building. An attempt on the part of a large force of suffragettes to enter caused a riot in which Hudson was injured internally.

Balfour Sounds Alarm.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Jan. 4.
The Conservative morning papers are making a tremendous display of what they describe as Balfour's solemn warning last night with regard to the Navy and Germany. As a matter of fact Mr. Balfour devoted a great portion of his speech to the navy question. He severely criticized the Liberal Government's neglect to keep pace with Germany's naval progress, and drew an alarming picture of what might happen, if England did not bestir herself.

Big Time at North River

Special to Evening Telegram.
CLARK'S BEACH, To-Day.
There was a big time at North River last night at the opening of the new school hall. The Dalton Council of Knights of Columbus gave a most successful entertainment to an appreciative audience of five hundred people. The Knights, who were enthusiastically received, rendered the various musical pieces—vocal and instrumental—faithfully. The entertainment was a financial success and brought the record receipts of one hundred and sixty-five dollars.

Cook's Polar Data.

Special to Evening Telegram.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.
Dr. Frederick Cook's Polar data is on its way to Washington to be examined by the National Geographic Society. According to information and to Prof. B. Core the documents were started from Copenhagen on December 21st, which would get them to Washington about the end of the week.

Big Financier Dead.

THE MYSTERIOUS NERVES.
How like electricity is the mysterious nerve force which courses through the body controlling the movement of every muscle and the working of every organ. The secret of keeping the marvellous nervous system in health and vigor is found in the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great blood builder and nerve restorative. 1

Legislature Meets in Three Weeks.

The Legislature was convened yesterday for the despatch of business on Wednesday, January 26. As this is the first important session for the present Government to introduce the measures which were foreshadowed in the Premier's Manifesto, an interesting session is assured. The principal measure so far foreshadowed as coming up this session will be a bill to confirm contracts with the Reid Newfoundland Company, on which some discussion has already taken place in the columns of the People's Paper.

Finds a Fortune Hidden for 40 Years.

Looking in Grandfather's Safe, Discovers $30,000 Cash.
Easton, Pa., Dec. 22.—Joseph D. Unangst, a farmer living near Farmerville, about four miles from this city, has unexpectedly come into possession of $30,000.
For a number of years Mr. Unangst has had an old iron safe which was given to him by his father, who in turn received it from his father. The safe was red with the rust of forty years. It was not opened during all these years, as it was not known to contain anything of special value. The door to it was locked, and no key was known to be around that would unlock it. The safe was pushed around from one corner to another in odd places in an old building.
Mr. Unangst decided to get it out of the way and realize something on it, but he thought that before he would let it go out of his hands he would open it and see if it contained any valuables. He tried to open it with keys, but the old-fashioned lock was rusted and held fast.
Finally Mr. Unangst secured an expert at safe opening, and the door was drilled open. It was then found that the few compartments in the safe were filled with money. Mr. Unangst found that the pile contained $30,000, all in gold.
The money is supposed to have been put into the safe by Mr. Unangst's grandfather, who has been dead forty years.
Grandfather Unangst was a farmer, thrifty and economical, and his sudden death is taken as the reason for him not revealing the contents of the safe.

Poisoned Chocolates

Received by Wrong Person and Death Resulted.
Paris, Dec. 28.—The arrest here of a young saleswoman in a department store has uncovered a poison by mail mystery. According to the police, chocolates containing arsenic were sent through the mails to a person who failed to partake of them, but an inoffensive guest, a tenor at the opera, ate several and died a few hours later. The sender of the poisoned chocolates, it is stated, was discovered by pure accident.

Mildred Wins Race.

It will be remembered that on the 7th December last the schrs. Mildred and Maggie left this port almost together for Bahia, and the Dunure and Dorothy Duff left about the same time for Pernambuco. There was much conjecture as to which vessel would win on the run down. We learn that the Mildred took the honors of being first down, the little ship, having reached Bahia Monday last, making the run in the quick time of 27 days. Capt. Wiltshire commands the vessel and this is his first trip in command to Bahia. None of the other vessels are yet reported. We congratulate Capt. Wiltshire.

Fire at Freight Shed.

A fire broke out at the R. N. Co. freight shed last night amongst the packages. The watchman put out the fire with a few buckets of water before the firemen, who were telephoned for, had arrived on the premises. A few hoops were burnt up, but beyond that there was no injury.

$500,000 Fire.

Blaze Started by Explosion in Oil Tank at Brooklyn, N. Y.
New York, Dec. 30.—A fire which threatened to destroy the $200,000,000 plant of the Standard Oil Company in Williamsburg, Brooklyn, was got under control after a ten hour fight this morning. The blaze started with an explosion in one of the 30,000 barrel storage tanks. The watchman turned in an alarm and routed out the emergency night force, which set about emptying the forty other tanks scattered about the plant, which occupies two large blocks. The firemen prevented the blaze from spreading beyond the tank where the explosion occurred. They suffered severely from the cold. Every building in the plant is covered with a heavy coating of ice this morning, the deluge of water poured on by the firemen having frozen as it fell. The loss is about $500,000.

Remarkable Time.

In connection with the landing of the Cunard steamers at Fishguard in Wales, the Great Western Railway of England has put on a new special train to London, which has been making remarkable time. On a record run a train with a total weight of 300 tons was drawn by the new engine "King Edward" from Fishguard to London, 261 miles, at an average speed, including one stop of four minutes, of 61.2 miles an hour.
