The Left Behind Lady.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

On a beautiful holiday morning early in the fall, the kind of day that sounds the call of the road to the dulled ears and sets the wants-to-somewhere fever burning in the most sluggish veins—I happened to drop in on one of my neighbors at about nine o'clock in the morning to ask for the loan of some small article.

My neighbour said she would be more than pleased to lend me the article if I would just make myself at home and wait a few minutes until she got the children off for the day and then she would hunt up what I wanted.

My neighbour has in her household five sons and daughters and one daughter-in-law. Their ages range from 16 to 30. They were all going off on some pleasure excursion for the day, so perhaps you can imagine the excitement that reigned there for the next half hour.

David, the youngest, was off to a neighbouring town to play in a ball game and had to have his mother's assistance in finding his mask at the last moment.

The eighteen year old daughter was bound on an all-day canoe trip and her mother had to help her with the lunch.

The twins had been invited on an auto ride and were asking frantically where their automobile veils were.

The oldest son and the new daughter had hired a carriage for a drive into the country and mother must come to the front door and see what a fine rig they had.

The excitement finally subsided when the twins, who were the last to go, whirled away in a big touring car, and after waving them off their mother came back from the front door and sank rather wearily into the easy chair.

"Now what are you going to do this lovely day?" I asked.

I think the whirl must have tired my friend more than usual for she is always a very cheerful person, but this time her optimism seemed to have failed her. "Me?" she said very wistfully and just a little bitterly. "Oh, I'm not going to do anything. I just see folks off. I'm the left behind lady."

Now those five sons and daughters are not unusually selfish children. They are just thoughtless. It has probably never occurred to them that mothers like to go places on holidays just as much as others folks. Like thousands of other sons and daughters they probably think the older generation stay at home so much because it prefers peace and quiet. They are always on the go themselves, so they have never experienced that let-down, empty, desolate feeling that comes when, after seeing other folks off, you go back into a quiet house.

If young folks would only cease to look at the older people as a separate species, and would only come to realize that after all they have much the same longings for fun and happiness and attention as themselves, and that sometimes they like to be seen off, instead of always doing the seeing off, I am sure the sons and daughters would make a greater effort to include the older people in their good times.

Is your mother "the left behind lady?"

Nature's Way Is The Best.

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, man-drake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherry bark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, thr at, breast, and body," writes Mr. JAMES G. KEENE, of 710 L Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

Criticism of a Judgment at Garnish.

Dear Sir—Kindly allow me space in your estimable paper for a few remarks regarding what is looked upon by all right thinking people of the community, an injustice inflicted on one of our respectable, hard-working fisherman and lobster packer.

It appears that after selling his lobsters and salmon he had packed during the season, one or two cans of salmon were found mixed with the lobster for which he was fined $21 by the Magistrate of Garnish. There is nothing found in the Rules and Regulations respecting the Lobster Fishery to justify such an action. If he had violated any of the above rules, no one would find fault, as he would be doing it contrary to the laws of the land; but in this case it is altogether different, no man would be fool enough to do anything of that kind intentionally, especially as all his cans are labelled with the number of his license.

Who can say the cans were not mixed up by some one else after leaving his hands? It would be easy to do so, as I am informed that the labels fall off very easily, both from lobster and salmon, that being the case it would be very easy to be a salmon label on a can of lobster. At any rate, the poor man should have the benefit of the doubt, and apart from that, the fine was outrageous.

Two cases of the same kind were brought before the Burin Magistrate and he fined them only $5.00 each, and I have no doubt, whatever he knew his business.

I think, Mr. Editor, the authorities ought to be very particular whom they appoint to judge our people. It is hard enough for a poor man to live with a family with all he can earn by the sweat of his brow, not like some, that are willing but a drag on the Government and living on the money that should be put to better use.

Thanking you for space,
I remain dear sir,
Yours respectfully,
OBSERVER.

1912.

Poor old year! He's marked for slaughter, neath his load his shoulders he'd, and we sadly watch him totter feebly to his destined end. Soon, ah soon he will be skitting where Tim's sexton's dig and delve;

'Is near there at this writing—poor old weary Nineteen Twelve! Recently so strong and burly, now we see him weak, decayed, while we do our shopping early in the busy haunts of trade. Soon Time's funeral director this old hoary year will shelve, and he'll be as dead as Hector—poor old crippled Nineteen Twelve! And it brings us somewhat nearer to our own appointed end; and we see now, somewhat clearer, shadows of the dusk descend; and our locks, once bright and curly, now begin to thin and fade, as we do our shopping early in the clanging marts of trade. Now our eyes are somewhat dimmer, and we long to wear a wig, and our legs are somewhat slimmer, while our waists are twice as big, and our briny tears are trooping as we view our double chin, while we wisely do our shopping ere the Christmas rush begins. Let us therefore live correctly, begin fair and just to all, doing all things circumspcctly, ready for the final call; for we may fly off the surface as an ax flies from its helve and be planted where the turf is like the old year, Nineteen Twelve.

Wedding Bells.
TILLEY-BUTLER.

A very pretty wedding took place here on Wednesday evening, December 4th, when Mr. William Butler, of Shoal Harbour, engineer (Reid Nfld. Co.), Bonavista Branch, was united in Holy Matrimony to Miss Nellie Tilley, daughter of Mr. John Tilley, Shoal Harbour. The Rev. S. Bennett performing the ceremony. The bride was attired in a charming dress of white-embroidered silk, and looked very neat and pretty. She was assisted by Miss Flossie Butler, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Myra Thorne, of Thornlea Hotel. The groom was assisted by Mr. W. R. Field and Mr. D. Tilley, brother of the bride. After the ceremony amidst showers of rice the wedding party returned to Thornlea Hotel where a sumptuous supper was provided by the proprietress at which the bride and groom with their friends did justice. After supper toasts and speeches were indulged in. The bride's health was proposed by Mr. Field and responded to by Mr. C. Cox, of St. John's. Dancing then commenced and was kept until midnight. The happy couple then driving to their own home taking with them the good wishes of all their friends. Mr. Butler being a general favourite with his brother employees and with the guests at the hotel where he has been boarding since coming to Bonavista. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome organ and to the bridesmaids gold bracelets. They were the recipients of many useful presents. Bonavista, Dec. 7th, 1912.

Cascarets Cleanse Liver and Bowels.

The Millions of Cascaret users never have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil. This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Downtown note: If the girl is good looking she probably is on her way to the photographer's. If she isn't, she most likely is on her way to the dentist's.
