Edward, Prince Rupert's Industrial Annex

Is the place for your investments. It offers a greater, surer opening than any other place in North America today. Remember the profits made at Prince Rupert! First investors there made as high as 600 per cent, in scores of instances and 300 per cent. was the average. Port Edward is in the same position today that Prince Rupert stood in five years ago, with the additional advantage that the opening of the G. T. P., which will unlock the tremendous treasure house of the Northern Interior of British Columbia is only a year, at most, away.

The sale is now on. Avail yourself of the free literature. Get the facts and then decide quickly. Port Edward is a solid, properly founded industrial centre. Some of the largest industrial enterprises of of the west are negotiating for sites there. Some have already secured sites and are developing plants. The G. T. P. main line traverses Port Edward and the railroad company has already secured a site for its station, sidings, etc. Development is under way. The time to secure lots is NOW.

Port Edward is not a forced enterprise. Prince Rupert, as the G. T. P. itself has admitted, can find no room for the location of further industries along its water front. Port Edward offers the only available location for an industrial annex. Port Edward is immediately adjacent to Prince Rupert, with easy inter-communication assured. It has the finest natural harbor on the Pacific coast, adapted to the building of pier wharves and affording seven times the total docking capacity of Prince Rupert harbor per unit of water front. It has been laid out by expert engineers as an industrial centre of the most modern type. A company made up of some of the most prominent men in the Dominion is behind Port Edward. Its capital is $1,000,000 fully subscribed. A development fund of $172,500 has been established and more than $32,000 of this was expended in the surveying and preliminary development. The entire business section and all streets and avenues on the balance of the townsite have been cleared and 41-2 miles of plank walks have been laid on the principal thoroughfares. A wharf suitable for the landing of passengers, machinery, supplies, etc., is under construction.
