Battle of Southpaws.

The game was a pitchers' battle from start to finish—a battle between left-handed twirlers. Both of the moundmen who started the game heaved the sphere from the port side of their anatomy, and both were very effective. In the eighth inning Calgary got two men on bases by means of errors, and Frink was sent in as a pinch hitter. He failed will be a tangible trophy to play for this year. Last season Fort William won it, but have not yet seen it, although they have threatened more than once to sue the promoters for the shield. They were so anxious to get photographed along with the shield that it was their intention of again entering the competition this year to attempt, even if they did not win it on the field of play, to annex the trophy by more subtle means and keep it for the period of one year, which they claim they are entitled to in view of their victory last year. If this was followed out, it would mean that future winners would always have to wait for one year before they would have the honor of becoming custodians of the trophy the had actually won twelve months before Calgary have wo nthe shield on four Calgary have wo nthe shield on four occasions and have never been defeated in the competition. Ultimately the competition became so mixed and was considered so badly handled that the Callies and Hillhurst would not again compete for it. Then the trouble arose. Although none of the Calgary clubs would play for it, still the shield remained in Calgary and still the farcical cempetitions for the "People's Shield" went on, although in reality there was none to play for Now the remained in Calgary and still the large included competitions for the "Peopie's to President Johnson, of the American leads of the bout to charity: the Score by innings:—

W. Hillton, who has been in Calgary for the past two or three months, has tried hard to get Dr. Ings and Mr. Frank Riley to part with it, and has at last succeeded. The motives prompting these gentlemen to give up the shield have not been ascertained, but Dr. Ings, on more than one occasion, was informed that there was reasonable possibility of a burglary taking place, with the purloining of the shield as the objective, and he has also stated that he was becoming sick of the whole controversy.

The trouble over the bond has evidently been adjusted, and so, in contrast to the last two competitions, there will be a tangible trophy to play for this year. Last season Fort William "smoke ball" star, had no mercy to-day. The game was called at the eighth

AT THE MAJESTIC

This afternoon Luther McCarty, who meets Art Pelkey on May 24, for the heavyweight championship of the world will give an exhibiton of training camp stunts at the Majestic theater. It is to be "Ladies' Day" and the members of the gentler sex are invited to be present, together with their escorts, to witness the exhibition. Luther will go through the entire program of training camp life, including boxing three rounds with his sparring partner, Al Norton. It will be the last chance the public will have of seeing the big fellow in action before the day of the bout.
