—Samuel Crockett appeared before Squire Smyth Saturday on a charge of acting in a disorderly manner in Loudon West. He was remanded until Aug. 4.

—Mrs. Annie Morton and Wm. H. F. Burrows were remanded until next Friday by 'Squire J. B. Smyth, Saturdax, on a charge of threatening to burn the house of Mrs. Marsh, London township. They were found together and arrested.

—The man Dyer, arrested at London, Ont., a few days ago on a letter from Detroit, charging him with not supporting his wife, lived at 33 Mullett street. He was to have been tried at the police court on July 15 for non support, but before that time he skipped to London with Kittie Kramer, a lif-year-old girl, living at 66 Catherine street. As the offense is not one for which Dyer could be extradited, the only way to proceed against him was to prosecute him in Canada. The arrest at London was not made on instructions from Detroit, but at the request of Mrs. Dyer's attorney. Now Mrs. Dyer has not money enough to pay her fare to London, and as the police will not send her there, either the poor commissoner or the associated charities will have to send her, or the case will have to be dropped.—[Detroit News.]

—Friday the authorities made a swoop of the city bakers, from twelve of whom 118 loaves of illegitimate pretensions were seized. The old adage, "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good," was proved in this case, for the appropriated staff of life was transferred to the orphans' homes. Inspector Bell showed the reporter four very plain-looking loaves, stamped 1½ pounds each, although when weighed to be a fraud, as the law provides that all leaves shall weigh 2 pounds each, except Vienua rolls or tancy bread, which
