It is a curious fact that the Curragh of which is a common just outside of the village, is the only piece of real estate in Ireland for which no rent is paid. The goats and cattle eat it as fast as it grows.

TWO MURDERS.

Bloody Work at Holmesdale and Mimico.

A Jealous Husband's Deadly Revenge.

Fatal Sequel to a Drunken Spree—A Hamilton Man Stabbed to Death.

Mimico, Ont., March 24.—A young man named John Wade, whose parents reside in Hamilton, was fatally stabbed last night by John Byron, who resides in Merritton. Both men are employed by the constructors of the new asylum buildings in course of construction a mile and a half west of this place. Wade, who is 23 years of age, was a carpenter, and worked for Dickinson Bros. Byron is an elderly man, about 50 years old, and is employed by Miles, Bunting & Co. The two men had an altercation on the express for Hamilton, that leaves Toronto at 11 c'clock, when Byron, who was drunk, struck young Wade. Wade, not wishing to have any trouble on the train, did not strike back, but told Byron he would have satisfaction. When they arrived here Wade walked away with some friends, followed by Byron. All the parties went towards home, along the rail road track, and just after passing Church street Byron staggered against the murdered man, who at once struck him, knocking him down. Byron arose and rushed at yound Wade with a large knife, burying it in the young man's neck and making a wound about two inches long and very deep. The young man called to a friend who was with him, saying:

"Shorty, I'm stabbed," and when asked where, replied: "In the neck." These were the last words he uttered. His friend took out his handkerchief to bind up the wound, while another of the dying man's companions ran for Dr. Oliver, who was soon in attendance on the poor fellow, who in the meantime had been carried to the waiting room of the Grand Trunk Railway station. The Doctor pronounced the wound fatal and Wade breathed his last a few minutes afterwards.

Constable Hickey arrested the murderer at his boarding-house on the Lake Shore load near here.

THE VICTIM.

The deceased came from Hamilton. He was in his 23rd year, and lived, previous to going to Mimico in August last, with his father, Jas. Wade, carpenter, Cannon street east. John Wade is described as a quiet, inoffensive young man of considerable physical power, weighed nearly 200 pounds, and was well able to take care of himself in a crowd. He had intended to go to Toronto quiet, inoffensive young man of considerable physical power, weighed nearly 200 pounds, and was well able to take care of himself in a crowd. He had intended to go to Toronto for a suit of clothes. The conductor of the train on which the men returned to Minico says there were a number of them in the smoking car, and that some of them were acting disorderly. Another gentleman who was in the car says he saw Byron strike at Wade. Some time ago a man was fined $39 10 for fighting on the train, and this evidently had a deterrent befiet on Wade who said he did not want to be fined $5, that he could thrash any one in the hear, and would be prepared to do it when he left the train. After the men left the train is the train and the did not attempt to escape, but went to the conductor on the platform and told him, they were going to settle the dispute, and expected a lively time.

THE ASSAILANT.

Byron is a married man with a family of eight or nine children, one of whom, a young man of 20, was with him at Mimico. He did not attempt to escape, but went to his boarding-house, where he was afterwards ready arrested by County Constable Graham and lodged in the jail.

R., and about Clair branch of the M. C. R., and about three miles east of Oil City. The following has been learned from a resident of Oil City: It appears that a man named McFadden has not been living with his wife for some time owing to some family difficulty. On Saturday night last it was discovered that Mrs. McFadden and a man named Black were in a certain house in the village, and a crowd of men assembled around the place and fired off several guns. The mob, it appears, sent word to Black that if he would give them $2 to treat themselves with they would go away. Two or three more gun reports were heard when Black came to the door and in a short time after Black appeared at the door he dropped and upon reports were heard when Black came to the door and in a short time after Black appeared at the door he dropped, and upon examination it was found he had been shot, the charge entered his bowels and in two hours afterwards he was a corpse. RESULT OF A CHARIVARI.

A later telegram states that William Harrison Myers, alias Black, was shot by William McFadden at Holmesdale, near Weidmann, Saturday night in his own house. The crime was the result of a charavari at the latter's place on the strength of a rumor that Myers was going to elope with McFadden's wife on the following Monday.
